University's Graduate to be Youngest Executive in School's History

BERKELEY, June 11. (Exclusive)—[illegible] Gordon Sproul, once a newsboy and present controller and [illegible] of the University of California, today was elected by the Board of Regents to succeed President W. W. Campbell, who retires from the office July 1, 1930.

Not only is Sproul himself a graduate of the university, but he [illegible] the youngest president to [illegible] the office. He is only 38 years of age.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, June 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The best news in the paper today was no joke. The Rockefeller Foundation for the health and betterment of people of all parts of the world spent $22,000,000 last year and $144,000,000 since its organization in 1913, and it's been worth $1,000,000 as an inspiration to other tremendously rich men to do fine things. The whole viewpoint of the people in regard to our rich men has been changed in the last few years. Now we judge a man's greatness on how he has spent his money. I guess there has never been a time in our history when as many fools are making money as now. Just to be rich and nothing else is practically a disgrace nowadays.

Yours,

WILL.

Conference May Adjourn Today

California and Arizona Seek "Something to Take Back Home and Digest"

Malone Scheme for Water Division May Form Basis of States' Reports

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—With hope for reaching an agreement in Washington definitely abandoned by even the most optimistic, efforts of the California and Arizona Colorado River commissions now are centered on "something to take back home."

Indications today were that one more day of conference will see negotiations here brought to a close. The two commissions held individual conferences tonight for the purpose, it is believed, of discussing the Malone compromise proposal of water division as a basis for a report to people of both States. A testing of popular opinion on its terms will precede any final action of the conference.

SOMETHING TO CHEW ON

"The closest we can hope to come to compromise is to draw up some tentative document to take back home and digest," said John L. Bacon, chairman of the California

STORM RIPS MIDWEST

Eight States in Wind's Path

Local Tornadoes and Heavy Rain Cause Severe Damage

Minnesota Town Sustains Loss of $500,000; Two Missing

CHICAGO, June 11. (Exclusive)—Thunder and lightning played over eight Central States today and gales swept heavy rains upon the countryside. Buildings were unroofed, crops flattened in the fields and trees uprooted. Property damage was heavy.

Windstorms were general in Northern Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Northern Indiana, lower Michigan and Nebraska, according to reports filtering in over the storm-crippled wires. The disturbance was due to a broad low pressure extending southwest from James Bay, Can., according to Forecaster C. A. Donnel of the Chicago Weather Bureau.

Southern Minnesota appeared to have been hardest hit today following a tornado which struck the central part of the State on Monday, killing two persons and injuring ten.

TORNADOES HIT

Mankato suffered an estimated $500,000 damage today and one man was reported seriously injured. Two-thirds of the trees in the residential section were blown down, numerous dwellings and business structures were unroofed and basements flooded by the rain deluge, according to reports from St. Paul, there being no telegraphic communication with Mankato.

A small twister whirled down upon the farm of Roy Godden near McGregor, Iowa, wrecked the barn, granary and siloes and damaged the farmhouse. The farmer and his family escaped by taking refuge in the basement.

MOVING EASTWARD

Although lightning streaked the sky and a brisk wind blew over Chicago tonight, the storm was moving eastward over the Ohio River States and was mapped to reach the seaboard States today, according to Weather Forecaster Donnel.

A wind gust with a velocity of forty-eight miles an hour smote the city at 9:40 a.m., blew long enough to sink a yacht and capsized several others, wrecked signs and endangered fishermen, before it settled into a thirty-seven-mile gale which prevailed until noon. Under the brisk wind, rain clouds scudded off and the sun shone until late afternoon when a second storm arose. There was heavy rain and forked lightning at the theater hour tonight.

SEA FLYERS PLAN START IN MORNING

Undaunted by Failure in Three Starts, Swedish Aviators to Try Again

REYKJAVIK (Iceland) June 11. (AP)—The Swedish trans-Atlantic aviators tonight, undiscouraged by three false starts for Greenland in twelve hours, made light of their misfortunes and planned for another attempt early tomorrow morning.

Mechanics worked on the leaky gasoline feed line that has twice interfered with the schedule of the flight from Stockholm to New York while Capt. Albin Ahrenberg played a mandolin and his companions, Lieut. Axel Floden and Hans Jungland, sang with him.

Then they turned in to sleep until 6 a.m. Repairs were expected to be completed by that hour and after a short trial flight the flyers will again lay a course for Ivigtut, Greenland.

The several delays that the flight has met with were particularly disappointing to the aviators because the flight had been planned to demonstrate that a commercial air service on regular schedule was practicable between Stockholm and New York over the route.

The first attempt to start from here was at 4:10 a.m., but the plane was so heavily laden that it returned a few minutes later. A second start was made at 6:35 a.m., but about three hours later the plane was back in the harbor to have a propeller replaced. The third attempt was at 4:18 p.m. and this ended when a leak developed in the gasoline feed line.

Occupants of Plane Drop in on Governor

SEA GIRT (N. J.) June 11. (AP)—An airplane tonight crashed into the roof of the "Little White House," Gov. Morgan F. Larson's summer home, and lodged in the ceiling of the executive's bedroom. The Governor was not at home at the time.

The plane was piloted by William Taft of Red Bank, who had for passengers Mrs. Olive Jeannine and Roger J. Ryan, both of Red Bank.

None of the occupants of the plane was badly hurt. Mrs. Regina Larson, the Governor's mother, was about to enter her son's room when the plane crashed.

WALES ENGAGEMENT DUE

Circumstances Indicate Betrothal of Princess Ingrid to English Prince Will Be Announced Soon

LONDON, June 11. (AP)—Belief is growing in some quarters here that an announcement of the engagement of the Prince of Wales to Princess Ingrid, daughter of the Crown Prince of Sweden, may be made within the next two weeks. Two possible occasions are suggested, the Prince's thirty-fifth birthday the 23rd inst., and an elaborate ball which the Swedish Embassy has arranged for the beautiful Princess the 14th inst.

PRINCE OF WALES

It is not the first time that there have been rumors that the British heir would marry his 19-year-old second cousin from Viking Land, but not before have there been the combination of circumstances and events giving background and lending weight to the reports.

When Princess Ingrid arrived in London May 15 for one of her numerous visits to her grandfather, the Duke of Connaugh, uncle of King George, it was stated she would stay only a month. Her plans have been changed and it was understood today she would remain in England until the close of the London season, several weeks hence.

Since her arrival her father, Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf, Duke of Skane, and her stepmother, the former Princess Louise of Battenburg, have both joined her and are sharing in a round of social activity.

The Swedish Embassy has issued invitations for the state ball for Princess Ingrid at the Embassy, which has been heralded as one of the most important events socially of the London season. The Prince is to be a guest.

And last, friends recently recalled publicly the Prince's statement to a friend that he would marry when he was 35 years of age. He will be 35 the 23rd inst.

FOREIGNER NEW QUEEN OF BEAUTY

Austrian Girl Chosen as Miss Universe at Texas Pulchritude Pageant

GALVESTON, June 11. (AP)—For the first time in the history of the international pageant of pulchritude a foreign beauty captured the title of beauty queen of the universe when Miss Lisle Goldarbeiter, representing Austria, tonight was crowned Miss Universe. She received six votes to one for Miss Magda Demetresch, representing Rumania.

The demure and reserved brunette from Europe was selected from a group of eleven international beauties, including Miss Irene Ahlberg of New York City, who last night was chosen to represent the United States. Her dark-brown hair, blue eyes and slender figure, and her manifest refinement made her the almost unanimous selection of the seven judges.

MANLIKE APE FOUND IN MEXICO

Anthropologists Believe Him to be Throwback to Early Age of Race

MEXICO CITY, June 11. (Exclusive)—A short, thick-set ape-man captured today just outside the suburb of Mixcoac has aroused intense interest among anthropologists of the Mexican Ministry of Education. Unable to classify him, they insist he is a throwback to an earlier [illegible] of the race.

The captive keeps shouting lustily "Wahoo Wah—"; otherwise, he is entirely inarticulate.

The anthropologists who have been studying him describe him as entirely "ape-faced" with a protruding jaw, receding forehead, powerful shoulders and arms reaching to his knees. He walks flat-footed. The creature is being held for further scientific observation.

CHICAGO TO BE JUST ONE DAY AWAY

Rail-Air Schedule Over Kansas City Plane Line to be Started by Railway

CHICAGO, June 11. (Exclusive) A new rail-air schedule to the Coast is to be inaugurated immediately by the Chicago and Alton Railroad.

S. G. Lutz, vice-president of the road, announced today he virtually has completed arrangements to link the Hummer—the C. and A. overnight train to Kansas City—with the passenger planes of the Western Air Express traveling westward out of there.

When the plans are completed, he said, Chicago will be only twenty-three and one-half hours from Los Angeles, with one night spent aboard a train sleeper and the following day in a plane.

"Rail-air travel for long trips rapidly is becoming a necessity," said Mr. Lutz. "Under our new arrangements one will be able to eat dinner here, breakfast in Kansas City, luncheon aboard the plane or at one of the stops en route and dinner that evening in Los Angeles."

"Stops will be made during the day at Amarillo, Tex.; Albuquerque, N. M., and Holbrook, Ariz. They will reach Los Angeles at 6:30 p.m. The same return trip can be made."

Moors Repulsed in Sharp Clash

RABAT (Morocco) June 11. (AP)—Two companies of Senegalese infantry soldiers and one company of the Moroccan Camel Corps have been ambushed by dissident tribesmen at the foot of the Atlas Mountains. After a sharp combat the Moors were repulsed with loss of killed and wounded on both sides.

The Senegalese and the camel troops were on a reconnoitering expedition. Gen. Vidalon, commander-in-chief of the French armies in Morocco, and Lucien Saint, resident general of Morocco, left here today for the scene of the engagement.

SENATE BEATS FARM BILL; HOOVER TAKES WARPATH

President Appeals to Country as Insurgents Menace Relief; House to Decide Fate

WASHINGTON, June 11. (Exclusive)—President Hoover tonight appealed to the country over the heads of Congress, for the salvation of his farm relief program.

He did this in a formal statement issued from the White House two hours after the Senate again had gone against him, by rejecting, 46 to 43, the conference report eliminating the controversial debenture amendment from the farm bill.

This Senate action, fomented with the active assistance of Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, one of the President's outstanding foes in Congress, apparently carried the sting of a whiplash to Mr. Hoover and he struck back at once. He asserted in most vigorous terms that the debenture did not form part of the mandate which the Republican party received from the voters last November, that it was one of the subsidies condemned during the campaign, and that it is now serving only to jeopardize the enactment of any legislation at all on behalf of agriculture.

"For no matter what the theory of the export subsidy may be," he said, "in the practical world we live in, it will not bring equality, but will bring further disparity to agriculture. It will bring immediately profits to some speculators and disaster to the farmer."

DISASTER TO FARMER

While the President's primary purpose was to awaken the country to the possible consequences of the Senate's action this afternoon, he also was answering the denunciatory speeches made by Democrats and insurgent Republicans during the closing hours of debate. He had been accused of "double-crossing" the farmers, and by his statement he was refusing to accept responsibility for failure of the legislation and attempting to deposit it where it belongs, squarely in the laps of Senators, such as Johnson of California, who insisted on the debenture amendment.

The President tonight called leaders of the administration forces in the Senate and House to a White House conference which agreed on a method of unraveling the snarl into which the farm relief bill has been thrown.

It is announced that the plan adopted calls for a direct vote in the House on the debenture plan. The issue will come up on a motion instructing the House conferees to reject the debenture plan.

Chairman McNary after the conference expressed the view that, should the House defeat the debenture by a direct vote, Senators who had supported it will yield to the administration's views.

THOSE WHO ATTENDED

Participants in the White House deliberations were Senator Watson, Republican leader of the Senate, Chairman McNary of the Senate Agriculture Committee, Senator Reed, Pennsylvania, Senator Moses, New Hampshire, Speaker Longworth, Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader in the House, Secretary Hyde of the Agriculture Department and Secretary Good of the War Department.

Before the White House conference, the Rules Committee of the House, hurriedly called together by Speaker Longworth and Chairman Snell, decided it was no longer feasible to stand on the dignity of the body and refuse a clear-cut vote on the debenture.

As a result the House conferees, when they reassemble tomorrow with the five representatives of the Senate, will cheerfully agree to go back and ask for a separate vote on this amendment. This vote will be delayed until Thursday to permit Republican leaders to call back members who have departed for home in disgust. One spokesman for the House leadership said tonight that the debenture clause will be overwhelmingly rejected in that branch, that not more than a dozen Republicans will vote for it, and that most of the northern and eastern Democrats will vote with the organization.

BOUND TO SURRENDER

The net result, therefore, promises to be enactment of the farm bill minus the debenture clause. If the House does reject the debenture, the insurgent Senators are bound to surrender, as they have maintained all along that they asked only a vote in the House.

Actually a majority of the Senate was opposed to the debenture this afternoon, but because of extraneous issues this majority could not assert itself. Fletcher and Trammell, the Florida Democrats,

GROWERS IN PROTEST

Johnson's Farm Aid Vote Hit

Raisin and Fruit Meeting at Fresno Sends Hot Wire to Senator

Astonishment Expressed at Failure to Support Measure's Passage

FRESNO, June 11. (Exclusive)—Following a meeting here tonight of representatives of raisin, grape and deciduous fruit growers, a telegram was sent to Senator Hiram Johnson in Washington deploring his failure to support the farm relief bill in the Senate today and urging that he immediately endeavor to bring about the passage of the bill as a means of saving the grape, raisin and deciduous tree fruit industries and their 40,000 growers from continued peril of low prices.

The telegram was signed by organizations and individuals representing virtually every section of the State and all of the various divisions of the three fruit industries concerned.

The message, copies of which also were dispatched by wire to all members of the California delegation in Congress follows:

COPY OF MESSAGE

"The news of the decision of Senate on farm relief bill reached Fresno this afternoon and was delivered to large growers meeting. Federal assistance to our plan was being stressed and growers were being assured of co-operation of the government. All growers in deciduous tree fruits and grape areas of California are astounded at the Senate vote. We appeal to you to make sure farm relief bill is passed immediately by Congress. Deciduous tree fruits and California grape growers have not received cost of production, irrespective of living and interest during the past three years.

"They are seeking to maintain invested capital in excess of $700,000,000 in valuation of orchards and vineyards alone.

"One million four hundred thousand acres of California orchards and vineyards annually produce in excess of 3,500,000 tons of essential fruits and constitute the world's chief source of supply of these particular classes and varieties.

DISASTER FACED

"Livelihood of 40,000 deciduous tree fruit and grape growers of California and their wives and children depend upon the well-being of this industry. By reason of unfavorable economics and markets, together with unfortunate disintegration in distribution processes of industry, tree fruit and grape growers now face a condition of acute financial distress. MEXICO STUDENTS IN RIOT

National University Officials Held as Hostages; Buildings Seized to Win Strike

MEXICO CITY, June 11. (AP)—Two thousand striking students this afternoon took possession of the National University and seized several officials as hostages for the resignation of Rector Antonio Castro Leal, which they had demanded. The hostages offered no resistance and there was no violence.

A permanent guard of 100 strikers was placed over the building until such time as their demands are met. Those seized were Secretary-General Daniel [illegible] Villegas of the university; Director Alfonso Caso of the National Preparatory School and several university professors.

WILL CHANGE GUARD

The guard will be changed by the students every eight hours. The supreme strike committee has set up headquarters in the university building and announced that it will meet there in continuous session.

The students have been on strike primarily because monthly examinations were substituted for term examinations for about a month. It had been thought that the trouble was settled through the intervention of President Portes Gil who obtained permission from Congress to declare the university and autonomous instruction free from the control hitherto exercised by the Department of Public Instruction.

REFUSE COMPROMISE

The President refused to order resignation of the rector and the students declined to compromise. They got together today and went in a body to the university but did not find the rector in his office. They [illegible] the building with those officials found there [illegible] further [illegible] determination, the student guard decided to go without food during each eight hours of duty.

FARM AID BILL LOST IN SENATE

switched their votes and were recorded for the conference report, as it was predicted last week they would. Had the antidebenture votes of May 8 remained firm, these defections would have turned the trick. But the administration forces lost Walsh of Massachusetts, and King of Utah, Democrats, who are opposed to the bill in any form, and Couzens of Michigan, Republican, who was disgusted with the tactics of House leaders in frustrating an outright vote on the subject.

HOW THEY VOTED

The roll call follows:

For the report rejecting debentures:

Republicans: Allen, Bingham, Burton, Capper, Cutting, Dale, Deneen, Edge, Fess, Gillett, Glenn, Goff, Goldsborough, Greene, Hale, Hastings, Hatfield, Hebert, Jones, Kean, Keyes, McNary, Metcalf, Moses, Oddie, Patterson, Phipps, Reed, Sackett, Shortridge, Smoot, Steiwer, Thomas of Idaho, Townsend, Vandenberg, Walcott, Warren, Waterman and Watson—39.

Democrats: Fletcher, Ransdell, Trammell and Wagner—4.

Total 43.

Republicans: Borah, Brookhart, Couzens, Frazier, Howell, Johnson, La Follette, McMaster, Norbeck, Norris, Nye, Pine and Schall—13.

Total, 46.

REPORT ON ABSENTEES

Four of the six absent Senators were paired. Senators Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, and Stephens, Democrat, Mississippi, were paired against the report, while Senators Gould of Maine and Robinson of Indiana, Republicans, were paired for the report.

It was announced that Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, who is ill, would have voted against the report if present. No announcement was made regarding the vote of Senator Kendrick, Democrat, Wyoming, the other absentee.

Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Labor of Minnesota, left a sick bed to come to the chamber today for the first time this season and vote against the measure.

The last four hours of the debate on the farm bill in the Senate brought all the bitterness to the surface. Senators lashed furiously at each other, impugned motives, and in general worked themselves almost to the point of frenzy.

Johnson of California, from the President's own State, made the most violent antiadministration speech to which the Senate has listened since the fourth of March. He implied the President was attempting to coerce Senators to vote against the debentures, with the threat that otherwise they might suffer when the tariff bill is rewritten. He read telegrams from California suggesting that his vote might provoke retaliatory amendments in the tariff, but he passionately declared that he would not surrender to such a "cowardly suggestion." He gave a fine theatrical performance.

ALLEN FIRES BACK

Copeland of New York also defended his vote for the debentures, and then Allen of Kansas, the new Senator and staunch Hooverite, fired back at the insurgents. He accused Borah of Idaho of inconsistency, quoting from campaign speeches and other utterances. In none of these, Allen said, had Borah mentioned the debenture plan. A sharp colloquy with Borah followed, in which Allen made references to Borah's Minneapolis speech.

After listening Borah answered quietly: "The Senator, as usual, is in error," and then sat down while the chamber rocked with laughter.

Caraway of Arkansas, who wields the sharpest tongue in the Senate, made the first reply to Allen.

"The Senator says," Caraway began, "that we ought to have honest convictions, and the only conviction he has is what the President wants."

"And may I add," interrupted Allen, "that whenever I have to choose between the convictions of the Senator from Arkansas and the President of the United States, I unhesitatingly choose the President's."

"I'm glad the Senator has got somebody's thinking apparatus to rely upon," continued Caraway, "because he certainly didn't bring any with him."

BACK AND FORTH

"Is the Senator reflecting on my thinking apparatus?" asked Allen.

"By no means," answered Caraway, "I never accused the Senator of having one."

The insurgent Brookhart ended the debate by vigorously denouncing Hoover and all his works. The farmers, he said, had been double-crossed by a man they believed to be sympathetic with them.

"I admit that I was fooled," he said. "I admit that I was led to believe that there were some progressive feelings in Herbert Hoover. But now we know that the whole campaign was a double-cross. Now we know that the only way we can get any aid for the farmer out of the White House is in the election of a Progressive President."

HOOVER'S FARM RELIEF NOTE PROTESTS DELAY

WASHINGTON, June 11. (Exclusive)—The text of President Hoover's statement demanding passage of the farm relief bill and rejection of the export debenture scheme issued late today follows:

The vote in the Senate today at best adds further delay to farm relief and may gravely jeopardize the enactment of legislation. In rejecting the report of the Senate and House conferees, which report was agreed to by members of both parties, the Senate has in effect rejected a bill which provides for the creation of the most important agency ever set up in the government to assist in industry—the proposed Federal farm board, endowed with extraordinary authority to reorganize the marketing system in the interest of the farmer; to establish his industry and to carry out these arrangements in conjunction with farm co-operatives, with a capital of $500,000,000 as an earnest of the seriousness of the work. It is a proposal for steady upbuilding of agriculture on to firm foundations of equality with other industry and would remove the agricultural problem from politics and place it in the realm of business.

The conferees' bill carried out the plan advanced in the campaign in every particular. Every other plan of agricultural relief was rejected in that campaign and this plan was one of the most important issues in the principal agricultural States and was given as a mandate by an impressive majority in these States. Subsidies were condemned in the course of the campaign and the so-called debenture plan—that is, the giving of subsidies on exports—was not raised by either party, nor by its proponents.

No serious attempt has been made to meet the many objections I and leaders in Congress have advanced against this proposal. It was not accepted by the House of Representatives and has been overwhelmingly condemned by the press and is opposed by many leading farm organizations. For no matter what the theory of the export subsidy may be, in the practical world we live in, it will not bring equality but will bring further disparity to agriculture. It will bring immediate profits to some speculators and disaster to the farmer.

I earnestly hope that the Congress will enact the conferees' report and allow us to enter upon the building of a sound agricultural system rather than to longer deprive the farmer of the relief which he sorely needs.

FRUIT GROWERS WIRE JOHNSON

American agriculture to depressed conditions confronting the people of California throughout all rural districts, except oranges and lemons. Unless prompt relief measures are applied, the entire State of California, including its industries and all others who profit from purchasing power of our vast acreage, will suffer staggering loss by reason of other failures of deciduous tree fruit and grape crops in 1929.

"Our growers have lost banking credit and their human and social relations require immediate, but temporary, government assistance.

BILL PROVIDES AID

"There is nothing unsound concerning the statistical position of tree fruit and grape industry, but to again permit inroads of speculative interests and securing control and marketing of our crops represents inexcusable commentary upon the Congress of this country. The farm-relief bill provides temporary aid necessary for these most important industries of this State. We ask that you work and vote for enactment of this measure. It is a truism that salvation of homes, happiness and children of families of growers are dependent upon this legislation. We ask that you consider these most vital attributes in human relations in behalf of our people and make these circumstances paramount above all other conditions in your attitude toward farm-relief legislation.

"Thousands of our producers are looking to you in matter at hand."

THOSE SIGNING MESSAGE

Among the many important names signed to the message were: Burton A. Towne, president California Vineyardists' Association; George L. Bare, chairman of the Stanislaus County Deciduous Association; W. H. Williamson, president of the Associated California Fruit Industries; Mayor Leymel of Fresno; Henry Dermer, chairman Fresno county Growers' Committee; H. R. Freeland, chairman Fresno county Business Men's Committee; Lucius Powers, president Central California Growers' Association; Albert Haentze, chairman of Santa Clara county Deciduous Association, and the following chambers of commerce: Lodi, Manteca, Visalia, Bakersfield, Delano, Ontario, Madera, Merced county, Kings county, Modesto and Brentwood District Associated Chambers of Commerce.

CONN OPTIMISTIC

Donald D. Conn, managing director of the California Vineyardists' Association and leading proponent of the grape and raisin stabilization program predicted primarily on Federal aid, was optimistic over the eventual adoption of the legislation by Congress.

"The situation is not discouraging," Conn said. "The bill has been referred back to conference committee and Congress undoubtedly will redeem the President's pledge for farm relief legislation at this session.

"While the legislative snarl is being untangled in Washington, I strongly urge that no raisin grape grower in California sign a contract of any sort with any one for the crop this year or for any period of time.

"To do so would be to gamble with the future of the individual grower and to defeat the industry program which is sound in its every particular."

Plans for a valley-wide organization of business and professional men to aid in signing up growers in the Federal grape stabilization corporation's program, when that corporation is ready to begin operations, were launched at a meeting held in the City Council chambers here today at the call of Mayor Leymel.

PLAN ORGANIZATION

With approximately 100 Fresno business men present, the conferees, after hearing details of the grape stabilization plan from Conn, named a committee to work with Conn in organization of local committees in each community of the San Joaquin Valley.

Leymel said that when the organization is ready to start an active campaign he will invite the mayors and other executives of all valley cities to a luncheon meeting here at which their support will be enlisted. The local has as its members H. R. Freeland, John M. Euless, A. Setrakian and Chester H. Warlow.

DAM GROUP MAY ADJOURN TODAY

commission, following an afternoon executive session.

Bacon has consistently held the most optimistic view of agreement of any of the conference members.

George W. Malone, Nevada's sole negotiator in the tri-State parley, author of the plan under discussion yesterday afternoon and today, unhesitatingly predicted that the two sessions scheduled for Wednesday will close the Washington conference. Separate findings of tonight's California and Arizona conferences are to be crystallized tomorrow morning at a subconference breakfast at the home of Col. W. J. Donovan, the commission chairman.

MEETING IN AFTERNOON

John M. Ross, representing Arizona; John L. Bacon, representing California; Senator Hayden, Arizona, and Representative Swing, California, will be the breakfast guests. They will make what is expected to be a final report at a general conference session called for 2:30 p.m. It generally is believed that the conference then will adjourn until fall, in the hope that a lower basin compact can be effected.

"In all this mass of information, there is some solution," declared the California chairman.

Before leaving Washington, Mr. Malone, whose figures for a compromise basis are receiving serious consideration, will have accumulated yet more information. Mr. Malone put questions on the development of hydroelectric power, a disputed subject which has not even been touched in the Washington conference, to the Interior Department.

He plans to stay in Washington an extra day to obtain the power data.

It generally is conceded that Malone's proposition comes nearer giving both States what they want than anything thus far proposed. California gets water for her minimum requirements and Arizona gets her Gila River. His "set-up" fits fairly well with the "formula" partially accredited to Swing and Hayden. But Malone counted in all, "for all practical purposes," 1,500,000 acre feet of the upper basin allocation on the basis of the latest United States Geological Survey report.

To the upper basin 7,500,000 acre feet was allocated by the Colorado River compact. According to the Geological Survey report, Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico and Utah, the States of the upper basin, never will be able to use more than 6,000,000 acre feet of the Colorado River water.

Several commissioners were unassured. Chairman Bacon of California pointed out that no title to the 1,500,000 acre feet of the upper-basin waters will come down the river with it.

JOHNSON AGAIN KNIFES HOOVER

California Senator Joins Foes of Farm Bill

Bitter Speech Vents Spleen at Nation's Chief

Fights for Debenture Plan Despite Protests

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG

"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 11. (Exclusive)—Senator Johnson of California, although re-elected last year as one who would uphold the hand of President Hoover, went against the President today in the Senate vote for the debenture amendment to the farm relief bill.

Johnson ran true to the form he has shown all through the special session of Congress, being found once more in the company of Brookhart, Norris, La Follette, Frazier, Nye, Borah and others in the small band of Senate Republican insurgents responsible for making a havoc, thus far, of the conservative legislative program favored by the White House.

CHARGES "DOUBLE CROSS"

The California Senator not only worked and voted for the debenture subsidy today but delivered a scathing speech in which he charged, in effect, that President Hoover had "double crossed" the farmers and was going back on his campaign promises. Johnson's conduct in the Senate since March 4 has been in strange contrast to the docile manner in which he sought the assistance of the Hoover forces in California last year when seeking another term in the Senate. In the special session, he has opposed the President on a number of important questions. Today, only his and one other Republican vote stood in the way of a victory for the President in the long fight for farm legislation that would give substantial aid to agriculture without placing the industry actually on a subsidy basis which will only add to the overproduction of crops, increase the middleman's profits and place the farmers themselves in a worse plight than ever.

Senator Johnson's speech was one of the bitterest heard in the Senate in years, and in it he vented all the spleen he holds for the occupant of the White House. He stopped just short of calling the President by name at several points in his denunciation.

DEFENDS SENATORS

Defending Brookhart and Borah in their break with Mr. Hoover on the debenture issue, Johnson declared, "somebody else has shifted ground; not the Senator from Iowa or the Senator from Idaho. Grounds have been shifted in some other direction."

Asserting his own independence of White House influence, the Californian said:

"No man need make any mistake concerning my attitude. In twenty years of public life, I have ever made it plain to the people that I act as I think I ought to act on every conceivable occasion. No man in this chamber need labor under any delusion as to my future actions here, or my past. Upon any question that comes here, there is no lash of any kind that can deter me from acting exactly as I desire."

He continued with a quotation that he "would rather be a toad" than sit in the Senate and "take orders from any man no matter how exalted his position." His reference obviously was to President Hoover.

"I stand by the President when I believe him to be right," asserted Johnson, "but when I believe him to be wrong, I part with him and go my own way with full knowledge of what the consequences may be." There was comment in the press gallery to the effect he took more cognizance of the "consequences" when he negotiated for Hoover support in California last year.

READS MESSAGES

Still thundering his absolute freedom of action, Senator Johnson denounced California agricultural interests which had wired him asking that he vote against the debenture amendment. He read two messages which he said were typical of hundreds he had received from his State. One was from Northern California Wool Growers and Cattlemen, and the other was from a representative agricultural group. Both mentioned that the State is interested in the tariff bill now being written, and in addition to opposing the farm debenture on its merits, deplored any action by California members of Congress which might react unfavorably against the State in the tariff situation.

Johnson charged that the telegrams were all a part of a movement to coerce him into voting against the debenture.

"Many such wires have come," he said. "None, of course, will be heeded. We will go on in this body pursuing our course as we have pursued it in the past."

This attitude, prevalent all through Johnson's career in Congress, illustrates the difficulty the California congressional delegation as a whole has in attempting to gain Senator Johnson's co-operation in legislation of vital importance to their State and districts. The tariff is an immediate case in point.

who has all the qualifications most necessary today for presidency of the university, he declared.

"It has so many departments, so many branches, it is such an enormous job that it requires great tact and executive accomplishments. Sproul is an educator. I am sure he could take care of classes if he had to, he has had so much knowledge and experience. We are very happy in getting him.

"If he were in England or some foreign country with all those qualifications we would make every effort to get him. He is a great man for the position."

SOLD NEWSPAPERS

Sproul, who was born in San Francisco, sold newspapers in this city at the time of the fire. He helped earn his education by working his way in part through college. After his graduation, he was an efficiency expert for Oakland for a year, after which he went to the university as cashier. He was promoted to assistant controller, and then controller and vice-president. The latter office he also shared with Dean Walter M. Hart.

He is married and has three children, Marian Elizabeth, 12 years of age; Robert Gordon, Jr., 9, and John Allen, 5. The family home is at 5 Tanglewood Road, Berkeley, where Sproul was notified tonight of the appointment.

FACULTY APPOINTMENTS

The appointment was made at an executive session of the regents in the State Building here today, fourteen of the twenty-four regents being present. Dr. Campbell's formal announcement of his retirement was made at the meeting.

Appointments to the faculty included the following:

LEAVES GRANTED

Leaves of absence were granted as follows:

S. H. Cameron, subtropical horticulture, additional leave for the month of July, to continue studies at Leeds; H. W. Shepherd, for the year 1929-1930, to assist in the State Park Commission survey; D. M. Greenberg, bio-chemistry, leave for the year to study on a Guggenheim fellowship; S. R. Mettler, assistant professor of pathology and medicine, leave for the year for research work at the Harvard medical school; W. S. Franklin, ophthalmology, leave for the academic year beginning July 1, next.

STANDARD OIL TERMED TRUST

Federal Appeal Court Hits Affiliated Group

Pooling of Patents Ruled Illegal Activity

Injunction Against Concern Declared in Order

CHICAGO, June 11. (AP)—The Standard Oil Company of Indiana and fifty-one associate and subsidiary concerns were convicted in United States District Court today on charges of violating the Sherman antitrust law.

The charges against the companies concerned what is known as the pooling of oil-cracking process patents. The court ruled in a 2-to-1 decision that the government is entitled to an injunction restraining the oil concerns from further violation of the law.

The majority opinion was handed down by Judges Evan A. Evans and George T. Page of the United States Circuit Court of Appeal. Judge A. B. Anderson dissented. The three judges heard the case en banc as District Court judges.

The conviction sustained objections made to a report by Master in Chancery Martindale of Indianapolis, who after listening to evidence for two years, recommended dismissal of the suit. Martindale held the government had established no case.

The government's suit charged the defendant companies conspired to restrain trade and to monopolize the oil industry by pooling their interests in various oil-cracking patents.

It was asserted that independent concerns were forced to pay royalties for the privilege of using the cracking processes and to restrict their territories so they would not compete with the Standard Oil and other companies named in the suit.

BYRD RADIO STATION ONE OF BUSIEST

Farthest South Wireless Plant Transacts Vast Amount of Business

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) June 11. (Exclusive)—Commander Byrd has named the radio station at Little America after Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times.

This is the most southern radio station in the world and one of the busiest short-wave stations ever constructed. Through it communication has been maintained with very little interruption with the New York Times radio station. It has almost always been possible to reach some amateur stations.

An amazing amount of radio, press, official expedition business and personal messages has been sent from it. Time signals are received here regularly so that the chronometer may be checked and short-wave broadcasts have been received with considerable success, although at times they are distorted by rapid fading. On the whole, communication has been even better than was expected.

OIL PRODUCERS GIVEN PROBLEM

California, Oklahoma and Texas Drafted

Conservation Meet Passes Buck to Trio

Basis for Interstate Pact Their Objective

COLORADO SPRINGS, June 11. (AP)—The Governors' oil conservation conference tonight turned over to the representatives of the Governors of Texas, Oklahoma and California the problem of finding a basis on which an interstate conservation compact can be constructed.

This move was made on the suggestion of Francis C. Wilson, delegate from New Mexico, after a long discussion in which only the representatives of Governors of oil-producing States participated, which was punctuated by denials that any "alarming" situation in the petroleum industry exists. Some of the delegates told the meeting that they had no authority to do anything more than gather facts and report back to their Governors.

REQUA'S REBUKE

Prominent among these were the representatives from Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. E. W. Marland, Ponca City oil man, said he had no fear of a petroleum shortage in the industry and asserted that in his opinion there is no economic waste of oil. His statement was challenged by Chairman Mark L. Requa, who said "conditions are so unsatisfactory there is no point in debating them. When an industry regards a new pool as an economic disaster there is something wrong."

As the meeting ended Chairman Requa asked the four Governors present, Adams of Colorado, Erickson of Montana, Reed of Kansas and Emerson of Wyoming, to meet with him for discussion of a proposal put forward by Mr. Reed for the appointment of a committee representable of the principal oil-producing States to consider the entire subject of conservation and make a report to the national and State governments with recommendations.

REQUA DRAWS FIRE

The views and ideas of every producing section of the United States had been presented from the platform; Mr. Requa's statement that he would urge coercive measures if the industry did not take advantage of the opportunity to co-operate had been moderated and then brought under attack; and the atmosphere was generally declared full of highly controversial angles of the conservation problem.

Injection of the subject of Mr. Hoover's conservation order affecting the public lands of these Western States had been incidental to the principal business as outlined by Mr. Wilbur but its importance has been gauged by the persistent demand of the Rocky Mountain area for a rescinding of the order. Colorado, through its Attorney-General, Robert E. Winbourn, told the conference that it had a potential solution of the public lands problem which it would present. This, it was said, was a memorial, calling upon the Interior Secretary to rescind Mr. Hoover's order withdrawing public lands for exploration for oil and gas.

TARIFF DEMANDED

The demand of the independent operators, made through W. H. Gray, president of the National Association of Independent Oil Producers, that a tariff or similar restriction be placed on oil importations, was still being heard on the floor of the conference, but in diminished volume, and whether this subject will be allowed to intrude any further into the deliberations had not been decided definitely by Chairman Requa.

One ruling of the chair, however, was considered significant. That was his decision that a resolution presented by independents of the Mid-continent field calling for a limitation on crude oil importations and a rescinding of the Hoover public lands order, was out of order. Later the chairman said any findings of the Rocky Mountain States could be brought on to the floor for consideration, and this was taken to mean by the representatives affected that the question of the Hoover policy would be thrown open for discussion if they so desired.

CALLED "CLUB"

The day's harvest of addresses, concluding statements of position from every State, party to the conference, as well as from numerous oil and gas associations, included one by John H. Rebold, representing the Okmulgee District Oil and Gas Association, which urged a tariff on oil as the proper means of eliminating overproduction.

Wirt Franklin, Ardmore, Okla., representing the Southern Oklahoma Oil and Gas Association, vigorously attacked Chairman Requa's expression regarding coercive government regulation of the oil industry in the event it was unable, after opportunities were afforded it, to eliminate waste and prevent overproduction. He declared that this was a "club over the heads of the delegates."

"I don't like the sound of that expression," Mr. Franklin said after reading from Mr. Requa's speech. "Many delegates to this conference feel the same way."

Chairman Requa himself, at the opening of the day's session, took occasion to amplify his address of Monday. He said he favored "permissive" effort by the oil industry itself to sove its problems in preference to coercive regulation by the government.

REVISION MADE

"As yet," he said, "the oil industry has not had the opportunity of exercising self-government under a permissive effort, and until it has had a chance to do so, coercive measures would be unthinkable."

E. B. Reeser, president of the American Petroleum Institute, submitted to the conference a statement of position on the part of that body which declared any "coercive power to create or enforce police regulations within any given State," could not legally be conferred upon an interstate commission.

The Institute, said Mr. Reeser's statement, would co-operate with State and Federal agencies, if desired, in the further study of the feasibility of an interstate compact, and the institute considered it inadvisable to undertake at the present meeting to agree upon a draft of such a compact.

New Mexico modified its stand in support of the Hoover oil conservation policy, when Lieut.-Gov. Woodward submitted a memorandum to the oil conference late today suggesting a modification of the Hoover order, which would permit development of oil lands contiguous to the public domain. In his suggestion Mr. Woodward said lands adjacent to the public domain are indirectly affected by the conservation order of March 12.

REQUA ACTION ATTACKED IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—Action of Mark L. Requa, chairman of the Governors' oil conference at Colorado Springs, in ruling out of order a resolution to favor rescinding of President Hoover's order barring prospecting on public lands was attacked in the Senate today by Senators Cutting, Republican, New Mexico, and King, Democrat, Utah.

Cutting challenged the right of Requa to prevent discussion in the conference by Governors of any matter pertinent to the issues involved, while King declared the President's order was "one of the most lawless acts ever committed by any person."

"Speaking for New Mexico," Cutting said, "any policy of coercion at the conference will be bitterly repudiated."

ORDER ATTACKED

The President, King asserted, is "seeking to nullify the Leasing Act of 1920, which was adopted as a definite policy by Congress after years of study."

"But the President," he added, "in defiance of law, said it should be set aside."

In a telegram sent today to the chairman of the New Mexico delegation at the conference Cutting declared "any conservation program will require prolonged discussion and the benefit of the views of the leading minds of America."

"No benefit can come from your conference," he said, "unless the most divergent views are allowed a voice and a free debate. Any ruling which fetters untrammeled discussion and any threat of coercion in case of failure to agree, should be resented and repudiated by representatives of sovereign States."

"The order," he declared, "is based on the highest motives but made without serious consideration of the serious consequences to our Western States.

"I have always taken issue with those parts of the order relative to issuance of permits already applied for, extension of permits on liberal terms and group development, and the rescinding of all such action will not affect conservation in view of the fact that only 3 per cent of the oil of the nation is produced on government lands."

He added he hoped the conference will "reach a harmonious and reasonable agreement."

A New Home Treatment for Gland Trouble

Medical authorities agree that 65 per cent of all men past middle age (many much younger) are afflicted with a disorder of the prostate gland. Aches in feet, legs and back, frequent nightly risings, sciatic pains are some of the signs—and now a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science has written a remarkably interesting Free Book that tells of other symptoms and just what they mean. No longer should a man approaching or past the prime of life be content to regard these pains and conditions as inevitable signs of approaching age. Already more than 50,000 men have used the amazing method described in this book to restore their health and vigor—and to restore the prostate gland to its proper functioning. Arrange immediately for this book. Call in person if possible, otherwise mail your request to The Electro Thermal Company, Dept. B-149, 303 Van Nuys Bldg., Los Angeles—the concern that is distributing this book for the author—it will be sent to you absolutely free, without obligation. Simply send name and address. Bill Authorizes $25,000 for Victim's Widow

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—The Treasury Department today ordered an investigation of the part enforcement agents played in the shooting of Henry Virkkula at International Falls, Minn., and Archibald Eugster at Detroit.

Coincidentally, the Treasury and Justice Departments began work on their joint campaign against rum runners in the Detroit area, and representatives in Congress from the districts where the shootings occurred asked the government for prompt action if the law-enforcement officers are proven at fault.

Representative Pittenger, Republican, Minnesota, suggested that President Hoover's commission on law enforcement could make no better beginning than to investigate the killing of Virkkula.

"If prohibition only can be enforced by the use of sawed-off shotguns in the hands of irresponsible government agents," he said, "then, indeed, we have reached the high tide of fanaticism and bigotry in this matter."

A bill to authorize payment of $25,000 to Virkkula's widow was introduced by Representative Schafer, Republican, Wisconsin.

Representative Clancy, Republican, Michigan, left for Detroit to participate in the investigation of the shooting of Eugster, after requesting Atty.-Gen. Mitchell in a letter to suspend the agents involved if the evidence tended to show they were to blame.

YOUTH WOUNDED BY BORDER PATROL GUARD

DETROIT, June 11. (AP)—Wayne county authorities tonight were investigating the shooting of Archibald Eugster, 21 years of age, who was wounded probably fatally by Jonah Cox, member of the United States customs border patrol at 1:30 a.m., today.

Eugster and his companions told officers they were on their way to fish in the Detroit River when Cox opened fire. Cox admitted that he fired the shot. He said he fired into the air when he saw the youths in a boat approaching a captured liquor-laden boat he was guarding, and then fired at the youths as they came down the shore toward him.

Officials of Delray Industrial Hospital, where Eugster was taken following the shooting, said tonight his condition is serious.

Cox made a statement today to Gregory H. Frederick, assistant United States District Attorney, but both later refused to discuss the shooting.

SALTON SEA WORK CLAIM PAID ESPEE

United States Finally Gives Railroad $1,012,000 for Flood Fight

WASHINGTON, June 11. (Exclusive)—The United States Court of Claims handed down a decision today awarding the Southern Pacific Railroad $1,012,000 for work it did twenty-two years ago in stopping a levee break which threatened to destroy the Imperial Valley of California.

The railroad threw all its resources into the flood situation at the personal request of then President Roosevelt and, by herculean efforts and large expenditures, succeeded in turning the flood back into the Salton Sea. President Roosevelt at the time gave his pledge that the government would reimburse the railroad.

The railroad subsequently filed a claim for several million dollars but settlement was delayed and other questions quickly entered into the situation, one being how much the railroad itself had benefited, and how much had been saved to the government by the railroad's prompt action. The matter finally went to Congress, which adopted a resolution directing the Court of Claims to find the figure to which the railroad was entitled.

The award was handed down by Judge Nicholas J. Sinnott.

Would-Be Air Riders Punished

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN (Germany) June 11. (AP)—Four would-be stowaways on the recent take-off of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin to the United States were arraigned in court today.

The youngest was turned over to the Juvenile Court, which sent him home, while the other three, accused of trespassing and illegally carrying weapons, received jail sentences ranging from eighteen to twenty-one days.

Mexico Rebel Chief Killed

MEXICO CITY, June 11. (AP)—Dispatches to El Universal from Aguascalientes today said Antonio Ramirez, a rebel chieftain, and forty-nine of his followers were killed in a three-hour combat at Geronimo, Aguascalientes, with the combined forces of Gens. Lucas Gonzales and Anacleto Lopez. Federal casualties were not mentioned.

GUGGENHEIM RECEIVES AERONAUTICS MEDAL

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Daniel Guggenheim today received the first "Spirit of St. Louis" aeronautical medal to be awarded for "meritorious service in the advancement of aeronautics." The award, established on a permanent basis through an endowment created by the citizens of St. Louis, was presented at a luncheon of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

REINS DRAWN ON AIR PILOTS

New Regulations Governing Licenses Announced

Restrictions Will Go Into Effect in September

WASHINGTON, June 21. (Exclusixe)—New and more strignent regulations governing the licensing of air transport pilots, which are to become effective September 1, were announced today by Edward P. Howard, chief of the air regulations division of the Department of Commerce.

The stiffening of the requirements for transport pilots, the only pilots which are licensed to fly passenger-carrying airplanes, is another step in the department's campaign to increase the safety of commercial aeronautics, and a direct result of the intensive study made during the last year of the causes of airplane accidents.

When the new regulations become effective transport pilots will be permitted to fly only the class of airplane for which they are licensed. In other words, pilots authorized to fly light open cockpit planes will not be permitted to pilot heavier cabin planes or the big trimotored transports until they have passed further examinations.

New University of Chicago Head Outlines Views

Child Pampering Flayed by Young President-elect

CHICAGO, June 11. (AP)—Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, dean of the law school of Yale University, who next September will become the youngest president of a large university in this country, outlined today his educational belief before this year's graduating class at the University of Chicago. Dr. Hutchins delivered the convocation address. He will become president of the university at the opening of the fall term.

After deploring the belief that youth's mind should be settled and hardened to staid ideas and prejudices, Dr. Hutchins said:

LEARNING TO THINK

"My view of university training is to unsettle the minds of young men, to widen their horizons, to inflame their intellects. It is not a hardening or settling process. Education is not to teach men facts, theories, or laws; it is not to reform them, or amuse them, or to make them expert technicians in any field, it is to teach them to think, to think straight if possible; but to think always for themselves."

Dr. Hutchins attacked parents who pamper their children, allowing them to go along without relying on themselves.

"KNOW THE FELLOWS"

Dr. Hutchins advised young persons contemplating entering college "to know the fellows" and to get a diploma "because it is the open sesame into the company of persons who matter," to join their local country club or fraternal organization.

"These bodies have high ideals," he said. "They are organizations for mutual improvement. Their dues are lower than those of most colleges. You get to know the fellows in one. It would seem plausible to suppose that one can get from them most of the things one gets at the university, if one goes to the university because it is the thing to do."

FOUR-FOLD PEST DRIVE OUTLINED

Development Association Holds Conference

Program Proposed to Keep Out Fruit Fly

Orchard Survey First Move in Preventive Plans

SACRAMENTO, June 11. (Exclusive)—Four definite steps aimed as preventive measures against the possible entry of the Mediterranean fruit fly into California were taken at a conference of bankers, agricultural leaders and State and county officials, conducted here today under the auspices of the California Development Association.

THE PROGRAM

The four-fold course of action is as follows:

(1.) Approval of a State-wide survey to determine definitely whether the fly may possibly exist in California. This survey would be conducted by the State Department of Agriculture under the direction of D. B. Mackie, senior entomologist, who recently returned from Florida.

(2.) A research program conducted in the counties bordering the Mediterranean Sea to study the habits and host plants of the fruit fly so as to be prepared better to combat it should it gain entrance to Southern California.

(3. A tightening up on inspection work in the State to include a search of the baggage of transcontinental passengers. Approval and co-operation of Federal authorities would have to be obtained to bring this about.

(4.) A recommendation that steps be taken by the State Department of Agriculture to require records to be made of all movements of fruit within the State so the State would be in a position to act expeditiously in cleaning up refuse heaps, also to destroy abandoned and neglected orchards where the fruit fly might find favorable breeding conditions. This would be accomplished through co-operation, until actual authority is obtained.

The recommendations were drawn by a special committee of which Fred W. Read of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, is chairman. Read headed a delegation of California fruit-industry leaders who recently went to Washington to confer on fruit-fly eradication and preventive measures and the recommendations largely were the result of their findings in the East.

Mackie addressed the conference on conditions in Florida. He expressed the opinion that Florida has a "fighting chance" to wipe out the Mediterranean pest.

INDEMNITY ASKED

G. H. Hecke, State Director of Agriculture, also was a speaker. He said:

"We do not believe that the fruit fly is in California, but the fact Florida fruit has been intercepted in California ports and border stations by our inspectors, indicates the importance of a State-wide survey to determine that no infestation has occurred from fruit which may have passed our borders.

"The survey will reassure us that the fruit fly does not now exist in California, and, secondly, will insure its prompt detection should it become introduced in spite of the efforts to exclude it."

Hecke also urged that indemnification be provided for farmers who have lost their orchards or crops through the eradication program in Florida.

"It is manifestly unfair," he said, "to expect this sacrifice on the part of the growers who are involved in a clean-up campaign which is essential to the interests of the entire nation."

C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, presided at the meeting.

Stanford Will Greet Wilbur at Reception

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, June 11. (Exclusive)—Secretary of the Interior Wilbur is to arrive here Thursday morning from the oil conference, whose opening he attended in Colorado Springs yesterday. The return of the president of the university on official leave for his duties in the Cabinet of President Hoover will be marked by the official commencement week reception Friday, when President and Mrs. Wilbur will receive at the president's house at 4 p.m.

Further details of the Secretary's itinerary on his western trip have not been announced here.

Japan Council Takes Up Pact

TOKIO, June 11. (AP)—The Kellogg antiwar treaty for which the Premier requested imperial sanction yesterday has been referred to the Privy Council for deliberation and study.

It still is a moot point whether the council will agree to ratification without a reservation or at least an interpretative addendum regarding the phrase "in the name of the people." The Conservative Japanese contend this conflicts with prerogatives of the Emperor under the terms of the Constitution.

Madero Fortune Willed to Son

KANSAS CITY, June 11. (AP)—The will of the widow of an assassinated President of Mexico, Mrs. Elizabeth Villareal Madero, disposing of an estate of approximately one-quarter million dollars, was filed for probate here today.

Mrs. Madero died in California in April. Virtually all of the estate is to be held in trust for a son, Herbert Madero, reported to be in Skellytown, Tex. He is to receive control of the fortune when he becomes 25 years old.

Mrs. Madero listed her address as Kansas City.

5 YEARS TO PAY

This Plan Affords Every Merchant a Rainbow Tube Sign

THERE is no doubt about it...the new Neale-Rainbow plan of monthly payment for luminous tube signs is the logical way to buy. Among the merchants who have eagerly bought Neale-Rainbow signs under this new plan are those who thought it economically unsound for them to lease a sign, but who welcomed a plan whereby the expense could be budgeted and charged off at a low monthly rate. Many could well afford to pay cash but chose this plan simply because they believe it the best business deal . . . no heavy investment, no responsibility, yet they own the sign.

The "Five Years to Pay" plan is available to you only in Neale-Rainbow Signs. And Neale-Rainbow signs offer you greatest range of customer-pulling colors as well as most dependable service.

Service is guaranteed for five years and no matter on which plan you obtain a Neale-Rainbow Sign service can be obtained up to fifteen years.

PREMIER'S VISIT TO BE WELCOME

MacDonald Plan Gratifies Washington

Form of Invitation Topic Discussed

Canadian Prime Minister May Attend

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—The American government was declared in high official circles today to be greatly gratified and ready to welcome the plan of Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain to visit the United States to confer with President Hoover on Anglo-American relations.

With his arrival in London on Friday Charles G. Dawes, the new American Ambassador to Great Britain, is expected to become acquainted with the proposal and to participate in discussions of it on the behalf of the United States.

Meanwhile it was said on behalf of the President that he had learned about the proposed visit of Mr. MacDonald only through newspaper dispatches. According to the reports reaching the government here, Premier MacKenzie King of Canada also would participate in the conference.

METHOD OF INVITATION

Apparently there is a stalemate for the present at least on what method of invitation will be utilized to bring about the meeting of the two nations' leading officials. One means of arranging for the conference would be for the President to issue an invitation to Mr. MacDonald, probably through Ambassador Dawes, to visit this country at a certain time for the purpose of the parley. Another method would be the dispatch of a proposal of a date for the conference by the British Premier to Mr. Hoover through the British Ambassador here, Sir Esme Howard. The British Embassy, however, has no instructions from its government on this step. Sir Esme conferred today with Secretary of State Stimson but the subject of their discussion was not revealed.

CONFERENCE TOPICS

The conference, it is believed by American government officials, would have as its principal subject of discussion the reduction of naval armaments, a policy which both the President and the Prime Minister have advocated. Mr. MacDonald also is expected to sponsor a plan for accomplishment of the freedom of the seas policy. The British Prime Minister is understood to feel that the freedom of the seas issue should be settled even before an agreement on naval arms reduction.

Among the other issues between the two nations which government officials here believe would be on the agenda of the proposed conference would be the settlement of the interallied World War debts to this country, with that of Great Britain receiving especial attention. The pending American tariff legislation as a cause of irritation to British commerce is deemed another important topic, while the viewpoint of the United States probably would be presented on the British imperial preference policy, designed to stimulate British Empire trade.

END OF JULY SET AS PROBABLE DATE

LONDON, June 11. (AP)—Premier Ramsay MacDonald will pay his contemplated visit to the United States as soon as Parliament has risen at the end of July unless an adverse reason should suddenly intervene, it was generally held in authoritative quarters tonight.

Departure at this time would leave the Premier free for his projected visit in September to the League of Nations assembly meeting at Geneva.

"I cannot make a statement of any kind tonight," Mr. MacDonald declared as he was leaving London with his daughter, Ishbel, for a rest at his Scottish home in Lossiemouth.

LIBERALS JEALOUS

The Premier explained that he was going to Lossiemouth in search of rest and he expected to return again the 21st inst., before the opening of Parliament on the 25th inst.

The idea of Premier MacDonald's visit to the United States has been accepted in London with nothing but praise, and on the part of the Conservative press with something of jealousy. These newspapers now are anxious to inform the world that former Premier Stanley Baldwin had accepted such an offer shortly before he resigned from office.

Nothing was heard in London of this intention until the idea that Premier MacDonald would go was broached.

SEEKS COST CUT

A good understanding with the United States would be of the first importance to the Labor administration, which would especially welcome any means of restricting expenditure on naval armaments obtainable by such an understanding.

The new government contemplates large expenditures to ameliorate social conditions among British people, and if these could be counterbalanced by saving in heavy naval estimates, labor would consider it preferable to raising the necessary funds by additional taxation.

HOUSE ADOPTS CENSUS REPORT

Bill Goes Through Without Vote Opposition

April, 1930, Set as Date for Starting of Work

California Redistricting Now Gets Attention

WASHINGTON, June 11. (Exclusive)—The House today adopted the conference report on the census and reapportionment bill without a record vote. Opposition to the measure was appeased by the agreement to fix the date of taking the census as April, 1930, instead of November, 1929. The measure now must go to the Senate for action on the conference report.

Action in the upper house is hoped for before the end of the week.

The conference report now is before the Senate. If, as it is expected, and as House leaders have been assured, the Senate will concur in the House acceptance of April 1, next, as the date for taking the census as well as the remainder of the report, the bill will go to the President for signature as soon as the Senate acts, probably before the first of next week.

Senator Vandenburg, Republican, Michigan, one of the leaders in the fight for reapportionment, said today that the Secretary of Commerce and the director of the bureau of Census are certain that the census can be taken in time to certify reapportionment figures to the President if it is commenced April 1, next. Opponents of the bill have been insisting on the May 1 date because they felt that it would be impossible to comply with the provision in the measure by which the President is to certify to Congress the change in representation based on the census figures. The director of the census said that it is possible to take the census in six months, but it has never been done. The extra month allows sufficient leeway to prevent nullification of the reapportionment provisions of the bill by a late census report to the President.

START WORK IN STATE

With passage apparently assured, California Representatives turned their attention today to the State redistricting which will become a duty of the Legislature following the 1930 census.

Statements on the subject were issued today by Representatives Evans of Glendale and Englebright of Nevada City.

Representative Evans said today: "The passage of the reapportionment bill probably is the greatest boon California has received in the last decade. It will give California six, possibly seven, added members of Congress. This will take California out of the category of average-sized States and place her in the class of States with the largest representation in Congress and in the Electoral College.

"A great responsibility now devolves upon the people of California. That is to see that an equitable and fair allocation is made of the added Congressional districts.

CREDIT TO ENGLEBRIGHT

"I sincerely hope that in this matter of reapportioning the State that there will be no north, no south, no personalities, no selfishness, or sectionalism. On the contrary, it is my earnest hope that a reapportionment, which is absolutely fair to all parts of the State, may be brought about.

"The California delegation, which has concurred absolutely on the date of April 1, being much more advantageous to the State than the other two dates (November 1, insisted upon by the Senate, and May 1, upon which the House first insisted,) is grateful to Representative Englebright. As a member of the Census and Reapportionment Committee of the House he has done every effective and efficient work on behalf of the bill."

The inside story of Representative Englebright's "very efficient and effective work" is that he is the man who planned the legislative program which broke the deadlock when opponents of the bill threatened to kill it with amendments.

When the House included the Hoch amendment in the bill, leaders felt that the bill was deadlocked. The Hoch amendment refused aliens the right to be counted in a census for reapportionment purposes. Besides stirring up a complicated constitutional question it alienated strong supporters of the legislation.

ENGLEBRIGHT TALKS

What the House leaders did to meet the situation was to see to it that the Tinkham amendment, barring disenfranchised negroes from the reapportionment census count, also was adopted. This move so frightened southern Democrat opponents that, placing the Hoch amendment against the Tinkham proposal, the leaders were able to kill both amendments before the House took a final vote on the bill. Representative Englebright is given credit as the man who worked out the parliamentary procedure which saved the reapportionment bill from death in deadlock. He is a mining engineer by profession.

In a statement issued today Representative Englebright said:

"It is my hope that the redistricting of Congressional districts in California will be worked out on the principle that communities with the same interests, industrial, commercial, agricultural or otherwise, will be included in the same districts wherever feasible. If set lines, such as county boundaries arbitrarily chosen, which in the past have marked the majority of California districts, can be thrown overboard along with prejudice and sectionalism when the Legislature redistricts the State, I am sure that California will gain by it."

CHARITY HELP SHOWS DECLINE

Chicago Decrease Ascribed to Better "Case" Work and Less Unemployment

CHICAGO, June 11. (AP)—The demand for charitable aid in Chicago and Cook county has declined 33 per cent during the last six months, the Bureau of Public Welfare reported today.

The decrease was ascribed to better "case" work by trained agents and to a decrease in unemployment.

SENATE BEGINS TARIFF STUDY

Committee Starts Taking Testimony Today

Arguments Will be Heard on New Schedules

Allen Protests General Rates Revision

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—The tariff bill passed by the House May 28 after a journey of nearly five months through committees and floor debate will start its long and doubtful Senate travels tomorrow with the opening of public hearings by the Finance Committee.

The full committee composed of eleven Republicans and eight Democrats will receive testimony from nearly a score of witnesses on valuation methods.

TO HEAR ARGUMENTS

Two of the four subcommittees organized to hear arguments on the fifteen rate schedules of the bill will get into action Thursday. Between that date and the 24th inst., two or three of these groups will be sitting simultaneously. On the latter date all four subcommittees will begin to function at once, hearing testimony on four of the most important sections in the measure—sugar, wool, metals and sundries.

The tariff occupied Senate attention briefly today.

A statement by Senator Allen, Republican, Kansas, that he is not satisfied with the bill as it passed the House drew from Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, "a welcome into the ranks of psuedo Republicans."

LIMITED REVISION

"And since we seem about to have another convert to the group of the nonconformists," Robinson said, "perhaps the Senator will tell us why he does not favor the tariff bill that the House has sent us."

Allen replied that the President had specifically asked for a limited revision.

"I see no occasion for a general revision at this time," Allen added. "I came here for a limited revision on some of the schedules affecting agriculture."

The Finance Committee hearings will terminate July 10. Then Republican committee members will begin rewriting the measure.

NEW JERSEY O.E.S. SPLIT ANNOUNCED

Twenty-two Chapters of Fraternal Group Draw Off Due to Ritual Change

ASBURY PARK (N. J.) June 11. (AP)—E. M. Biron, Patron of Grace Chapter No. 106, Order of Eastern Star, of Atlantic City, today announced that twenty-two chapters have resolved to withdraw from the organization and form a new order.

Biron said 200 officers, past and present, of the twenty-two chapters, met here Sunday in secret session to organize the "all-around social Club," an order which, like the Eastern Star, would admit only close relatives of Master Masons.

The withdrawal, he said, is the result of the adoption three years ago of a ritual requirement which makes the Order of Eastern Star "strictly Christian instead of nonsectarian."

Ten thousand members in New Jersey who profess the Jewish and other faiths, he added, "can have no other alternative than to withdraw from the order."

Calles May Aid in Negotiations With Catholics

MEXICO CITY, June 11. (AP)—Sudden return of Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles from a vacation in Northern Mexico has given rise to widespread belief he will participate in negotiations between the Mexican government and Roman Catholic prelates.

Utmost secrecy has been invoked to shroud proceedings, however, and little definite is known. The former Mexican President, arriving on last night's train from Monterrey, said he has no statement to make.

Dentist to Pay for Tooth Error

CHICAGO, June 11. (Exclusive)—Pulling a tooth he was not asked to extract will cost Dr. Louis J. Behm, a dentist, $1000, in accordance with a judgment entered against him today.

The patient was 8-year-old Evelyn Maribou. Her mother had requested the dentist to pull two baby teeth, but he went further, according to the evidence, and extracted a permanent molar. The mother sued for $10,000. Dr. Behm's defense was that the child squirmed so in the chair when he put the forceps in her mouth he got the wrong tooth.

HUNGARIAN OFFICIAL DIES OF PNEUMONIA

BUDAPEST (Hungary) June 11. (AP)—Count Julius Andbrassy, Hungarian Privy Councilor and former Foreign Minister of Austria Hungary, died today. He was 67 years of age. Death was caused by pneumonia which followed an operation for a serious kidney disorder a week ago.

BURGLAR'S AUTO WRECKED

BREWSTER (N. Y.) June 11. (AP) Two robbers who entered the home of Miss E. K. Lamont here and stole $10,000 worth of silverware had nothing to show for their trouble today but trouble. The silverware was recovered from their wrecked automobile, damaged in a collision with another car here last night. State police are seeking the two men.

NONRESIDENTS UNDER TEACHER TENURE ACT

SACRAMENTO, June 11. (Exclusive)—Teachers may reside outside of California and if they teach school within the borders of the State they still are protected by the Teacher Tenure Act, according to a ruling given today by Sam H. Cohn, deputy State Superintendent of Public Instruction, to the school authorities of Imperial county. Teachers employed in the Imperial county schools have been residing in Yuma, Ariz., according to word reaching the State school officials.

M., and after reaching Utah Lake to the northward, they had been turned back by the desert. No ford was at the mouth of Paria Creek, from which the hills were crossed to Ute Ford, thereafter known to the Spaniards as "Vado de los Padres," "the Crossing of the Fathers."

Jacob Hamblin appears to have been the first white man to follow the Spaniards down the Paria, this in November, 1858, but he, too, had to divert to the up-stream crossing. Two years later, at the Paria's mouth, he built a raft and thereafter the great pioneer repeatedly crossed on roughly built boats. Maj. J. W. Powell, canyon explorer, stopped at the Paria in 1871 and thence made a trip to Salt Lake City.

ROUGH, BUT PASSABLE

Though rough almost beyond description the Paria route was used by most of the Mormon migrations southward, through the church outposts of Kanab and Pipe Springs. In 1873 a large party led by H. D. Haight was ferried over and thereafter came a number of expeditions for settlement of the Little Colorado Valley and for foundation of towns in the upper Salt River Valley and on the Gila and San Pedro rivers, with settlements even in Mexico, in Chihuahua and Sonora.

In January, 1878, an emigrant party crossed on the ice, as related by Anthony W. Ivins, a member of the Mormon Church. The ice was thin, so the horses and cattle had to be thrown and tied and pulled across by their tails. To avoid possible breaking of the glassy crust wagons had to be unloaded and pushed carefully along. It is said that never since has the river been frozen over.

EARLY DAY FERRIES

There were other pioneer ferries, though, below the Grand Canyon. At Grand Wash, north of Kingman, Hamblin crossed by boat in 1862, on this trip making the first circumteur of the canyon, returning by way of Ute Ford. Four years later a ferry was established at Grand Wash by Harrison Pearce. There was a ferry at the mouth of the Virgin River, in use when President Brigham Young visited the "Mormon Dixie" settlements in 1870. When the Mormons left Southern Nevada Daniel Bonelli took over the ferry and moved it six miles downstream. Bonelli's descendants became prominent residents of Kingman and Los Angeles. In the same section were Stone's ferry and the Mike Scanlon ferry.

Farther down, early day ferries were operated at the Eldorado Canyon crossing and on the Searchlight road at Cottonwood Island, and there was a ferry at Hardyville, near Fort Mohave. It was at the last-named point that Capt. George A. Johnson in 1858 ferried the famous Beale camel expedition, using a stern-wheel steamboat he had brought up the river from Fort Yuma.

ARIZONA STRIP

Settlement of the "Arizona Strip," north of the Grand Canyon, was wholly from Utah. Pipe Springs dates from 1863, founded by James M. Whitmore, killed by Indians three years later and sternly avenged. In its main building, known as "Winsor Castle," was the first telegraph station in Arizona, established by the Deseret Telegraph in 1871, extending around the mountains from Rockville, Utah, to Kanab. The first operator now is a resident of Mesa, Mrs. David K. Udall, wife of the president of the Arizona Mormon temple.

Moccasin, three miles distant, dates back to 1870. Fredonia, three miles south of the Utah line and an important point on the new highway, dates only from 1885, settled from Kanab by a party led by Thomas F. Dobson. For many years Utah continued efforts to acquire the Arizona Strip, but Arizona refused to surrender her claim to the whole of the Grand Canyon.

MORMONS CELEBRATE

The bridge dedication especially is of interest to adherents of the Mormon faith, whose pride is large in the deeds of pioneers who left relative comfort at the bidding of the church to people and reclaim the southern deserts.

There will be addresses in honor of the men and women who dared hardship and danger in the land through which automobiles now are speeding. Again will be sung the old songs with which faith and hope were renewed around the evening campfires and there will be stories of the hardihood with which was met the vicissitudes of the trail.

Especially will be honor to Jacob Hamblin, premier scout of Brigham Young, a man who dared death a hundred times among Indians to whom he sought to bring peace and enlightenment. On his tombstone in the Arizona village of Alpine is the simple inscription, "Peacemaker Among the Lamanites."

AIR PHOTO RECORD SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—A new record for long distance aerial photography will be sought in the near future by two army aviators in the Northwest.

The aviators, Capt. Albert W. Stevens, noted Army Air Corps photographer, and Lieut. John D. Corkille, pilot, will leave Wright Field, Dayton, O., at a date soon to be determined. Striving to make effective photographs of objects at distances up to and exceeding 200 miles, they will fly about 6000 miles in the month they will be gone.

PEAKS TARGETS

The towering peaks of the Continental Divide in Montana, Washington, Oregon, California and Idaho will be targets of the expedition's camera, mountainous regions being regarded as best for such experiments. The itinerary, as announced by the War Department, includes Kalispell, Mont.; Camp Lewis, Wash.; Eugene, Or.; San Francisco, Pocatello, Idaho, and return to Dayton.

The airplane to be used will be a standard observation type, equipped for photographic work. Lieut. Corkille has piloted Capt. Stevens on a number of recent photographic missions, including the one over Washington on the night before the Hoover inauguration when several flashlight pictures of the White House and the Capitol were taken from the air and later distributed by telephoto to newspapers throughout the country.

RECORD 175 MILES

Because of the improvement of photographic equipment in recent years, Capt. Stevens believes that aerial photographs now can be made of objects more than 200 miles away. With the exception of photographs of astronomical bodies, the greatest distance at which good aerial photographs have been made is 175 miles. This was accomplished by the Army Air Corps five years ago. The experiments to be undertaken in the West by Capt. Stevens are expected by Army Air Corps officers to produce highly valuable contributions to military photography.

NEW VENEZUELA RAID REPULSED

Filibusters Fail in Attack on Town of Coro

Dead, Wounded, Prisoners Left by Urbina

Citizens Help Troops Beat Governor's Kidnapers

CARACAS (Venezuela) June 11. (AP)—The Venezuelan filibusters who kidnaped the Governor of Curacao Saturday night and looted the police arsenal, attacked the town of Coro, capital of the State of Falcon Sunday, but were defeated after several hours of fighting.

Details of the unsuccessful attack, as made public in El Nuevo Diario, government newspaper, reveals that Gen. Gomez, former President, and now commander-in-chief of the Venezuelan army, had warned the garrison at Coro of the impending assault.

The garrison, aided by the civilian population, were ready for the invaders and drove them off, the filibusters leaving dead, wounded and prisoners.

During the attack, Gen. Gabriel Lacle, commander of the Coro garrison, was wounded seriously and died later.

The account published today states that the filibusters debarked from the steamship Maracaibo, which they had seized Saturday night in the harbor of Willemstad, at Vela De Coro, the harbor portion of the town. Apparently they believed that they would be able to surprise it.

Gen. Gomez, however, already had telegraphed orders from his home at Maracay to the Coro garrison. Defenses had been prepared and the town made ready for the attack, Gen. Lacle co-ordinating the work of the military and civilian authorities.

The attack opened Sunday morning with Rafael Umon Urbina in command of the filibusters, who finally were defeated and fled. The number of dead, wounded and prisoners left by the invaders whose strength had been variously estimated at between 300 and 500, was not available.

In commenting on the fight, El Nuevo Diario says:

"This shows that the Venezuelan government was justified some time ago in requesting from the Colombian and Dutch governments the extradition of the pirate and filibuster, Urbina, for crimes committed in Venezuela. Colombia and Holland refused extradition."

DUTCH SHIPS RUSH TO CUXACAO

THE HAGUE (Netherlands) June 11. (AP)—The Dutch battleship Hertog Hendrik, will leave Thursday afternoon for Curacao in connection with the attack made on Willemstad Saturday night by a force of Venezuelan revolutionaries.

SHIP DODGES GALE BY RADIO

Nonmagnetic Vessel Applies Gathered Data to Plot Course of Storm and Escape Its Fury

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—Scientists aboard the nonmagnetic ship Carnegie have escaped imminent peril to their lives by "handling a storm by radio," applying knowledge already gained as to the effect of terrestrial magnetism of compasses.

This was disclosed in a message received from the vessel by the Carnegie Institution of Washington, which told how the expedition dodged a typhoon in the Pacific on the night of the 1st inst.

Running into the center of a storm, the message related, the scientists met increasing seas and high winds. Their barometer dropped. They applied their knowledge of magnetic effects in plotting the predicted course of the storm-center position on information received during the two days previous from the Manila Observatory.

Heading out toward east by south they found their barometer slowly rising and the wind moderating. They ran two hours, then hove to and waited two hours for the wind to moderate. Then they set sail on their course toward Yokohoma, riding the tail of the typhoon.

"This was our first experience in handling a storm by radio," the message said, "and everything went like clockwork and exactly as we predicted from knowledge by radio."

The vessel, belonging to the Carnegie Institution, has completed the first unit of its program—circling the North Pacific. It will arrive in San Francisco the latter part of next month and while undergoing reconditioning will be used for a celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the inauguration of research by the institution.

HOOVER REVISES ENVOYS' LEAVES

Schedule for Diplomats Made Uniform

One Foreign and One Home Vacation Allowed

Men at Tropical Posts Given Longer Stays

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—Leaves of absence are made uniform for American diplomats in foreign countries, with special consideration for those in "unhealthy posts," under a new set of rules established in an executive order by President Hoover just issued by the State Department.

Under the rules heretofore in effect, leaves of absence for members of the diplomatic service abroad were governed largely by the discretion of the Secretary of State. Hereafter, two classes of leave will be recognized, one with, and one without, permission to return to the United States. Payment of full salary is allowed in both classes.

Leave with permission to visit the United States may be granted to an Ambassador or Minister for sixty days in each calendar year and for not more than sixty days to other diplomatic officers once in every two years.

American diplomats who are stationed in posts which are considered by the department to be unhealthful—usually tropical posts—will have leaves extended from the present sixty days to 120 days.

RUM BOATS THINNED OUT ON HIGH SEAS

Coast Guard Figures Show Only 190 Vessels Seized; Border Leaks Now Worst

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—A decline in the seizure of liquor-laden vessels from 734 in 1925 to 190 for the last fiscal year was announced today by the Coast Guard, which attributed it to the effective work of the guard in discouraging smuggling.

Guard officials said that while the service had broken up rum row which for several years held sway off Long Island and the New Jersey coast, liquor is coming in through the Great Lakes and now forms the chief object of their work.

With more than 1,000,000 gallons of whisky being cleared from Canadian points for American ports each year, the Coast Guard forces in the Great Lakes have been increased to cope with the situation.

Officials said that coincident with the smuggling of goods into this country from Canada there is much smuggling of merchandise from the United States to that country. Silks and cigarettes in particular, they said, are being run across the Canadian border to avoid the high taxes in the dominion.

Court Upholds Utility Values

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11. (AP)—Evaluation of the Los Angeles properties of the Southern California Edison Company must stand at $850,000, as fixed by the State Railroad Commission, the State Supreme Court ruled today in denying a rehearing to the utility.

The commission set that figure as the value of the properties after a hearing in Los Angeles in which the company fixed at $3,500,000 the cost of the system to the city.

GREEN LANTERN
Inviting Soda Fountains

HAVEN'T YOU just ached at times to roll up your sleeves and don an apron "to show that man how a soda fountain should be operated."

Your patience is rewarded. Now particular people have their own kind of soda fountain service. Green Lantern Fountains are now serving. Not just a few. But dozens of them. There is one near you.

Why didn't someone think of this before! It was fairly easy to find out what "the public" wanted. We interviewed hundreds—young, older and "in-betweens."

They said: Give us clean fountains, clean glasses and dishes, neat attendants. Less juggling and spilling—more daintiness in serving. Prompt service. Courtesy—never mind the mechanical "thank you." And can't you do something about the taste of the ice cream? Does it have to taste like "store" ice cream?

The Green Lantern Fountains demonstrate what can be done when a wide awake ice cream caterer and a large group of intelligent druggists decide to give the public what it wants.

There's a Green Lantern Fountain near you.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

BOYS CONFESS WOUNDING CHUM

Story of Cartridge Exploding on Car Track False

Two Lads Maintain Shooting Was Accidental

Youngsters All Wards of State Institutions

MONROVIA, June 11.—Admitting that the weird story of the shooting of Gilbert McQueen, 16-year-old negro boy, ward of the Whittier State School, who was supposed to have been wounded by a bullet from the Pacific Electric tracks as a car passed over the shell, was false, both Adrian Ortez, 15 years of age, and Louis Corona, 18, implicated in the shooting, confessed late yesterday to police after city and county officers found a dozen extra cartridges from a .32 revolver hidden back of the city fire station and a .32 revolver hidden in lumber yards on South Ivy avenue.

According to the boys' confession, the shooting was accidental and occurred on Almond street, between Ivy and Canyon, near the Southern Pacific tracks, on Friday. Ortez declared that the gun was in the hands of Corona, when it accidentally exploded, the bullet entering the chest of McQueen and piercing through his shoulder to his right upper arm, where it was lodged.

The boys then concocted the story of the cartridge exploding on the Pacific Electric tracks and striking McQueen and related details of the accident at the police station, where McQueen appeared for medical aid.

After the officers had found the gun and extra cartridges, Corona admitted to Chief Scott and Constable James Quiggle, that he had accidentally shot his companion.

McQueen is recovering at the County Hospital, where he was immediately taken to have the bullet removed from his arm. He is a ward of the State School at Whittier and on parole at his home here.

Corona, who is past 18 years of age, is being held in the City Jail subject to the orders of Parole Officer Roach of the Ione State School at Preston, from which Corona is on parole. He is now being held on charge of having broken his parole, and will be arraigned Friday morning before Judge Sturgeon on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. His home is in San Diego.

Ortez, the youngest of the trio, is a ward of the Juvenile Court and has been living with his grandmother on East Maple avenue.

Police state, that three guns, .32, .38 and .22 caliber, were found in the boys' possession.

Chamber Head Sends Telegram to Washington

SAN DIEGO, June 11.—Contemplated closing of the Mexican border by the Mexican government to conform to hours of the closing of the American border, as disclosed in notification to President A. T. Mercier of the San Diego and Arizona Railroad, was given consideration by the executive committee of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce today and the information forwarded to Washington.

A telegram signed by Hal G. Hotchkiss, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was sent to Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of State, and A. W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, Senators Shortridge and Johnson and Congressman Swing, as follows:

"A. T. Mercier, president San Diego and Arizona and Tecate railroads, informed us today he has official notice from Mexican government that it will close the international line to railroad trains during hours that line is closed by government officials to autos and pedestrian traffic. He says this will mean that our trains handling United States mail, express and perishable freight will be seriously delayed, causing heavy loss of revenue to the railroad and materially affecting San Diego's present and future development."

TEACHERS PLAN EXTENSIVE TRIP

HUNTINGTON PARK, June 11.—With the close of school this week, there will be many instructors of the high and the grammar schools of the district leaving this section of the country, a few to make trips to foreign lands. Two instructors will soon be on their way to South America. Miss Ruth Ledig, of the high school, is to go to Huancayo, Peru, to visit her brother who is employed in the Carnegie Institute, and Miss Helen McConnell goes to an American copper mining settlement in that country where she will become a teacher. Miss Princessa Page, is leaving for Europe, where she will spend several weeks in Holland, Belgium, France, Italy, Germany, Switzerland and England. Quite a number of the local instructors also expect to spend their vacations in Canada.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL COMPLETES YEAR

INGLEWOOD, June 11.—Eighth-grade commencement for St. John's Parochial School will be held on next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. John's Catholic Church, corner of Manchester avenue and Locust street.

On Wednesday afternoon an entertainment will be presented in St. John's Hall. Class day exercises will be on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Thanksgiving mass will be celebrated on Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock in the church.

This is the first graduation in the new Parochial School, completed only last year. The first class to graduate has selected as its colors blue and silver, and as its motto, "To Thine Own Self be True."

CHAIN STORES ENLARGE

Grocery Company Absorbs Forty-two Units of San Diego Concern

SAN DIEGO, June 11.—Merger of the Heller group of forty-two San Diego grocery stores with the chain of approximately 800 Pacific Coast units known as the Mac Marr stores during the past few months, was announced today by Matt F. Heller, president and founder of the local organization. The consolidation will take effect the latter part of this month, it was stated.

Ross MacIntyre of Portland, Or., is president of the new company while Charles A. Marr of Spokane, Wash., is vice-president. Both men have been in the chain store business for many years in the Northwest and are said to possess enviable reputations as successful merchandisers. They take an active interest in the civic affairs of the cities in which they operate, according to Heller.

The Mac Marr stores organization was started in January of this year and is a consolidation of many Coast chains similar to the Heller group. With approximately 800 stores at present, the chain will be expanded still more in the near future, it was stated.

Mat F. Heller and Elwyn M. Heller will sever their connections with the grocery business although are retaining a considerable interest in the new company. Milton F. Heller is to continue in charge of the San Diego stores and is interested financially in the Mac Marr organization, it is said.

All the real estate with the exception of the main plant housing the bakery and warehouse will be retained by the Heller Investment Company, according to Matt Heller. The latter is one of San Diego's pioneer merchants having been established in business here for more than thirty-seven years. He was the first local merchant to realize the possibilities of the chain grocery store and began the "cash and carry" idea here.

Bandit Uses Door Bell to Call Victim

MONROVIA, June 11.—Boldly accosted in his own home by a masked bandit, H. L. Runnel, proprietor of a local market, was robbed of almost $300 last Saturday night at 11 o'clock, according to reports of police who have been quietly investigating several clews, which might identify the bandit in the course of several days.

Runnel in his story to Chief Scott related that in answering the front doorbell he encountered the bandit with his face partially covered with a white handkerchief who leveled his revolver at him and demanded that he turn out the lights and turn over the several hundred dollars in his hip pockets.

"At first I denied having any money on my person, Runnel told police, but the man threatened to shoot and at the same time declared he knew that I had the money in my pockets."

After handing over approximately $300 in currency and checks, the bandit ordered Runnel and his wife, who had entered the living-room, to retreat to a bedroom closet while he made his escape. Runnel declared he heard a car start and quickly grabbed his own gun and shot out of the window to arouse his neighbors to join in the chase of the robber.

The bandit had evidently watched Runnel close his market and place the money from the cash register in his pockets, police believe. Runnel's market is located at 616 South Myrtle avenue.

South Yucaipa Now Calimesa

YUCAIPA, June 11. — Two hundred residents of South Yucaipa today voted to call themselves residents of Calimesa. They held a mass meeting, started the organization of a Chamber of Commerce and petitioned the Postoffice Department to recognize Calimesa by giving the town a postoffice on the Ocean-to-Ocean highway.

Dr. H. E. Church, Redlands dentist, whose home is in the territory intersected by the San Bernardino-Riverside line, won a $15 prize offered by the South Mesa Social club, J. Jipson and H. R. Sheppard, for the winning name. He turned the money over to the infant Chamber of Commerce, of which Mr. Sheppard was made secretary.

Five names were submitted to the mass meeting last night after a committee had sifted out ten names selected a week ago from an even greater number. Calimesa expects to get branch offices of telegraph companies, a Motor Transit stage depot and an express company office as results of the new move.

Sale of Yacht is Postponed

SANTA ANA, June 11. — Threatened sale of E. D. Burge's yacht, the Valencia, at Newport Harbor, to satisfy a $3000 judgment obtained against the Santa Ana man by the Newport Beach Lumber Company, was reported to be temporarily forestalled, with the prospect that settlement of the judgment would be made by Burge to save his yacht.

Originally set for last Thursday, the Sheriff's sale of the Valencia was canceled, to permit negotiations for a settlement to be carried on, it was said.

The yacht, which figured so prominently in charges hurled at Burge recently by his wife, Dorothy Belle Burge, who was granted a divorce, is said to be under attachment. Mrs. Burge declared, in her divorce action, that Burge intended to fit the yacht out as a rum ship, to ply off the coast of Southern California.

APPRAISALS FINISHED AT SAN DIEGO

Report of Experts Shows Preponderence of Wealth Inside City

SAN DIEGO, June 11.—The preponderance of San Diego county's wealth lies within the city of San Diego, it was announced today by County Assessor George W. Moulton, following a conference last night with Tax Factors, Inc., in finishing up appraisals of all property in the city and county. Tax Factors fix the value of city real estate at $248,694,940 and improvements at $152,445,930, making a total of $401,140,870 for the city. Tax Factors is finishing up some of the country districts, it was stated today.

It has placed a value on property in the cities and towns of the county and at a conference last night agreed to deliver the complete valuation to the County Assessor and Supervisors on the 15th inst., Moulton said.

The work of revaluing the city and county property was begun last August. It was intended to have the work completed by April 1, but on account of the vast amount of work encountered, it was found necessary to extend the time, which was done by the County Supervisors, Moulton said.

The Tax Factors, Inc., has placed a value of $2,500,000 on the Santa Margarita ranch, according to figures furnished by the County Assessor. All figures of the appraisement affect only taxable property for the county. Properties owned by public-utility corporations are excluded from the valuations, Moulton said. This includes the valuable building of the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric Company at Sixth and E streets. The State collects taxes on this, Moulton said.

Neither are churches or other tax-exempted properties owned by religious bodies included in the appraisement, according to the County Assessor. When the final figures are compiled the Assessor proposes to file the assessed valuations and on July 15 the County Auditor will report the city valuation to the City Council to fix a tax rate for the collection of city taxes, which begins in October. Moulton said he has promised city officials that the city valuation for taxable purposes would be in excess of $150,000,000.

Auto Driver Has Plenty Bill to Pay

ONTARIO, June 11. — Three hospital bills, repair bill to an automobile, and a $25 fine paid Judge George R. Holbrook, were a few of the expenses piled up by Henry Moya, 25 years of age, of 405 East Grove street, when his automobile plowed into another car driven by Jonathan Adams, 604 East Belmont street, and carrying members of his family. Eight persons were injured in the crash.

Moya was arrested on a reckless-driving charge following the crash, and when taken before Judge Holbrook was found guilty. Judge Holbrook first imposed a fine of $25 on Moya, and then ordered him to pay the hospital bills for the three most seriously injured, Mrs. Barlarita Adams, 38; Miss N. Adams, 14, and Jen Barbosa, 20.

Frank Agular, 424 East Park street, riding with Moya, is thought to have a fracture of the skull. He was badly cut about the face and head.

Anti-Dog Law Before Council

PASADENA, June 11.—The price of soup bones rose suddenly in this city today when the Board of City Directors gave first reading to an ordinance empowering light-meter readers to disconnect the "juice" at any home which harbors a vicious dog.

One of the board members remarked facetiously that he is going to lay in a supply of bones which his wife will toss to his pet police dog at the approach of the meter man.

Benjamin F. De Lanty, general superintendent of the Municipal Light and Power Department, informed the City Board that an average of two meter readers a month are given first aid in the Pasadena Emergency Hospital for dog bites and that the morale of the department was threatened through the inhospitable actions of the canines.

MASONS IN CHARGE OF JOHNSTONE FUNERAL

PASADENA, June 11.—Funeral services for Allerton Johnstone, wealthy young Pasadena sportsman, were conducted this afternoon from the home of his mother, Mrs. Kate Johnstone, here. The services were in charge of San Pasqual Masonic Lodge and Dr. Leslie E. Learned, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church here, spoke. Mrs. Johnstone and another son, Vanderburgh, left this evening with the body on the California Limited for Chicago, where interment will take place Friday at Graceland Cemetery.

PERFECT SCORE IN ATTENDANCE

Three Azusa Students Make Record

AZUSA, June 11.—Five years in school without a tardy mark or being absent is the unprecedented record established by Fay Moody, Beverly Hendrick and Gertrude Henderson of the Intermediate Grammar School, according to Supt. Charles C. Carpenter.

Four other students have made records unmarred by demerits for tardiness and days absent. They are Dorothy Henderson, Tom Oki, Sarah Austin, all of the seventh grade, and Charles Cardwell of the sixth grade.

Both Miss Hendrick and Miss Henderson are in the fifth grade, while Miss Moody is in the sixth grade.

Supt. Carpenter also announces that the school has made a remarkable showing this year in scholarships with four students making a better average than 97 per cent.

Those whose names will be placed on the honor roll include Elizabeth Henderson, George Williams, Robert Ayers and Calvin Dream. The latter, who made the highest average, will have his name inscribed on the perpetual silver cup which now bears the names of the school's best scholars. The other three students will be awarded scholarship medals, Carpenter said.

New Plane in Trial Flight

LONG BEACH, June 11.—Emsco Aircraft Company's three-motored monoplane, the first of the type manufactured by this concern since its recent entry into aviation, will take off from the Long Beach municipal airport tomorrow morning for a flight to San Francisco and Portland. Upon return the plane will start on a 12,000-mile trip around the United States in the first airplane-selling tour of the country. This tour will be to meet buyers of Emsco products manufactured at half a dozen Southern California plants.

The new plane is motored with three Curtis Challenger engines. It is of the design originated by the Albatross Aircraft Company which was taken over by Emsco.

AMERICAN LEGION IN COUNTY CAUCUS

SANTA ANA, June 11.—Wilbur Getty, Santa Ana man, was indorsed as State commander of the American Legion and Robert Miller of Fullerton was indorsed as a candidate for district commander of the Legion at a county caucus meeting at the Orange American Legion Hall. More than fifty Legionnaires, representing every post in the county, were present.

The committee will launch a campaign immediately to get its two candidates indorsed throughout the district. Getty will come up for election at the State Legion convention at San Diego in August.

Aged Fiddler Completes Walk From New York

ONTARIO, June 11.—A fiddle tune that started in New York was echoed in Ontario today when Otto Funk, 62 years of age, "dropped in" on his cross-continent walk, and later departed for Los Angeles, end of the trek for him.

Funk started from New York to walk to Los Angeles, bearing his fiddle along. Practically every mile of the way has seen the instrument tucked under Funk's chin, while he sawed away at his favorite tunes. The violin he carried into Ontario has been providing music for Funk for the last fifty-six years, he said in relating his story here. He required 158 days to make the trek from Gotham to Ontario. He stopped at a local friend's establishment and played a half-hour concert before going on his way.

The greatest feature of the hike, said Funk, is that he had plenty of opportunity to view the scenery and looked upon it to the tune of his fiddle music. Travel by train or automobile is too fast to see the wonders of nature, he says, which is one reason he walks every place he goes.

While traveling through Arizona Funk was struck by a rattlesnake. Unperturbed, the aged fiddler slew the snake, snipped off the rattles as souvenirs, cut open the wound and sucked out the blood and poison. He continued walking until he came to a doctor's office. Funk credits his ability to walk all day to his temperance. He neither smokes nor drinks liquor.

Chest Drive on at Ventura

VENTURA, June 11. — Committees representing the Community Chest today began a three-days' campaign to raise $16,430 for the support of three welfare and charitable organizations.

Women's teams under the command of Mrs. G. C. Coffey are soliciting the residence districts, and the business section is being canvassed by committees made up from the city's four service clubs, the American Legion and a group of business leaders.

The campaign was launched at a dinner last night at the E.C.O. clubhouse, at which Harry M. Stansifer, executive secretary of the highly successful Santa Barbara Chest organization, was the principal speaker.

LIGHT RATE REDUCED

Pasadena Now Has Cheapest Electricity of Any City in State

PASADENA, June 11.—Reductions in charges of the Municipal Light and Power Department which will total $93,274 a year will give this city the lowest electric light rates in the State, it was announced today by Benjamin F. DeLanty, department superintendent. The rate ordinance, which will result in savings to every consumer in the city, was given first reading at the meeting of the Board of City Directors.

"For the average consumer," said De Lanty, "the saving will about equal his tax increase that will result from the passage of the proposed $10,000,000 water bond issue that will be submitted to the voters on the 18th inst."

The 5-cent rate which has been in effect since 1911 will be superseded by the new rate which, for domestic and commercial lighting will be: For the first 200 kilowatts, 4½ cents; for the next 300, 4 cents; for the next 500, 3½ cents; for the next 1000, 3 cents; next 1000, 2½ cents, and all consumption over 13,000 kilowatts, 1½ cents. The present rate for the first 100 kilowatts is 5 cents and for all over 3000, 2 cents.

Based on the current fiscal year's figures, the reduction in commercial and domestic lighting rates will effect a saving of $79,500, or an 8.63 per cent reduction. The power rate saving will be $6291, or 1.7 per cent. The saving for the Municipal Water Department will amount to $5469, or 8 per cent. The combined light and power rate saving will be $878, the off-peak rate saving, $860, and the cooking rate reduction will be $175, bringing the total to $93,274.

The average monthly consumer, according to De Lanty, will pay $2.14 instead of $2.35 in the summer, and $3.83 instead of $4.20 in the winter.

HOSPITAL REORGANIZATION

Twenty Employees of Pasadena Institution to be Dismissed; Medical Staff Unchanged

PASADENA, June 11.—With the objective of reducing prices and increasing the public character of the institution, the Pasadena Hospital will undergo a sweeping reorganization of personnel and business policies, it was learned today when the resignation of President Joseph P. Howe was tendered to the hospital board.

Although severad of the administrative employees and twenty service assistants are scheduled to be dismissed, the medical staff will remain unchanged, it is asserted.

The resignation of Howe, who is now en route to hunt big game in Africa, was submitted to the directors by W. P. Vail, whose resignation as hospital manager was accepted yesterday. The directors announced late today that they "have nothing against Howe" and may not pass upon his resignation until they have communicated with him.

The sweeping program of economy which resulted in abolishing the position of manager followed a survey of the hospital made by the research department of the California Taxpayers' Association at the behest of a citizens' committee, headed by Dr. Robert A. Millikan.

Six of the eleven directors are asserted to have attended the meeting at which action was taken that precipitated the resignations of Manager Vail and President Howe. They are Albert Ruddick, Carl C. Thomas, Charles Wright, Col. J. H. Poole, Robert Pitcairn and Dr. Milbank Johnson.

Dr. Johnson asserted that the immediate aim of the directors is to take up the slack in the hospital organization and eliminate any extravagance. Other members of the board declared that in order to place the institution in a position where it can solicit public financial support and endowments, it was thought best to curtail prices to the point where any person of average means would patronize the hospital with "the conviction that he was obtaining the best medical care at lowest cost."

Recommendations are asserted to have been made to curtail or eliminate the operation of the nurses' school and to have the work of eighteen tray girls performed by nurses in the future.

In his letter of resignation which he left with Vail before starting for Africa, Howe stated: "During my absence, should any situation arise which you believe to be adverse to our well-established practices and methods as to make it necessary for you to resign as manager, I would ask that at such time as you tender your own resignation, you submit this letter to the board of directors as my resignation as president, to take effect at once."

Vail's friends assert that at the time he became manager it was agreed that it would be his work to bring the hospital to a paying basis, but that the directors would be responsible for the annual bond interest. This year, the hospital is reported to have shown a profit up to date, after paying the bond interest.

Once-Defeated Bonds Carried at Montebello

MONTEBELLO, June 11. (Exclusive)—Badly defeated four years ago, a $30,000 bond issue to erect a city library in Municipal Park again was submitted to the voters here today and carried. The semiofficial count was 476 to 181. It is proposed to erect the structure fronting on Whittier Boulevard.

The plan to call a special city election for resubmission of this bond issue was initiated by the Chamber of Commerce and was supported by several other organizations.

A. L. Chaffee Kills Himself

VENTURA, June 11. (AP)—A. L. Chaffee, retired merchant, and prominent as a pioneer of this city, shot himself to death late today in a canyon near here.

The suicide was attributed by members of his family to ill health. Failing health forced Chaffee to turn his mercantile business over to his two sons several years ago, and they reported he brooded over his enforced inactivity.

Chaffee was reported missing at noon. Deputy sheriffs found the body four hours later.

LEGION PREPARES FOR EMERGENCY

ONTARIO, June 11.—Members of Ontario Post of the American Legion today were prepared to meet any emergency that might arise in the community needing the services of considerable man power.

At a meeting of the organization last night, the post was built up to a "disaster unit" ready to respond to a prescribed signal to be sounded by the city fire siren.

The Legion man-power will be available for any part of the State that might be visited by disaster, such as fire, earthquake, or flood.

The members expect a few test mobilizations in the near future.

CUSTODIAN DIES ON SCHOOL GROUNDS

SOUTH PASADENA, June 11.—Robert Crane, custodian at the El Centro school for the last twenty years, was found dead on the school grounds this morning, the victim of a heart attack. He started his regular rounds last night and when he failed to return to his home a search was begun, which ended with the discovery of the body.

The veteran school employee was 63 years of age. He was a member of the local Odd Fellows lodge.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Julia Crane, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Rachel Wood of Pasadena; a brother, Harry J. Crane of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a brother-in-law, J. F. Tickner of Pasadena.

CHAMBER SECRETARY RESIGNS AT REDONDO

REDONDO BEACH, June 11.—The resignation of Mrs. Minnie Whipple Williams as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce was announced today.

Mrs. Williams, who has been with the chamber for the past two and one-half years, is to be connected with the local office of the Santa Fe Railway Company in a clerical capacity. Miss Hortense Cummings has been appointed to fill the post of secretary.

DEATH DUE TO HEART ATTACK

LONG BEACH, June 11.—Douglas D. Gardner, 38 years of age, paymaster for the Stone and Webster Company at the construction for the Southern California Edison Company on Terminal Island, dropped dead in a garage this morning after having left his employment complaining of illness. Attending physicians declared death due to heart attack.

OLD DRUG STORE IN NEW HANDS

REDONDO BEACH, June 11.—Sale of the D and D Drug Store, one of the oldest businesses in this district, was made known today. The new owner is G. T. (Pat) Perdue, an employee of the store for a number of years. The business formerly was operated by Henry C. Dusendschon and was established nearly fifty years ago.

ELKS OBSERVE FLAG DAY

HUNTINGTON PARK, June 11.—The Huntington Park Lodge of Elks expects to have a lengthy program at its session Friday night, when it will observe Flag Day. Among the numbers on the program will be a drill by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the William Mitchell United Spanish War Veteran's Camp. The program will begin following a short lodge session.

Local Elks are also making arrangements for a big turnout to the Elks' convention in Los Angeles in July, when they will have two purple drill teams, and two bands in the procession, besides other features. The lodge, only 8 years old, has more than 1600 members, and a large class to initiate.

Oil Worker Is Fatally Hurt at Ventura

VENTURA, June 11.—B. Crawford, Shell Oil Company employee, was fatally injured about midnight last night when a load of pipe which he was helping to unload is said to have slipped. One of the three-inch pipes struck him in the head, breaking his jaw and fracturing his skull, according to Coroner Oliver Reardon.

Crawford had been living with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Black, at Casitas Springs. Illness of the former had forced Crawford to become practically the sole support of the family. He was unmarried and, as far as is known, has no other immediate relatives.

The accident happened at the Gosnell No. 31 well of the Shell Oil Company, according to the Coroner's report. The victim, who was about 40 years of age, dodged one of the pipes, but failed to see a second one as it rolled off the truck, witnesses said.

SCORES OF STUDENTS TO RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

WHITTIER, June 11.—Dr. Reid L. McClung, dean of the college of commerce of the University of Southern California, will give the commencement address to the members of the graduating class at the Whittier Union High School Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The occasion will be the twenty-ninth annual commencement at the school and 172 students will be given diplomas. Charles L. Edmonston, president of the Board of Trustees of the high school, will present the diplomas. O. C. Albertson is principal and will give the annual report of the school. W. H. McDonald will direct the orchestra and Ralph Petty will present the glee clubs.

One hundred and five of the graduates will go on to school, some to university, some to business college and some to do postgraduate work. Miss Gladys Olsen has the highest standing in scholarship during the past four years and Miss Dolores Lautrup is second. Miss Lautrup is the youngest member of the graduating class and intends to enter Whittier College next fall.

BUSINESS MEN TO VIEW SITUATION

SANTA ANA, June 11.—To acquaint business men of the county with first-hand knowledge of flood control problems, the agricultural committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce will conduct a tour for business men along the Santa Ana River Monday, the 17th inst.

Visits will be made to the lower Prado dam site, to a typical pumping plant that has been lowered several times because of falling water levels, and to other points along the river where flood hazards will be pointed out.

Air Transportation Is Shifting America To the Door of Los Angeles

Airline Facts

Regular air service now in operation, together with air and air-rail combinations now nearing completion, will provide practically a nation-wide network focusing on Los Angeles.

Fifty-three airports and landing fields have already been established in Los Angeles county, representing a combined investment of nearly $7,000,000.

Aircraft production of Los Angeles' twelve airplane factories, and four airplane-motor manufacturers, is estimated to have reached a figure of $20,000,000 a year.

Thirty flying schools in Los Angeles and vicinity are in operation, graduating 613 students in 1928, with an enrollment of 1551 on January 1, 1929.

As shown by government statistics, California, with 801 licensed planes, leads every other State by a wide margin, its nearest rival, New York, having but 558; while an equal number of non-licensed planes, of the pleasure type, are estimated to be owned in the State. Licensed operators in Southern California alone are estimated at 3000.

Growth of air service is indicated by the latest conservative estimate of passengers carried by local air lines, amounting to 80,000 per year, or equivalent to 6% of the population of Los Angeles.

A momentous new factor has been introduced into the development drama of Southern California. New York virtually moves west to Salt Lake City. Seattle comes south to Fresno. Phoenix, Arizona, is brought within picnic distance of Los Angeles' beaches.

Always the determining element in man's migration has been distance as measured by the clock! The steamship inaugurated world migration to America; the railroad diverted national migration; and particularly migration from the Middle West, to Los Angeles. Now comes a new air and air-rail transportation era, and for the first time America's Riviera is brought within quick distance of the 40,000,000 people of the Atlantic seaboard.

The community into which has been introduced this new factor is now producing over 700,000 barrels of oil per day—its orchards and farms have made Los Angeles County the richest agricultural county in the United States—its motion-picture industry makes 85% of the world's "movies"—its fish-packing is second in the country—its ocean-borne commerce now rates second to New York's—its 6000 prosperous manufacturing plants with annual production of $1,250,000,000, have the advantage of cheap fuel, low-cost factory construction, and a billion potential Oriental consumers.

This drama is being enacted on a stage where the diversity of scenic props gives life a never-ceasing novelty and interest. A coast unique in that it affords an all-year residential ocean environment—towering pine-clad mountains — sun-kissed valleys — magnificent highways—94 golf and country clubs—a perpetual program of summer and winter diversions—famous colleges, museums, laboratories and observatories—colorful and varied residence sections—colonies of distinguished writers, artists, musicians, actors, scientists, travelers—and the whole pervaded by ultra-violet rays of California's sunshine which prolong life and give the energy for work and play.

Southern Californians remembering that Los Angeles has grown from 102,000 in 1900 to 1,366,000 in 1929, that the charms and natural resources which have hitherto attracted people are today being augmented with stupendous new developments, that all its former rail, ship and motor transportation facilities are being expanded and improved, and that to all this has been added a miraculous new instrument of growth—the airplane—naturally look forward to the future with enthusiasm born of confidence.

The Los Angeles Times each Sunday unfolds this drama in a special section dedicated to that purpose—the only Sunday real estate section in the fastest-growing community in the world. As the OPPORTUNITY MARKETPLACE of Southern California, The Times prints more real estate want ads than all other five Los Angeles newspapers combined!

"Times" Man in Japan Has Delightful Visit

He Drinks Tea With Imperial Landscape Artist

Dainty Daughter Appears in Miniature Garden

BY FRED HOGUE

[Fred Hogue, member of The Times staff, is one of a group of American journalists touring the Near West for a study of conditions under the auspices of the Carnegie Foundation. This article was mailed from Tokio.]

TOKIO, May 19. (Exclusive)—We sat at table in a lacquered chamber, illuminated by candles in crystal candelabra and paneled in light Japanese oak and burnished with copper and gold—the spacious dining-room of the Peers' Club. About us were a score of members of the Japanese House of Lords, the pride and glory of the aristocracy of Japan.

Baron Okura was speaking. For the evening he was our host. We had just witnessed a special performance of the great Japanese classic, the "No" play, in the private theater maintained by the peers in their clubhouse, a costume play opera of a magnificence beyond my power to describe.

Now Baron Okura was speaking to us of the classic, spiritual, dramatic, cultural life of Japan. He is an art lover, an art connoisseur, the most munificent patron of art outside the imperial household in the island empire.

BARON SPEAKS

He spoke in excellent English, but with an Oxford accent. I studied his features, his gestures, his expression. The Baron is taller than the average Japanese, and more slender. His face is long rather than round. His eyes are set remarkably close together for a Japanese, his nostrils are slender, and the bridge of his nose is slightly arched. This gives to him a distinctive cultural appearance, a note of refinement that would attract attention in any company.

His dress was that of a Japanese gentleman: a long garment, reaching to his ankles, of a dull black material; similar to a Roman toga with full sleeves. On each shoulder, embroidered in white silk, about the sizesize of a half-dollar, was insignia of his family.

His message to the American journalists was that we should not misinterpret the teeming hive of industry which is Tokio at the present time as symbolic of the life of Japan. Tokio is just rebuilding after the earthquake and fire, and the new house must be constructed before it can be decorated.

MEETS ARTIST

When we had repaired to the spacious lounge of the club I expressed to M. Komatsu, secretary of the Japan-America Society, a desire to know more of Japanese art, to meet some of the noted contemporary painters, to learn something of the history and tradition of painting and sculpture in Japan.

His response was an introduction to Gyokudo Kawai, illustrious painter of the imperial household. He, too, wore characteristic Japanese dress and spoke with dignified restraint, rarely smiling, never laughing, but courteous, affable to a fault.

Through the intermediary of my friend Komatsu, I received an invitation to visit him in his studio home in old Tokio, the part untouched by the fire, and to take lunch with him.

Through the straight, narrow lanes of a residential suburb so narrow that a single automobile hardly could pass, where I could stretch out my hands in places and touch the facades of abutting buildings, where I saw only native Japanese dress, colored kimonas and sleeved togas, we arrived at the studio-home of the great Gyokudo, master landscapist of the Japanese school, member of the Imperial Academy of Arts, court painter of the imperial household.

MODEST RESIDENCE

His residence is modest in appearance, built of light, polished Japanese wood in what might be termed Swiss chalet style, two stories in height, with an arched facade possibly twenty feet in width. The house contains six rooms with matted floors, and is flanked by a Japanese garden.

A servant met us at the entrance, where my companion from the Foreign Office informed me that we must remove our shoes, replacing them with light Japanese felt slippers.

The reception room was devoid of all furniture. The floor was covered with a fine but plain bamboo matting. The walls were sliding panels of some light wood.

Gyokudo Kawai stepped through a sliding paneled screen to welcome us. The master is probaby 50 years of age, slender, slightly bald. His iron-gray mustache is clipped short. His complexion is several degrees lighter than that of the average Japanese, and his high forehead, strong chin and delicate nostrils give him a distinguished appearance.

CHAIRS FOR VISITOR

After a few words with my companion Komatsu he motioned us to a little veranda, almost like that of a doll house, overlooking the tiny Japanese garden.

Here were a light bamboo table and four chairs of European make. My companion explained that they had been brought in for the comfort of the visitor. In native Japanese homes, even of the higher classes, they all sit on cloth cushions on the floor, generally around a little square lacquered table about a foot high.

The garden was hot more than fifteen feet square, rustic in appearance. I noticed two unhewn rocks of black granite, possibly weighing a ton and a half each. They had all the appearance of being a part of the original plot; but my companion told me they had been brought there from a point more than 100 miles away. The Japanese use these rocks in their natural form for rustic statuary. In the center of the garden was a stone well with bucket, windlass and rope. Near the corner of the house was an old stone lantern about four feet high. Its style was that of the lanterns in the old shrines and temples. There were some midget trees, but no flowers.

A screen slid back and a Japanese girl, loveliest of all the native women I have seen, glided in on her soft sandals, carrying a tea service. She was tall and willowy. Her delicate features bore the stamp of refinement that marks the father. Her complexion was so light that she could be mistaken by the less observant for one of Latin blood.

She made a slight courtesy, foreign style, not the low bending of the Japanese. Her lips opened, displaying a double row of pearls as she answered with two stingy words in Japanese my salutation. She poured the tea, courtesied a second time and withdrew, as noiselessly as a moving shadow. I did not see her again; nor did I once succeed in looking into her eyes.

SIGNALLY HONORED

I have learned since that I was signally honored by her presence. We journalists have been entertained at luncheon in the palaces of four peers. We have met geishas, actresses and motion-picture stars; but I am the only member of the party who has been introduced to a Japanese woman of quality. The peers feasted us lavishly, showed us through the chambers of their palaces; but never, even for the service, did a woman appear.

Japan recognizes two aristocracies, that of lineage or political favor, and that of the intellect. I was the only member of the group to ask to meet a master of Japanese painting. I had told a member of the Foreign Office that I appreciated meeting so many peers of the realm, but there were other notable Japanese whom I desired to meet; that the Emperor by royal decree could make a baron, but the Emperor himself could not make a great artist; that power was reserved by divinity.

He related this conversation to Gyokudo Kawai and I was rewarded by the invitation to visit him at his studio and by the rare privilege of meeting his daughter.

STUDIO VIEWED

After the second cup of tea the master rose and escorted us through a narrow, dainty hallway, lined on either side by closed sliding panels, to his studio. The studio was perhaps twelve feet square, lighted from the north by paneled windows. The only furniture was the cushions on the floor, an easel on which stood a partly finished picture on white silk, possibly two by six feet, a landscape in India ink that he was making for a wall in one of the imperial palaces.

On three little lacquered tables were scores of brushes and on the wall were two smaller studies that he had finished. He apologized for the meager display, saying that his pictures are taken by the imperial household or by wealthy connoisseurs as fast as they are complete.

My old failing! I have consumed so much space in preliminaries that I must reserve my impressions and opinions of the art of Gyokudo Kawai and of the Japanese primitives for my next article.

ROOM FOR WHOLE FAMILY IN UNCLE SAM'S FLIVVER

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—Everybody in the United States can take an automobile ride at the same time if an average of 5.6 persons can crowd into each available passenger car. And if anyone should be left behind, there are 3,113,999 trucks and 92,325 busses to transport the overflow.

These figures have been compiled by the Department of Commerce, which said that on January 1 the United States had 24,629,921 of the 32,028,584 motor vehicles, including busses and trucks, in the world.

England was second with 1,128,200, France third with 1,098,000, and Canada fourth with 1,061,830.

Bermuda has only one passenger car, the Commerce Department said, a law passed in 1908 forbidding the use of motor-propelled vehicles on the public roads there. The single car is believed to be one used for demonstration purposes in an engineering school.

The United States has 76.9 per cent of the world's supply of automobiles, including busses and trucks, and 79.32 per cent of the passenger cars. There is one passenger car for every 5.6 persons in the United States. The world average is one car for every seventy persons.

Publisher Dies Following Long Chicago Career

CHICAGO, June 11. (Exclusive)—William D. Boyce, publisher, big-game hunter and picturesque figure of Chicago life for many years, died at 8 o'clock tonight at his bungalow home atop his twelve-story Boyce Building, 500 North Dearborn street. Mr. Boyce on next Sunday would have been 69 years of age.

More than a month ago, Mr. Boyce, who was founder and publisher of two weeklies, the Saturday Blade and the Chicago Ledger, was seized with pneumonia, and since had lain seriously ill.

Mr. Boyce was born at Allegheny, Pa., June 16, 1860. In 1881 he began modestly his Chicago career by becoming an advertising solicitor.

GRAPE MEN TO RECEIVE BONUS

Grading Schedule Revised by Federal Group

Growers of Higher Quality Thompsons to Profit

Standard Requirement for Ton Weight Reduced

FRESNO, June 11.—California raisin growers will receive a bonus of from $2.50 to $10 per ton for high-quality Thompson seedless raisins under a revised grading schedule announced today by the Federal Fruit Stabilization Corporation.

The new schedule lowers the weight per ton requirement for standard raisins, the basic price on which was fixed at 3½ cents per pound, and will extend the quality bonus to approximately 84.70 per cent of the season's entire crop of seedless raisins, it was estimated.

The original grading schedule set forty-one pounds as the test for standard grade raisins. With this weight prevailing the bonus would apply to only 68.2 per cent of the yearly crop. The new schedule fixes forty-two pounds per volume as the standard test.

The revision is virtually the equivalent of an increase of one-quarter of a cent per pound in the price to be paid the growers for standard grade fruit.

It was announced some time ago that the stabilization corporation would begin operations this year even though Congress does not make Federal funds available through adoption of a farm-relief act, the corporation having made arrangements for funds from private sources for handling this year's crop.

Western Music Dealers Meet in Convention

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah) June 11. (AP)—Cut-throat competition was assailed by Royal W. Daynes of Salt Lake City at the opening today of the sixth annual convention of the Western Music and Radio Trades Association, of which he is president.

"The fight for business," Mr. Daynes said, "should not be among competitors in the same line of business, but among industries. Manufacturers of musical instruments and dealers should band themselves together to fight those industries which are destructive to their interests, some of which are demoralizing to the American home."

About 200 dealers in attendance at the convention heard a warning from Aubrey O. Andelin of Idaho Falls against "profitless prosperity," and Thomas J. Mercer, Los Angeles, discussed financing of piano and radio sales.

Summer Meeting to Clear Remaining Questions

Stresemann Agrees to Plan Proposed by Briand

Date for Removing Rhine Troops to be Set

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune]

MADRID, June 11. (Exclusive)—An international conference this summer for the liquidation of all outstanding questions left over from the World War became a certainty today when Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German Minister of Foreign Affairs, agreed to proposals which had been put forward by the French Foreign Minister, Aristide Briand.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald had already intimated his readiness to participate in such a conference.

Dr. Stresemann called on the French Foreign Minister at the Hotel Ritz today to discuss the Allied military evacuation of the Rhineland in accordance with the Allies' pledge to Germany last September in the Geneva League of Nations assembly that the evacuation would occur if and when the question of reparations had been finally settled.

With the Young commission report now signed by the representatives of the Allies and the Reich, Dr. Stresemann inquired of M. Briand whether the French, British and Belgians were prepared tto withdraw their 55,000 troops from the Rhine bridgehead by September 1, the date which the financial experts proposed for utting into effect the new plan.

M. Briand told the German Foreign Minister that it was impossible for them alone to discuss the military retirement question, since it affects equally the London and Brussels government and that in the absence of a qualified delegate representing the new British Labor government, he did not feel competent to go into the matter at this time.

M. Briand proposed, however, a conference of the delegates of all the powers interested, together with an invitation to the United States to send a representative at the earliest possible date to discuss the problem connected with, as well as the various phases of, the abandonment of the Dawes plan and the substitution of the new Young plan.

Dr. Stresemann fully acquiesces in the Briand suggestion and it was decided to fix the date and place of the conference through a diplomatic exchange of views during the coming week.

Members of the Council of the League of Nations met in secret session as a committee today and examined the draft report and resolution on the subject of minorities, concerning which differences have been expressed by various statesmen. The committee finally agreed to submit the report and resolution to a plenary public meeting of the Council. It was indicated today that Dr. Stresemann might seek to have the matter postponed until September.

OLD KLAN MYSTERY SOLVED

Son of Kentucky Land Owner Believed Murdered by Hooded Band Reveals Father's Flight

LEXINGTON (Ky.) June 11. (Exclusive)—A mystery of more than twenty-five years' standing has been solved here.

More than a quarter of a century ago Gabe Ritchie, land owner, who lived near Hindman, Knott county, southeast of here, led a fight against the original Ku Klux Klan. His activity led to the indictment by the Knott county grand jury of some members of the Klan. As time for the trial approached there were whispered threats against him.

Then one day Ritchie disappeared. It was believed that he had been murdered and his body burned to conceal the crime.

Then, like a page torn from a story-book romance, a young man, a stranger, appeared here last week. He said he was the son of Gabe Ritchie. He said that his father died recently in the mountains of West Virginia, where he lived for years without telling of his past life in Kentucky. A few days before he died he told his story.

The citizens of the county scoffed at the young man's yarn. Everybody "knew that Gabe Ritchie was dead," murdered by his enemies and his body burned or carefully hidden. But the young man was insistent and a committee got together, wrote a letter to the boy's mother and asked her for a description of Gabe Ritchie. A letter was received today from the woman in West Virginia in which she painted a minute word picture of her late husband.

DYING SUSPECT FIGHTS TO LIVE

Accused Torch Killer Takes Stand in Defense

Natural Death Preferred to State Execution

Story of How Campbell Met Second Wife Told

ELIZABETH (N. J.) June 11. (Exclusive)—So precious is life that aged Henry Colin Campbell, accused as the torch killer of his bigamous wife, Mrs. Mildred Mowery, and so disease-ridden that death is not far distant, tottered to the witness chair in Union county Supreme Court today to tell a story he hopes will save him the ignominy of a State execution and permit him to die a natural death.

The jury had been told by his attorney, Francis A. Gordon, that the financial ruin which overtook him two years ago so broke him in mental and physical health that he resorted to drugs; and that the constant use of these drugs unfitted him for the perpetration of a deliberate, premeditated crime.

A procession of medical men testified that the appalling list of diseases which his system is harboring includes a marked disturbance in the soft structure of the brain.

APPLICATIONS EXHIBITED

Prosecutor Abe J. David produced two papers, both applications filled out, signed and sent by Campbell to matrimonial agencies operating under the guise of "friendship" societies, who for a small fee bring together through correspondence lonely men and women seeking mates.

It was through one of these agencies that Mrs. Mowery's name was sent to Campbell and his to her, planting the "friendship" seed that grew into a bigamous marriage and led the 50-year-old widow of Greenville, Pa., to her destruction at Campbell's hand, the State contends.

Campbell on each application declared his health was of the best, although at the time so stated he was, by his own admission today, a "physical wreck."

He gave a fictitious name—Richard M. Campbell—and a postoffice box number in Laurel, Del., to both the American Friendship Society, of Detroit, on January 2, 1928, and later to the Sincere Friendship Club of Medina, N. Y., to both of which he described himself as free to marry and asked to be put in touch with a maiden lady of some means or a widow without dependent children.

HAZY ON DETAILS

Campbell told the court he aimed by these applications merely to get in touch with women of means so that he could interest them in helping him "engage in business again and make a living." He said he then had no thought of bigamously marrying anyone. He was hazy on pertinent points in connection with his asserted shooting of Mrs. Mowery and dumping her body on a roadside snow bank, pouring gasoline over it and setting it afire.

Mrs. Rosalie MacReady Close, his legal wife, twenty years his junior, whom he married fifteen years ago and who bore him three children, preceded him on the stand and described their life together as "very happy" adding "nothing could have been finer than his treatment of me and the children."

The case will likely go to the jury tomorrow night, without the calling of alienists.

Doctor Holds Sweets May Not Be Fattening

SACRAMENTO, June 11. (Exclusive)—Cigarettes do not necessarily make you thin; neither do sweets necessarily make you fat. This was the statement of Dr. L. C. Chandler in addressing the California Osteopathic Association here today.

"It's largely a matter of constitution," said the doctor. "It is sometimes necessary to prescribe candy as a reducing diet."

He said that missing meals is not the proper way to reduce, but it should be accomplished by rigid control of what is eaten."

Governor Signs San Francisco-San Mateo Act

SACRAMENTO, June 11. (Exclusive)—An enabling act, granting authority to the city and county of San Francisco to annex territory in San Mateo county, was signed today by Gov. Young.

The act, introduced by Assemblyman Ray Williamson of San Francisco, grants general legal ability to San Francisco to take in any part or all of San Mateo county. This bill was strongly supported by the San Francisco delegation as a possible future necessity for expansion of the city.

Senators Will Arrest Witness

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—The Senate Campaign Funds Committee decided today to arrest Thomas W. Cunningham, former Sheriff of Philadelphia; and take him before the bar of the Senate for questioning in connection with the investigation of the Vare election case in Pennsylvania.

The committee also decided to insist that the government ask for a rehearing in the court proceedings against Cunningham growing out of his refusal to answer questions.

FRESNO ASKS GAS RATE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11. (AP)—The Pacific Gas and Electric Company today asked the State Railroad Commission to fix rates for natural gas in Fresno and for a permit to build gas transmission lines in Kings county. The company plans to distribute natural gas in the Southern San Joaquin Valley.

BOOTLEG QUEEN MERELY MYTH

Women Playing Only Minor Roles in Liquor Game, Records Show

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP)—Prohibition officials have decided that the "bootleg queen" is a myth.

Only thirty-five women have been sentenced to Federal institutions for bootlegging since January 1, a check by them showed today, indicating, they said, that as bootleggers women were good stool pigeons.

"Women are the bootleg helpers," officials said. "They play their minor part, answer telephones, keep accounts and occasionally act as blinds, but none has been convicted for taking cargoes to sea, leading bootleg rings or engaging in 'big time' rum running on their own."

COURT ACTS TO UNRAVEL MARRYINGS

Rehearing Granted Indian Heiress When Law Gives Her Two Husbands

PHOENIX, June 11. (AP)—Unraveling of Maude Lee Mudd's marital difficulties loomed as a possibility today when the Arizona Supreme Court granted the Oklahoma Indian heiress a retrial of annulment proceedings against Earl E. Gordon, who contends he still is her legal husband.

A decision of the Supreme Court on February 25 left the Indian girl in the position of being married to two men. In the February ruling the High court reserved the judgment of the Pinal County Superior Court in granting annulment of the marriage with Gordon.

By this action the heiress was declared a technical bigamist in that three days after the annulment was granted, May 8, 1926, she married Joe C. Wilson.

Gordon filed an appeal from the annulment, asserting that he and the girl were married in Council Bluffs, Iowa, June 8, 1925.

The State Supreme Court in ruling on this petition held that the lower court lacked jurisdiction in the case in that the girl had failed to establish a legal residence in the State and that the trial court should have dismissed the case.

The Mudd girl then filed a petition for a rehearing and it was on this action that today's ruling was made.

CABINET OF MacDONALD COMPLETED

Junior List of Ministers Includes Labor Leader and One Woman

LONDON, June 11. (AP)—The junior ministers of the MacDonald government were announced late today, the list including Ben Turner, miners' leader; Arthur Ponsonby and Miss Susan Lawrence. The list comprises:

Ministry of Transport: Parliamentary Secretary, Lord Russell.

Salinas Woman Beaten by Trio

SALINAS, June 11. (AP)—Beaten unconscious by three unidentified men who were callers at her home here last night, Miss Bonnie Victor, 28 years of age, suffered a fractured skull and is in a critical condition at a hospital today.

Neighbors, disturbed by the noise of a struggle, called police, who found Miss Victor lying on the front porch of her home. Furniture overturned in the living-room and other signs of disorder indicated the woman fought to escape her attackers.

DEATH MYSTERY CLEARED

SALINAS, June 11. (AP)—The mysterious disappearance from her home here last March of Mrs. Clara Moreau, 42 years of age, was cleared up today, when her body was found in her automobile in a garage today, apparently a suicide. The discovery was made by a janitor who was cleaning the garage, which had been closed for three months.

INDUSTRY SEEN AS JAPAN HOPE

Nipponese Statesman Lists Needs of Islands

Emigration Will Not Solve Problem, He Says

Trade With China Declared Vital to People

(Barnet Nover, special correspondent of the Buffalo News, gives, in a series of four interviews with leaders of Japanese political and economic thought, the Japanese attitude on such important questions as disarmament, emigration and Japan's foreign policy. This is the first of the series.)

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

TOKIO, June 11. (Exclusive)—"Not emigration but industrialization will take care of our population problem," said Junnosuke Inouye, regarded as one of Japan's foremost thinkers in the field of economics and finance, when I asked what, in his opinion, was the solution to Japan's most important national problem.

Mr. Inouye, who was at one time Minister of Finance and recently governor of the Bank of Japan—an institution which plays the same role in Japan that the Bank of England does in Great Britain and the Federal Reserve Board does in the United States—was recently named chairman of the Pan-Pacific conference which is to meet this fall in Kyoto. He replaced Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior.

THEIR ONLY HOPE

"How else," Mr. Inouye continued, "could we take care of a population which grows at the rate of 700,000 to 800,000 a year.

"There is no country or colony in the world which could take care of such a vast number. There are not ships enough sailing on the Pacific to transport this mass. Our only hope lies in industrialization."

"I have sometimes been dubbed a pessimist with regard to national finance. But I am an optimist on the subject of the economic future of Japan.

"In these last years the industrial and the economic situation of Japan has touched bottom. There is now nothing for us to do but rise. During these years the net annual trade deficit—taking into account both visible and the invisible items—was around 200,000,000 yen. That is not a very large deficit to overcome. We could do it by increasing our exports in but one field—that of textiles. And such an increase could easily be brought about alone by an increase in the Chinese demand for Japanese cotton goods.

QUICK SERVICE

"Because of its nearness to China, Japan is in a peculiarly favorable position to do business with her. For example, if an agent of Lancashire spinners sends an order home he must wait almost six weeks before that order is filled. His Japanese competitor can get delivery in from two to three weeks."

Mr. Inouye is hopeful that the recent settlement made by the Nanking and Tokio governments of the Tsinan and other difficulties will lead to a lessening of the embargo on Japanese goods in those parts of China where it had been in force. He characterized the "big-stick" policy of the Tanaka government as a failure and said that the withdrawal of Japanese troops from Shantung was not a mere tactical move but a reflection of a basic policy which all Japanese governments must pursue. There must be no interference in any way, he said, in the internal affairs of China.

When asked how it was possible for Japan to go ahead with any extensive program of industrialization since it was deficient in coal and iron and other necessary resources, Mr. Inouye replied that this lack is not as serious as had been pictured.

"For one thing," he said, "Japan's production of good iron ore is increasing. In both Manchuria and Lower Saghalin there is good coking coal which can be brought to Japanese foundries easily and cheaply. In Manchuria itself, a great program of industrialization is possible.

WILL NOT INTERFERE

"This does not mean," he added, "any desire to interfere with the political position of Manchuria. It has always seemed to me to have been a great mistake to try in any way to prevent Manchuria from joining the Nationalist regime if its leaders wanted it to. But China's political interests in Manchuria and our economic interests there are not in fundamental opposition. I know there is a great deal of talk by the Chinese of building railroads to compete with the South Manchuria line. But if this might injure our economic interests along certain lines, it would benefit us along others.

"To return to the problem of population. I don't think we need worry for some time yet. In the future it may become pressing. At the present time it seems quite capable of solution. Japan has not merely the need, but also the capacity for further industrialization and the obstacles which stand in the way can, in my opinion, be overcome."

Refuel Failure Ends Record Bid

MILLS FIELD, SAN FRANCISCO, June 11. (AP)—The monoplane San Franciscan, which took off at 11:26 a.m. today in an attempt to break the refueling endurance flight record, landed three hours and sixteen minutes later at 2:42 p.m.

An unbalanced tail assembly, which made refueling impossible, caused the flyers to land.

The trouble was discovered during the first refueling attempt, the flyers said, when Abbot, who was at the controls, could not bring the nose of the plane up under the lower wing of the refueling ship.

"ASK FOR TITLE INSURANCE"

TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY

CALIFORNIA'S LARGEST TITLE INSURANCE COMPANY

Why You Need Title Insurance

PRUDENT MEN do not assume unnecessary risks.

[illegible] methods of insurance take the risk from the individual and place it on the broad shoulders of a great corporation. Thus, men protect themselves against the risk of fire, the risk of accident, the risk of theft, and even, the risk of termination of life.

Perhaps there never has been a serious fire in your home or in that of any of your friends, but you and every other wise man insure against it, and if fire comes—the loss is borne by a company organized to meet such losses.

The same sound reasoning lies back of the modern acceptance of Title Insurance.

You may never have known any one who lost property through a defective title, but it is a risk that comes with every purchase of real estate and prudent men insist that their ownership be protected by Title Insurance;—for while fire may involve a loss of a building—a title declared invalid results not only in the loss of the building—but of the very land on which it stands.

How Your Ownership is Protected

YOUR policy of Title Insurance protects you against the following risks:—

THE RISK that a deed or, in fact any document which affects your title may have been forged.

THE RISK of what is called "false personation," which means that the wrong "John Smith" may have signed an essential document.

THE RISK that the Company's opinion of your title is erroneous. Your Title Insurance is based on the opinion of the Company's examiners. This opinion may be tested in the courts; if so, the Company defends the suit, and if the court declares the title invalid, the Company pays the loss up to the amount named in the policy.

THE RISK that errors have been made in searching your title. Human beings make mistakes and title searching is a highly technical and difficult task. If a mistake made by the Company results in loss—the Company pays.

No where in the world can real estate be purchased more conveniently—more safely—more easily than in Los Angeles County. No where are real estate loans better protected against the risk of defective titles.

And this condition of safety is due to the highly developed business of Title Insurance, and to the modern Escrow system, both of which were first brought to Southern California by this Company.

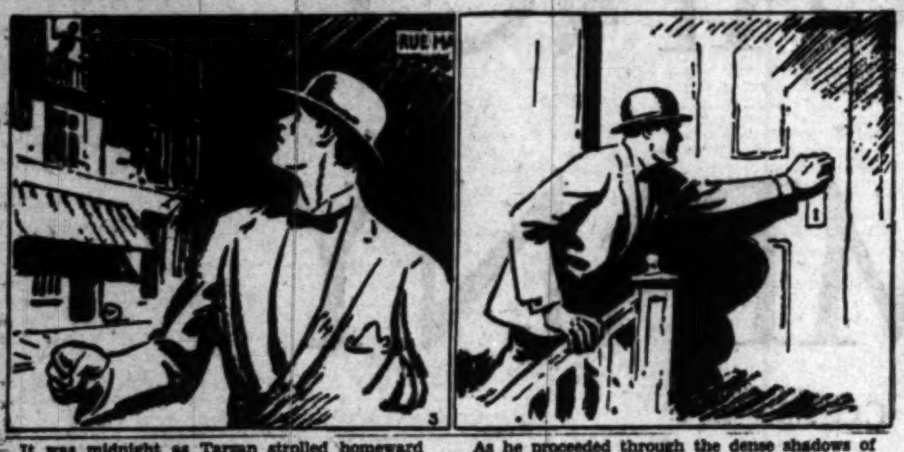
THE RETURN OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



It was midnight as Tarzan strolled homeward by way of the narrow, forbidding precincts of the Rue Maule. Because it was very quiet and very dark, it reminded him of his beloved African jungle. But the police would tell you that in all Paris there is no street you should give a wider berth after dark.

As he proceeded through the dense shadows of the squalid tenements lining the dismal way, Tarzan was attracted by screams, then cries for help. The voice was a woman's. It came from the third floor opposite. Before the echo had died, Tarzan was bounding up the stairs to her rescue.

Behind a door Tarzan heard again the same appeal that had lured him from the street. Another instant found him in the center of a dimly lighted room. A dirty oil lamp cast its dull rays over a dozen repulsive figures. All but one were men, the other, a woman, crouched against a wall.

"Help, monsieur," she cried in a low voice to Tarzan, "they are killing me." He saw the crafty, evil faces of habitual criminals, and beheld with amazement two other things. One was a man sneaking stealthily from the room. It was Rokoff, his sworn enemy. The other thing was of more immediate interest.

PASSING OF OIL DIVIDEND EXPLAINED

Head of Pan-American Seeks to Pay Off Debt and Create Reserve

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Robert G. Stewart, president of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company, told the stockholders at the annual meeting today that the company was earning enough profit to pay a dividend, but that no payments were being made in order that the company might be put in a strong position to meet competition.

By July 1, he said, the company would be out of debt to the banks and would have sufficient money to carry on its business. Operating companies in Mexico, he asserted, were confident that the situation there would be settled favorably. Present potential production from Mexican wells is about 85,000 barrels daily.

Through its subsidiary, the Southern Crude Oil Purchasing Company, Pan-American has a production of about 42,000 barrels a day in Winkler county, Texas, where it holds large undeveloped reserves.

Mr. Stewart said the company had withdrawn its offer for the minority stock of the Mexican Petroleum Company pending more favorable market conditions.

He said the management expects soon to take up with the government the question of recovering about $10,000,000 expended on the Pearl Harbor (Hawaii) fuel oil tankage construction.

Kansas Wheat Estimate Cut

TOPEKA (Kan.) June 11. (AP)—A Kansas winter wheat crop of 160,-660,000 bushels, 17,000,000 bushels short of last year's record production, was forecast today by the State Board of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture from the June 1 condition, which was rated at 78 per cent of normal.

On the basis of the forecast the average yield from the State's 11,-443,000 acres of winter wheat remaining for Harvest on May 1 would be fourteen bushels to the acre, compared to an average of seventeen bushels to the acre from 10,433,000 acres last year.

EXPRESS REVENUES TOLD

NEW YORK, June 11. (Exclusive) Railway Express Agency, Inc., today reported that March gross revenues amounted to $24,982,108, leaving $12,-306,128 after charges to be paid, to the rail carriers as revenue for transporting express traffic.

IMPERIAL VALLEY BILL PAID

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Echoes of a twenty-four-year-old fight between the Colorado River in flood time and the Southern Pacific Company were heard in the United States Court of Claims the other day when the railroad was awarded reparations of $1,012,665 for preserving the Imperial Valley and its own property from complete annihilation by the Colorado flood of 1905-06.

As other railroads have done in great emergencies, the Southern Pacific threw its forces of men, equipment and money against the attack of the Colorado, and was victorious after a struggle of several months and the expenditure of $3,-100,000 of its own money. The Southern Pacific took command of the situation at the instance of President Roosevelt, but the government never honored the railroad's claim, despite the recommendation of Roosevelt to Congress, until the decision of the Court of Claims on the first of this week.

ARMY RECRUITED

On the day after the San Francisco earthquake the Southern Pacific took charge of the defensive operations after the railroad had previously loaned $200,000 to Imperial Valley interests trying to control the river. Under the direction of Epes Randolph, pioneer railroad builder, the Southern Pacific gathered an army of Mexican laborers and 2000 Indians from six tribes and massed its entire road-building resources against the onslaught of the raging river.

Contemporary accounts relate a dramatic struggle between the forces of the Colorado and the determined defense of the railroad's army of workers. When the railroad took command the crevasse was a quarter-mile in width, and the Colorado was pouring more than 4,000,000,-000 cubic feet of water every twenty-four hours into the floor of the Imperial Valley 400 feet below the bed of the river.

The summer freshet swept along shortly afterward, widened the break to one-half mile, drove the railroad army into a hurried retreat and sent the farmers of the valley scurrying into the mountains for safety. At its height the Colorado was discharging 6,000,000,000 cubic feet of water every twenty-four hours, a flood that inundated thousands of acres of Imperial farm lands and completely covered the main line of the Southern Pacific.

WORKERS REPULSED

Returning to the attack the railroad added 1000 men and 700 horses and mules and attempted to build a huge levee half a mile long across the intake of the canal and the crevasse. But the Colorado promptly maneuvered its flood waters lower down and again broke into the valley with its entire flow.

After this repulse, the Southern Pacific, through its president, E. H. Harriman, placed before President Roosevelt a plan to build a twenty-mile rampart along the west bank of the river. The discussions, according to accounts of the time, ended by the Southern Pacific agreeing to undertake the work and trusting to the government for reimbursement. This time, after hundreds of trainloads of rock and gravel were dumped into the crevasse, the river was slowly beaten back into its own channel, and by February, 1907, the Colorado was again flowing directly to the Gulf of California.

By throwing its resources into the saving of the Imperial Valley from a return to the Salton Sea of ages ago, the Southern Pacific preserved thousands of acres of rich agricultural land that are now contributing millions of dollars annually to the wealth of the nation. In this development the Southern Pacific has shared as the chief transportation agency for the valley's products.

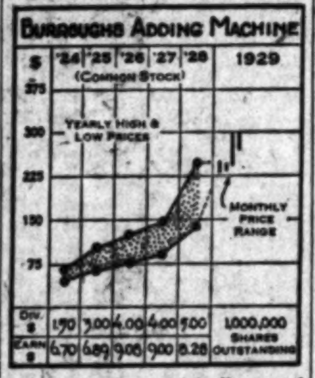
MONOLITH COMMON PAYMENTS CHANGED

Common dividends on stock of the Monolith Portland Cement Company will be paid semiannually instead of annually, the directors of the company announced following the recent declaration of a semiannual disbursement of 40 cents on the common and the same on the preferred stock. No change was made in the annual rate. Both dividends are payable July 1, next, to stock of record the 14th inst.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK

BURROUGHS ADDING MACHINE COMPANY

The Burroughs Adding Machine Company is conducting a business with more than a forty-year record. It is one of the foremost manufacturers of adding, billing, book-keeping and calculating machines and accessories. Through acquisitions of other manufacturing units the company has added many patents to those originally owned or later developed, and at present owns about 450 United States and foreign patents in force.



Earnings have been consistently upward during the last six years. In 1928 net income showed a satisfactory gain, reaching a total of $8,275,264. This compared with net of $7,200,939 in the year before. With the strong financial position that is maintained, net working capital being about $29,091,000, the company appears in a position to expand largely without financing.

CAPITALIZATION

Funded debt	None
Preferred stock	None
Common stock (no par)	1,000,000 shares

Current data: Under date of May 20, 1929, the New York Curb Market admitted to listing approximately 4,000,000 additional shares of the company's new capital stock, no par, when, as and if issued.

Burroughs Due to Split Stock

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Directors of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company today voted to split the stock on a 5-for-1 basis, following the authorization by the stockholders to increase the capital stock from 1,000,000 to 5,000,000 shares.

An initial quarterly dividend of 20 cents on the new stock was declared, placing it on an 80-cent annual basis. This is equal to $4 on the old stock, which paid $3 and extras of $1.

BANK EARNINGS UP

Seaboard Stockholders Told May Profits Largest Ever

In announcing a dividend of 1½ per cent payable the 29th inst., to the stockholders of the Seaboard National Bank of record the 20th inst., H. C. Nicholson, executive vice-president of the bank yesterday declared the earnings for the month of May to be greater than in any other month in the history of the institution.

"The earnings of the Seaboard National for the second quarter of 1929 will more than double the earnings for the same period in 1928," Mr. Nicholson said. "The earnings for May were greater than any other month since the institution opened its doors. If the present rate is maintained throughout the year the Seaboard will show an earning power of approximately 8 per cent on its present capital of $2,000,000."

BANK STOCKS TO GO EX-DIVIDEND TODAY

In pursuance of plans for the consolidation of the Pacific National Bank and of the National Bank of Commerce, the stock of the two institutions will go ex-dividend and ex-rights at the close of business today. The directors of the National Bank of Commerce have also authorized a cash distribution of $3 per share, payable on July 1, to stockholders of record today.

TIME EXTENDED FOR RAIL HOLDINGS SALE

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today granted an extension of thirty days to the Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central and New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroads to dispose of their stock in the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad.

MUSIC HOUSE ACQUIRED

LONDON, June 11. (Exclusive)—Acquisition of the controlling interest in Chappell & Co., an old established house of music publishers, by the Columbia Graphophone Co., Ltd., was announced here today.

BANK CONCLAVE STAGE SET

Thirty-fifth Annual Convention of California State Association Opens Today in Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, June 11. (AP)—The thirty-fifth annual convention of the California Bankers' Association opens in Sacramento tomorrow with approximately 650 delegates in attendance. It is to be convened until Saturday afternoon.

Many subjects will be discussed during the conclave and chief among them will be the State's new bank tax law enacted at the recent session of Legislature and the tax-exempt security phase of which was invalidated by a decision handed down by the United States Supreme Court. Vincent K. Butler, San Francisco attorney-banker, is to speak on the tax Thursday afternoon.

"Commercial and Financial Relations Between California and the Orient" will be the topic of a symposium Thursday by T. Yamamoto, manager of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Steamship Company of San Francisco, Dr. Ng Poon Chew, San Francisco Chinese editor, and Chester H. Rowell, prominent Bay district writer.

The trust company section meets tomorrow with W. J. Kieferdorf of San Francisco, presiding.

The first general convention session opens Thursday afternoon when the delegates are formally welcomed to the capital by Alden Anderson, Sacramento banker.

During Friday's session Will F. Morrish, president of the association, is to address the convention on "The Business Outlook for the Remainder of 1929."

ELLIOTT TO SPEAK

Other speakers on the convention program include James Bacigalupi, George A. Van Smith and C. B. Hutchings of San Francisco; Lane D. Webber, San Diego; Edward Elliott and H. D. Ivey of Los Angeles.

The bankers' closing session will be held Saturday afternoon at the State Agricultural College at Davis. The program arranged by Dean Howard of the college includes an exhibition of live stock, field demonstrations of various experiments being carried on by students and an illustrated lecture.

The bankers are to play, too. Dinners, a golf tournament, luncheons and social gatherings for women visitors and the grand ball in the Assembly chamber of the State Capitol Friday night are a few of the attractions to entertain.

The grand ball is somewhat of a novel arrangement. Few such activities are held in the Capitol Building. The Assembly chamber has been cleared of its eighty desks, a canvas has been spread over the green carpet, a musicians' platform erected in front of the speaker's rostrum. Decorations are blue and gold bunting.

NET INCOME OF HANCOCK OIL MOUNTS

May Operating Report Shows Gain of $110,604 Over 1928 Month

Hancock Oil Company yesterday reported for the month of May net profits before reserve charges, of $202,220.08, as compared with $91,-615.11, for the same month in 1928, an increase of $110,604.97, or 120 per cent. Sales totaled $845,580.07, as against $384,238.56 for the same month a year ago, an increase of $461,341.51, Will J. Reid, president, stated.

After reserves for depreciation, depletion, intangible drilling expenses of $55,442.40, the company earned $146,777.68 net for the month, equal after preferred dividends, to $2.02 a share on the combined 72,000 A and B shares outstanding, or $3.04 a share on 48,000 A shares on which the annual dividend requirement is $2 a share.

For the first quarter of 1929, the company reported net earnings of $191,847, after all charges, except Federal tax and reserve for intangible drilling costs, as compared with approximately $76,000 for the first three months of 1928.

The company last month authorized the issuance of rights to holders of Class A and B stock to purchase one new share of Class A stock at $28.50 a share for each nine shares held. The A stock which has been one of the active performers on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange closed yesterday at 45 3-4.

Oil Company to Redeem Senior Security Issue

NEW YORK, June 11. (Exclusive) A special meeting of the stockholders of the Transcontinental Oil Company has been called by the directors of the company to vote on the retirement of the preferred stock and paying off accumulated dividends on the issue. The meeting will be held at Tulsa on July 12, next.

Holders of the 157,500 shares of 7 per cent preferred stock, $100 par, on which $36 a share dividends have accumulated, will have the option of receiving $136 a share cash for their stock, including accruals, or $90 a share and five shares of common stock. Holders must exercise their option by August 19, next. Stockholders will be asked to vote on an increase in authorized common stock to 7,000,-000 shares from 4,000,000.

The proposed plan would make outstanding capitalization $12,000,000 of first mortgage 6 1-2 per cent bonds, due 1938; $1,076,000 tank-car and purchase money obligations and 6,425,548 shares of no par common. As of the 1st inst. this year, 239,130 shares of unissued or treasury common stock were reserved for issuance under warrants.

On completion of the plan, Amos L. Beaty, formerly chairman of the Texas Corporation, will become chairman.

Investment Trust Rate Boost Due

Directors of Continental Investment Company, an investment trust, at a meeting yesterday declared their intention of increasing the annual dividend on the company's common stock from 15 to 30 cents a share beginning with the dividend of October 1, it was announced yesterday. At the same time, the regular quarterly dividend, based on the annual rate of 15 cents a share, was declared, payable July 1 to stockholders of record the 20th inst.

It was also announced that subject to the approval of the Corporation Commissioner common stockholders of the company of record July 10, next, will be offered rights to purchase two additional shares of common at $4 a share for each three shares now held.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Some selling on a favorable view of the weather and relatively easy cables was absorbed on very slight declines at the opening of the cotton market today. Prices were steady later on covering by near month shorts and a little trade or commission house buying in expectation of a bullish report on boll weevil emergency next Friday.

Trading was quiet, with the midafternoon market ruling about 1 to 4 points higher.

NATIONAL CITY RIVAL SEEN

Chase Merger With Guaranty Trust Would Create Bank Close on Heels of Leader

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, June 11.—If the Chase National Bank absorbs the National Park Bank of New York its resources will be on a parity with those of the Guaranty Trust Company, which recently absorbed the National Bank of Commerce.

When the deal is completed, and there is every reason to believe it will be, the Chase will have resources of $1,600,000,000, with capital funds of about $200,000,000, and deposits of $1,200,000,000. Big figures, these!

But the Guaranty announced last week its plan for increasing the capital funds to $260,000,000. When this is completed, the Guaranty will rank as the largest in the country, from the standpoint of capital.

So this new proposed merger will place the Chase just a step behind the National City, still rated as the nation's largest financial institution, for its resources exceed $2,000,000,000.

The Chase-Park bank merger will make the tenth major bank consolidation in New York this year—the preceding one announced, to be formally completed July 1, next, is the merger of the Equitable Trust Company-Seaboard National Bank. Its present resources are $860,000,-000.

The Chase National has been linked in merger rumors with other banks in recent weeks. The Irving Trust Company is one. The Bank of America is another. Should either of these take place, the Chase would become America's first bank in size.

The friendly, yet vigorous rivalry for first place has centered the nation's business eyes on John McHugh, former Iowa banker, chairman of the Chase National, and Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City, who began his business career in Chicago.

Think of giving away $144,189,000 in fifteen years! That is what the Rockefeller Foundation, since May 22, 1913, has given away of its income and principal, says Dr. George E. Vincent, its dynamic president.

As in the past, the work for 1928 has divided itself into three classes. First, promoting the development of medical knowledge by aiding schools of medicine, nursing and hygiene in many parts of the world; second, public health activities, helping governments fight certain diseases and strengthen their local health services; third, endowing outstanding men and women to enable them to carry on additional studies, chiefly in countries outside their work. Eight hundred scholarships of this character were given out during 1928.

Up to the end of last year fellowships had been granted to 3187 men and women of fifty-eight different countries. Of this number, 1383 pursued their studies in countries other than their own. A real contribution to internationalism!

Just one fact to show the international character of this institution. During the year 1928 the Foundation gave out nearly $2,000,000 a month. Twelve million of this was given outright as an endowment fund for the new China medical board in Peking.

And John D. Rockefeller, Sr., nearly 90, lives in the lengthening shadows, working for an 85 in golf, just as hard as he ever did for his millions.

Owen D. Young is basically a business philosopher. Read any statement that he writes, or better yet, hear him make an address, and one cannot but feel that here is a man who is constantly crystallizing, in his own mind, many of the unsurveyed fields of business.

Witness his statement just before leaving for the reparations conference in Paris, that the "fixing of the bank rate is a moral question." How many business men ever thought of the bank rate in that light?

The new Bank of International Settlements, proposed by the reparations experts, largely the creation of Owen D. Young, will prob-

Utilities Lead Rally After Opening Setback

Other Groups Show Loss at Close of Market

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—The stock market appeared to have fallen into a period of stagnation today comparable to those which followed the breaks of March, 1926, and June, 1928. Trading drifted along at the slowest pace experienced on the exchange since last August—the day's turnover exceeding 2,000,000 shares by a narrow margin—and prices fluctuated uncertainly as professional traders contested rather feebly for control.

A bear drive during the morning depressed a wide assortment of issues about 2 to 4 points, but shorts were driven to cover before the close by a brisk upturn in the utilities, which carried the Associated Press price index of twenty leading utility stocks up about 2 points to another record level.

MONEY HIGHER

Call money held at 8 per cent, the figure reached yesterday, and bankers predicted that it would hold around that level for a few days. Time money however, was a fraction higher at 8⅛ per cent for maturities up to ninety days, reflecting the prospect of rather stringent money conditions the last half of the month.

The Federal Reserve condition statement of weekly reporting member banks showed a gain of $85,000,000 in loans on securities, a rather disappointing showing after the recent declines in brokers' loans.

The day's news included a slight increase in crude oil production for last week, greater output in California offsetting declines elsewhere. Steel mills were said to be operating at a slightly higher rate than

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Better demand for numerous railroad issues bought for large investment accounts steadied the bond market today. The turnover was substantially larger than yesterday's when a new low sales volume for the year was established.

Convertibles moved narrowly and lower on the unsettled position of the stocks. Activity in this group was confined chiefly to American Telephone 4½s, American I. G. Chemical 4½s and Southern Pacific 4½s with warrants, all of which receded fractionally.

The most active rail bonds worked generally higher, the best gains appearing in Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio 5s, Chicago & Northwestern 4½s, 5s, and Pennsylvania 4s. Such speculative rails as St. Paul adjustment 5s, Seaboard adjustment 5s, and Seaboard 6s were soft, the last named selling off 1 point to a new low at 70. Certificates of deposit of the Seaboard adjustment 5s, making their first appearance on the list, changed hands at around 43, but attracted almost no attention.

Oil company obligations found a wider market, holding generally firm. Industrials, somewhat better supported than on Monday, were steady, while the utilities did little in thin trading.

Foreign sugars presented a conspicuous weak spot. New lows were made in this group by Cuba Dominican 7½s, Vertientes 7s, and Sugar Estates of Oriente.

United States government bonds showed extreme apathy and with the exception of the Liberty 3½s volume of sales faded into insignificance. Prices of the few Liberty and Treasury issues that were traded barely moved from yesterday's close.

Announcement was made today of an additional issue of Central Power and Light first mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds, 1956 series, to be marketed soon at $6,300,000 par value. The offering price was not revealed.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

6½% Convertible Gold Debentures	$400,000	$400,000
Common Stock, no par value	25,000 shs.	8,572 shs.

(4,706 shares of Common Stock have been reserved for Conversion of the Debentures)

Mr. Thomas R. Edwards, President of the Edwards Dental Supply Company, has summarized his letter to us concerning these debentures as follows:—

History and Business: "Edwards Dental Supply Company has been organized in Delaware and will acquire the entire common stock except Directors' qualifying shares of The Jas. W. Edwards Co., a California corporation. The Edwards Dental Supply Company succeeds to a business established in 1882, which dominates the dental supply field in Northern California and Nevada.

"The principal place of business of the Company is situated in San Francisco. Branch supply depots are maintained in Oakland, Sacramento, San Jose and Fresno. All offices are located where they will be accessible to the greatest number of practising dentists. A substantial and increasing volume of business comes from South America, the Pacific Islands and the Orient.

"The Company buys materials, supplies and apparatus used in dentistry from the manufacturer and sells directly to members of the dental profession. Over 20,000 different items, are carried in stock, and $30,000 to $50,000 of gold, which is carried in several different forms.

"As a result of its excellent record with the trade for being able to meet every requirement of the dentist, the Edwards Company has an established clientele of over 2500 dentists, including practically every dentist in Northern California.

Earnings: "The net sales and the net profits for the four years 1925 to 1928, inclusive, after all charges including depreciation and Federal Taxes at 12% as certified by Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery have been as follows:

Net Profits before Debenture Interest and Federal Taxes	93,733.73	92,875.48	110,386.55	143,543.13
Time Debenture Interest Earned	3.60	3.57	4.24	5.52
Net Profits after Interest and Federal Taxes at 12%	59,571.78	58,814.19	74,211.75	103,396.67
Net Profits Per Share of Common Stock	6.95	6.86	8.66	12.06

"Average earnings for the four year period have been 4.23 times debenture interest and $8.63 per share of Common Stock. Net Sales for the first four months of 1929 were $345,701 compared to $312,037 in the corresponding portion of 1928, an increase of 10.79%.

Assets: "The net tangible assets of Edwards Dental Supply Company as of December 31, 1928, available for the Debentures after giving effect to this financing, as certified by Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, are $802,013.64 or $2,005 per $1,000 Debenture.

"Current assets are $834,863.11 against Current Liabilities of $62,785.81, a ratio of 13.29 to 1. Net current assets are $772,077.30 or $1930. per $1,000 Debenture. The Company has no bank loans.

Sinking Fund: "There will be a sinking fund of 50% of each calendar year's net earnings (as defined in the Trust Indenture) after deducting an amount equal to $5.00 per share on the average amount of common stock outstanding during the year. Based upon the average earnings of the four years 1925-28, it is estimated that the sinking fund would retire 44% of the Debentures by maturity. Based upon 1928 earnings alone it is estimated that the sinking fund would retire 86% of the debentures by maturity.

Management: "The Edwards Dental Supply Company will be under the active direction of Thomas R. Edwards, Sr., who has been the operating head of the business for over twenty-five years. The personnel, which includes efficient and competent branch managers and a thoroughly experienced sales organization with the requisite technical knowledge, remains unchanged."

We offer these Debentures, when as and if issued and received by us, subject to the legal approval of Messrs. Heller, Ehrman, White & McAuliffe.

PRICE: 96½ and Accrued Interest, to Yield about 7.00%

We also offer a limited amount of Common Stock at $69.00 per Share to Yield 7.25%

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Oil Shares Affected by Santa Fe Springs Fire; Rio Grande Recovers Slightly

Aside from the recovery of 1⅞ points in Rio Grande, the oil list reflected uneasiness in the trading yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange over the fire at Santa Fe Springs. Most of the stocks of the companies operating in that field receded fractionally on the fear that the conflagration might break out of control, although the latest reports indicate that the damage has been confined so far to a small area and the fire is under control.

While there was no statement from the Rio Grande company during the day, it was reported in the East in one dispatch that the Brush holdings in Rio Grande had not been liquidated, while another report said that liquidation had not been completed. Despite indefinite statements the stock recovered to a high of 30 3-8 and closed up 1 7-8 net at 29 3-8.

Union Oil of California, one of the companies with substantial holdings at Santa Fe Springs, closed unchanged at 47 3-4, although the companion stock, Union Oil Associates, slipped off 3-4 to 47 1-4. Standard of California lost ½ to 75 3-4, and Richfield dropped the same amount to 42. Bolsa Chica "A" declined 10 cents to 2.25 and Occidental Petroleum slumped 15 cents to 3.75.

Among the industrial securities, Byron Jackson Pump annexed 1-4 point on a final price of 35 1-4, and Republic Supply was steady at 68. Douglas Aircraft receded fractionally to 37 3-8 and Pacific Clay Products dropped a point to 31. In the public-utility group Pacific Lighting was off ½ to 82, the same amount that Edison common lost on a final price of 97 3-4.

Bank shares were all lower. Bank of America of California was 2 points lower at 170, and Merchants' National and California each receded 1 point.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11. (AP)—Trading on the San Francisco Stock Exchange today increased in volume, but was still irregular with the majority of prices moving within a narrow range. The turnover in Transamerica and Magnavox centered on these two issues, although the best performance of the session was that of the American Company.

The American Company continued its upward movement, gaining 1⅛ points at 137⅞, after opening at 13[illegible]. It had closed Monday at 136½. Transamerica ranged between 135 and 135½ and closed at the latter price, off ½ from Monday's last sale. Bank of California sold off 5 at 320, and West Coast Bancorporation, ½ at 24. Anglo and London Paris was steady at [illegible].

Industrial issues showing fractional gains were Byron Jackson at 35⅛, Golden State Milk at 56½, California Packing at 74, Fageol Motors at 4.75, I. Magnin at 32½, and Oliver Filters A at 33⅝.

Fireman's Fund Insurance dropped 1⅛ to 106½, and Langendorf B at 25⅝ was also down 1⅛. Slight recessions were chalked against Caterpillar Tractor at 76⅞, Aviation Corporation of California at 23, Bond and Share Company at 19¾, Crown Zellerbach common at 18⅛, Leslie Salt at 32, Clorox Chemical at 37⅛, and Home Fire and Marine Insurance at 40½. California Copper touched a new low at 5.

The utility group was mixed. Pacific Gas and Electric preferred was up ⅛ at 26, and the common remained unchanged at 59½ after touching 59⅝. Pacific Lighting dropped ⅛ to 82¼.

The oils remained under pressure. Standard was down ⅝ at 75⅝, Richfield ⅝ at 42, Honolulu Consolidated ½ at 42½, and Union ½ at 47½. Union Associates and Richfield preferred were unchanged at 47⅝ and 24⅝ respectively.

A selling wave struck Magnavox which opened at 6, dropped to 5⅝, and then climbed back to the opening price. Kolster Radio was steady at 28½.

Local Business Comes First

DESPITE the fact that higher interest rates are obtainable by loaning at call in the speculative markets, the policy of this bank is to give first consideration to the needs of local business at all times.

Sound, productive business concerns are cordially invited to discuss their credit requirements, either at Head Office or any of our branches. We have ample funds available for your requirements.

Ever since the organization of this bank, nearly forty years ago, the development of productive enterprise in Los Angeles and Southern California has received consistent support. The conservative policies of this independent bank, owned and operated in Los Angeles, make the support of this community the first consideration.

PACE OF STOCK TRADING SLACK

last week, an extraordinary trend for this time of year. The expected 5-for-1 split-up of Burroughs Adding Machine stock was announced, and the new stock placed on an 80-cent annual dividend basis, equal to $4 on the old, which paid $3. Pan-American Petroleum announced that an offer to minority stockholders of Mexican Petroleum would be deferred pending more favorable stock market conditions.

CHEMICAL JUMPS

A few of the more volatile issues were rushed up easily in the unusually thin market. Commercial Solvents jumped 12 points, to another record price at 410. Warren Brothers climbed 11 points, and Allied Chemical, Auburn Auto, Commonwealth Power, and National Biscuit, 7 to 9. In the utilities, American Water Works, Federal Light and Traction and North American reached new high ground, the last climbing 6 points.

Food shares were again stimulated by merger rumors, Fleishmann rising nearly 5 points to a new peak. Independent steels were also in demand, reflecting reports of increased operations. Crucible sold up about 5 points to a new peak, and Youngstown and Republic made fair gains. Motors displayed a better tone, Chrysler, Packard and General Motors moving up a point or two. Nash closed firm, after sagging to a new low for the year. National Distillers preferred mounted about 6 points to a new peak on reports that it may be redeemed at 110. Air Reduction, United States Industrial Alcohol and General Asphalt also reached new high ground.

Burroughs Adding Machine dropped about 12 points to 305 on "selling on the good news" of the split up, but closed at 310. Sparks Withington dropped 8 points, and Hershey Chocolate lost 4. Hayes Body and United Fruit were among issues selling at new lows for the year. Radio dropped a couple of points to 79½, a new low for the current movement, but reduced its loss to a fraction before the close.

The commodities generally improved, with the exception of raw sugar. Wheat futures sold 2 cents and more a bushel higher on better export demand and bearish weather forecasts. Corn made like gains. July sugar fell to still another new low for this exchange at 1.50 cents. As the Cuban sugar grinding season nears its end, crop estimates are being revised upward. With possibilities that the new tariff will be held up for some time, no improvement is looked for in the near future in this market.

Foreign exchanges were dull but somewhat easier, sterling cables falling to $4.84 13-16, the lowest level since the Bank of England raised its rediscount rate in February. German marks were also under pressure.

BRAKESHOE BOOSTS RATE OF DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Directors of the American Brakeshoe and Foundry Company today declared a quarterly dividend of 60 cents a share, placing the stock on a $2.40 basis against previous annual payments of $1.60 in cash and 2 per cent in stock.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Prices on the New York curb market drifted irregularly lower again today despite the strong rallying tendency that developed on the "big board." With professional operators apparently unable to attract an outside following, there was a tendency to lighten long holdings and to conduct experimental short selling in shares of companies the prospects of which appear none too favorable.

Selling pressure was particularly acute against some of the radio, automotive and airplane shares. Aviation Corporation of America, Fokker, Dayton Air Express, Checker Cab and Paramount Cab, all lost 1 to 2 points, while Grigsby Grunow dropped more than 3 points. Hazeltine, 2½, and Zenith Radio, 1½.

Public utilities were mixed. Commonwealth & Southern, one of the most active features, ran into further selling and dropped to another new low record at 23⅝. Electric Investors, Penn-Ohio Edison, and Southeastern Power & Light also lost a point or so, but United Gas Improvement moved up more than 3 points.

Trading started today in the new United Stores Corporation issues, the common selling between 26⅝ and 28⅝, the A stock between 52⅞ and 54⅞, and the preferred between 90⅝ and 91⅞, with final quotations around the lowest of the day. Organization of this unit, which is expected to branch out into the drug and grocery lines, is regarded in some quarters as a counter-offensive against the chain stores which have been price cutting in the tobacco and cigarette field.

Oils were again sluggish despite the reported decrease in crude oil production last week, and the high hopes held out for the Colorado Springs oil conservation conference. Transcontinental preferred was an outstanding exception, soaring about 11 points to around its redemption price, but losing nearly half of its gain.

St. Regis Paper and Alaska Packers prior preferred moved into new high ground.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

LOCKHEED SALE CONDITION TOLD

thirty days, Detroit Aircraft has the right to inspect the Lockheed company, and it reserves the right to terminate or proceed with the agreement if any inaccuracy in the submitted financial statement or other representations is disclosed. As to any information not disclosed by this examination, the warranties and representations shall continue in force after the consummation of the agreement, it is specified.

It is agreed that in event of any exchange of stock, the board of directors of Lockheed shall be enlarged to eleven in number and six persons nominated by Detroit Aircraft shall be elected to the board and every officer and executive of Lockheed shall resign.

In an official statement issued yesterday by E. S. Evans, president of the Detroit Aircraft Corporation, and by Mr. Hunter it was announced that both Mr. Keeler and Mr. Hunter have been elected members of the board of directors of Detroit Aircraft. It was also stated that the manufacture and assembly of the Lockheed plane will be continued in the present Los Angeles plant, although metal parts and stampings will probably be fabricated in Detroit.

The companies now included in the Detroit Aircraft Corporation, either by ownership of a full or part interest, in addition to Lockheed are Ryan Aircraft Corporation, Aircraft Development Corporation, Winton Aviation Engine Company, Eastman Aircraft Corporation, Blackburn Aeroplane Company, Gross Ile Airport, Inc., Aviation Tool Company and Marine Aircraft Company. The concern will have a capitalization of upward of $20,000,000, it is stated. Details of the capital structure have not been announced as yet.

It is reported that the capitalization will consist of 1,000,000 shares authorized, and of these it is understood 350,000 shares have been sold at $15 a share.

NATIONAL CITY RIVAL SIGHTED

ably be the model of a new world-wide economic machinery.

This tall, dark, swarthy complexioned business man, who always seems to be unrushed, believes that the world's entire economic and financial system is going to stand only as it supplies the world's needs. He believes that humanity in every nation has a right to demand a system which will supply these needs. And it is only because of the lack of ability or lack of organization that such needs remain unsupplied.

"You cannot build a turbine in a blacksmith shop," says Mr. Young. "It must be in more expert hands. So with modern civilization—it needs efficient tools to do the work that must be done to keep the machinery of civilization moving. Why should the people in one part of the world be starving while wheat is glutting the elevators of the Middle West?" asks Mr. Young. "Something is wrong here. We must devise ways to move that wheat to the places where it is most needed."

New Financial Set-Up for Oil Unit Proposed

NEW YORK, June 11. (Exclusive) A special meeting of the stockholders of the Transcontinental Oil Company has been called by the directors of the company to vote on the retirement of the preferred stock and paying off accumulated dividends on the issue. The meeting will be held at Tulsa on July 12.

Holders of the 157,500 shares of 7 per cent preferred stock $100 par, on which $36 a share have accumulated in dividends, will have the option of receiving $135 a share cash for their stock, including accruals or $90 a share and five shares common stocks.

Holders must exercise their option by August 19.

The plan proposes also to offer holders of the 3,758,699 no par common shares the right to subscribe to one additional share of common at $9 a share for each two shares held as of July 23, the rights to expire August 19. A syndicate has underwritten the proposed issue.

Stockholders will be asked to vote on an increase in authorized common stock to 7,000,000 shares from 4,000,000.

The proposed plan would make outstanding capitalization $12,000,000 of first mortgage 6½ per cent bonds, due 1938; $1,076,000 tank car and purchase money obligations and 6,425,548 shares no par common.

Two New Utility Securities Due on Market Today

Nearly $17,000,000 in public utility securities will be placed on the market today in two tenders of $10,000,000 in convertible preferred stock and $6,800,000 in first-mortgage bonds. The stock issue is for the account of the Central States Electric Corporation and the bond issue for the Central Power and Light Company.

Dillon, Read & Co. head the syndicate offering the Central States Electric Corporation convertible preferred at $100 a share. The stock contains provisions allowing holders the option of receiving quarterly dividends payable in common stock at the annual rate of one-sixteenth of a share, or cash payments at the annual rate of $6 a share. The preferred shares are convertible into common at the rate of one share of common for each $118 par value of preferred stock on the option of the holder.

Central States Electric Corporation owns investments in securities of public utility holding and operating companies, investment companies and industrial companies.

E. H. Rollins & Sons, Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., A. B. Leach & Co., Inc., Tucker, Anthony & Co., and Hill, Joiner & Co., Inc., will offer the Central Power and Light Company first mortgage 5 per cent bonds, 1956 series. The offering represents an additional issue of a company supplying one or more classes of service to 151 communities in the Rio Grande Valley in Texas.

Mr. Cadman will discuss the advantages of university training in modern business principles.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, June 11. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says:

The sheet steel market is holding up vigorously in the Youngstown district in the face of some rather severe price-testing. Report of low prices quoted on common black and galvanized sheets are persistent, but these reports are mostly from the Detroit automotive trade where large consumers frequently obtain favored quotations.

Steel mills in the East are quietly booking steel-bar business for third quarter at unchanged prices. At Chicago finished steel producers have virtually closed schedules on some products. Plate mills have obtained little relief in deliveries. Little third-quarter business in bars, plates and shapes is being done as yet by western mills. The third-quarter pig-iron buying movement appears to be getting under way in a mild way in the East.

METAL PRICES

Iron steady, unchanged.

Tin easy; spot, 44.50; future, 45.00.

Zinc steady; East St. Louis, spot and future, 6.60@6.65.

Antimony, 8.87@9.00.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, June 11. (Exclusive)—Opening 10 to 30 points above previous finals, futures on the local rubber exchange today appeared to throw off the weakness which prevailed in Monday's trading, and before the end of the first hour of business, deliveries showed appreciations of about 40 points in the active months. An easy tone in the London market, however, encouraged selling around midday, and continued until the close, to result in the cancellation of all early gains. Some support in the near months which came from various sources helped to maintain a steady tone, but all positions wound up unchanged to 20 points lower.

Sales volume fell off sharply from Monday's turnover of 995 contracts, to 577 lots, or 1442½ long tons, yesterday. London spot, after early easiness, turned quiet and advanced 1 1-16d to 10 9-16d, while Singapore declined ⅛d to 9 15-16d with the final tone weak. Outside spot was ⅛c higher at 20⅝c.

Outside values were:

Smoked ribbed sheets, spot-June, 20⅝; July, 20⅝; July-September, 21¼; October-December, 21¾.

First latex crepe, 21⅝.

Amber No. 3, 18⅝.

Para upriver fine, 21⅝.

SUGAR MARKET

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Raw sugar, 3.46; refined, 5.00.

Futures closed easy; approximate sales, 82,700 tons; July, 1.59; September, 1.68; December, 1.76; March, 1.84; May, 1.92.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—A good clearance was made of yesterday's small supply at generally steady prices on all classes. The supply was limited to common and medium steers and she stock, mostly cow stuff.

Half a load of medium 907-pound steers realized 11.25, while small lots of common steers went over from 9.00@10.00, with a load of common 790-pound Mexicans at 8.75.

Odd head of cows and heifers cashed from 8.75@9.50, while the bulk of she stock, medium cows, went over from 8.00@8.50, with common cows down to 7.00. Cutters and low cutters moved largely from 3.00@6.50. Several lots of medium bulls went over for 8.00, with common kind down to 7.00.

CALVES—A ready clean-up of the small supply was made at steady to strong prices. Two sizable lots of good 177 and 207-pound vealers went over for 14.00, while small lots of plain calves and vealers turned from 10.00@12.00.

HOGS—Prices advanced around 25c under small receipts and fair demand. A car of good 174-pound Nebraska butchers topped at 12.75. No other rail hogs were offered, although several small lots of truck-in butchers turned from 12.00@12.35. Odd head of packing sows cleared from 9.00@9.25.

SHEEP—Fairly broad demand existed and the general market was quoted steady to strong. Offerings consisted of two decks of medium to good 90-pound shorn yearlings at 10.25, with 50 wethers averaging 115 pounds out at 6.50. Good and choice lambs were quoted from 13.25@14.25, with medium to choice shorn ewes from 4.75@6.75.

of Sunshine Acres at Santa Fe Springs, and work on the location for the Mayberry No. 1 will start shortly, according to field reports.

This area is considered as proved due to completions near by.

To Test

Three-inch tubing is being pulled from the Miley Hobson No. 1 well of the Richfield Oil Company in the Seacliff field and the hole will be cleaned preparatory to a production test. It was drilled to a depth of 6500 feet where a fair showing of oil sand is said to be in evidence.

This project is but a short distance from the Hobson Fee No. 1, and was shut down when mud began circulating between both wells. Work was centered on the former to complete it before work was resumed on the Miley Hobson No. 1.

The Hobson Fee No. 1, which recently came in at 7449 feet, continues to flow by heads. At times it yields on an average of about 1200 barrels of oil per day, and then settled down to an average of approximately 800 barrels of oil per day.

Spuds In

The Texas Holding Company recently spudded in its No. 5 well in the old townlot area at Huntington Beach and is drilling ahead below 500 feet. Eighteen-inch surface casing has been set.

In Oil Sand

A slight showing of oil sand is reported to have been penetrated in the Havenstite No. 1 well of the California Western Oil Company at Maricopa Flat. Eleven and five-eighths-inch casing has been set to 2295 feet and drilling resumed. Considerable gas is said to be in evidence in the hole.

This project is but a short distance from the Signal Oil and Gas Company's No. 2 well which came in about two months ago in that area.

A fishing job tied up this operation about ten days when a core barrel froze in the hole, according to field reports.

Macmillan's No. 2 well, in which a water shut-off test was unsuccessful in the upper Clarke zone, will remain idle for further developments. Bottom of the hole is at 7060 feet.

New Activity

Field reports state that a major oil company is negotiating to lease a seventy-five-acre tract at the eastern end of Duncan's ranch, in Arroyo Burro, at the western end of the Mesa structure, west of Santa Barbara.

The Bankline Oil Company drilled a dry hole at the western end of this property, and not far away, the Exeter Oil Company's Duncan No. 1 at 5000 feet, failed to pick up anything promising, according to reports.

The eastern end of the Duncan ranch adjoins the property recently purchased by the Novitiate of Los Gatos and leased to the Richfield Oil Company.

New Wildcat Test

The Petroleum Securities Company is putting in foundation for its Pomatto No. 1 wildcat to be drilled on a lease situated about one-half mile north of Elwood, in Santa Barbara county.

According to field reports, the Doheny interests are constructing the derrick in Glenn Annie Canyon, which is about three miles north and east of the Elwood coastal field of the Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination holdings.

Completes One

The Valencia Syndicate's Kroeger No. 1 well, in the Yorba Linda field, has just been completed for an initial flow of about forty barrels of 18 deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 3240 feet.

This project is situated at the northeast end of the Richfield field, and just west of the Federal Oil Company's Davenport lease.

Wildcat Flowing

The Sweitzer No. 1 wildcat of the Western Gulf Oil Company, which came in two days ago, south of the Fruitvale field, is reported to be producing approximately 700 barrels of 21 deg. gravity oil per day cutting about 4.6 per cent. Bottom of the hole is at 3728 feet.

Making Progress

The Bandini Petroleum Company's No. 10 well, at Santa Fe Springs, according to field reports, may be the first of its eleven prospects to be completed in the O'Connell sand.

This project is coring ahead at 6560 feet, and indications are that a production test will be made today or tomorrow.

The Bandini No. 8 is drilling at 6100 feet, and the Bandini No. 13 and No. 17, are well below 6000 feet.

HOLDERS ACCEPTING TIDE WATER OFFER

NEW YORK, June 11. (Exclusive) Holders of more than 42 per cent of the outstanding minority common stock of the Tide Water Oil Company have accepted the offer of one and three-quarter shares of Tide Water Associated Oil common in exchange for each share held, the company announced today. The offer expires July 10. Since Tide Water Associated already holds approximately 80 per cent of Tide Water Oil common, only approximately 12 per cent of it remains to be acquired.

GRAIN EXPORTS DOWN

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—Grain exports from the United States last week were 1,859,000 bushels, compared with 2,647,000 for the previous week, and 1,279,000 for the corresponding week last year.

DAILY EASTERN CITRUS MARKETS

AIR TELEGRAPH GRANTED WAVES

Radio Commission Awards Many Frequencies

Results Will Show Effects on Wire Systems

R.C.A. Plans Lines to Serve Fourteen Cities

WASHINGTON, June 11. (Exclusive)—Final dies have been cast, and the impression that radio will make on the telegraph business of the country remains to be seen. Assignments of actual working frequencies to the several proposed radio-telegraph projects were completed by the Federal Radio Commission today. Before this year is out, the technical and economic practicability of wireless competition with the wire telegraph systems will have been proved or disproved.

Twenty of the continental high-frequency channels were assigned to R.C.A. Communications, Inc., subsidiary of the Radio Corporation of America, which announced forthwith that it will establish a system connecting about fourteen cities and serving largely as a feeder into its vast transoceanic circuits. In addition, the R.C.A. was authorized to use thirty-six of its transoceanic channels in the domestic service.

OIL COMPANY RADIO

Five short and four long waves were assigned to the Western Radio and Telegraph Company, a combination of oil interests proposing to set up radio communications between home offices and remote oil fields.

Forty channels previously had been allotted to the Universal Wireless Communications Company, which is at work constructing the first group of the 110 stations it proposes to have throughout the United States by the end of 1931.

With the twenty wavelengths now granted the press and a scattering of others these completed the continental assignments. Five of the Universal's waves, five of the R.C.A. and three of the Western Radio and Telegraph Company must be shared with Canada; that is, they must be used, possibly in the southern tier of States, so that the, will avoid interference with Canadian operations on the same channels.

ENDS MAJOR TASK

The assignment of specified frequencies to the proposed competitors of the wire lines ended one of the major tasks that faced the Federal Radio Commission. That board, of course, is still charged with the duty of seeing that the promises of the companies are carried out and the wavelengths utilized to full capacity.

As the wireless communications set-up now appears, the Universal's system will be nation-wide, covering at least one city in every State. R.C.A. Communications, Inc., will fix upon fourteen important cities for its transmitters, instead of the thirty it originally proposed to serve.

The Western Radio and Telegraph Company will handle private business largely, but must keep its facilities open to the public.

That these companies have a good chance of success is indicated by the fact that the Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company is operating quite successfully a chain of short-wave radio stations along the Pacific Coast. This radio system, established many years ago by the old Federal Telegraph Company, accepts, transmits and delivers public messages on much the same basis as the Western Union or Postal Telegraph.

The Mackay concern was an unsuccessful applicant before the commission for more wave lengths with which to establish a more extensive radio-telegraph network, presumably because of its close corporate affiliation with the Postal Telegraph. The commission has been actuated very largely by the idea of stimulating competition between radio and wires as well as between rival radio systems.

SITE SELECTED FOR BROKERAGE OFFICE

Dean Witter & Co., Pacific Coast investment and brokerage house, yesterday announced the selection of 6715 Hollywood Boulevard as the site for its new Hollywood branch office. The branch will be located on the ground floor of the Outpost Building Arcade, opposite the Egyptian Theater. The quarters will be equipped with a quotation board carrying New York and Los Angeles stock and curb quotations.

BOSTON BANK GETS MANILA BOND ISSUE

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—The First National Bank of Boston was the highest bidder and was awarded today the sale of the $500,000 City of Manila public-improvement bonds by the Bureau of Insular Affairs of the War Department.

FACULTY COMPLETED

HANFORD, June 11.—Vacancies on the Hanford High School faculty through the resignation of Miss Aeldean Seimas and Miss Mary McKenna, have been filled by the employment of Miss Helen Smith to teach Spanish in Miss Seimas's place, and Miss Lois Campbell to fill Miss McKenna's chair in the commercial department. This completes the faculty of thirty-six, the Board of Trustees announces.

WATCH SET FOR FLY

HANFORD, June 11.—With the arrival of the fruit-shipping season in Kings county, when additional inspectors in connection with the enforcement of standardization measures are being employed, Horticultural Commissioner L. O. Haupt has given special instructions to attaches of his office to be on the lookout for evidence of the Mediterranean fruit fly.

SERVICES OUTLINED

HANFORD, June 11.—The Kings County Ministerial Union has announced its summer schedule of open-air union church services, which, as in past years, will be held in Courthouse Park Sunday evenings. The first union meeting is scheduled to be held the 30th inst., under Methodist auspices.

OIL SAVING DENOUNCED BY EDITOR

New Mexico Man Declares Conservation Deals Blow to Rocky Mountain States

Vitriolic in his denunciation of what he termed "a plan to crucify the Rocky Mountain States and to collect tribute from 30,000,000 automobile owners in the interests of the oil monopoly," Frank Lischke, editor of the Oil News of Albuquerque, N. M., in an interview at the Hotel Lee yesterday declared that President Hoover made the mistake of his life in his order in regard to conservation of oil.

"The ostensible object of the Colorado conference was to take steps to give relief to the western States by modifying Mr. Hoover's drastic order, but evidently that purpose has been smothered," said Mr. Lischke. "The American Petroleum Institute, dominated by the heads of the oil monopoly, is made up of a bunch of pirates, urging action of their brand on the administration. It seems like a body of burglars meeting with judges to recommend a program for greater privileges and more loot.

"The Rocky Mountain States produce only about 3 per cent of the oil produced in the United States," said Mr. Lischke. "Those States are producing less than they did ten years ago and they cannot even meet local demands. The proposed conservation program, if carried out, means the crucifixion of the oil industry in Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah and Nevada, which States depend largely upon oil for their prosperity.

"The cry about the 'scarcity of oil' is all tommyrot," said Mr. Lischke. "During the Taft-Roosevelt conservation clamor, Dr. George Otis Smith, now a member of the Conservation Committee, predicted that by 1935 and possibly by 1928 the country's oil would be exhausted. Since then, the production and consumption of oil has increased many fold. Formerly Smith had for his reason for conservation that there was a seeming shortage. Now he wants to conserve because the future seems flooded with oil.

"The prosperity of the United States and of the world depends largely upon oil," said the speaker. "To hoard it would be to obstruct business and industrial development. As long as oil serves the best purposes and people are able to buy it, there is no just power that can stop its production and usage. As long as it is used and paid for, there is no wastage in the economic status of the nation."

AVIATION

Silver Anniversaries—
Railroads—and Aviation

Twenty-five years after the first American locomotive wheezed over its bumpy course, there were only 9,000 miles of railroads in operation.

The silver anniversary of Wright's historic flight finds regular service on over 15,000 miles of airways in the United States . . . . over 9,500,000 miles are flown annually over these routes.

A reliable and growing source of revenue from dependable service rendered is the present status of aviation.

The publication of our statistical department "Wings of Industry" will intelligently guide you to the profits of present operations—and to participation in the tremendous developments to come. It will be sent on request.

Henshaw's Ashes Strewn in Bay

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11. (Exclusive)—The ashes of former Supreme Court Justice Frederick W. Henshaw were strewn over the bay this afternoon in accordance with his last request.

Se Cree que Pronto Se Anunciarán los Esponsales del Príncipe de Gales

LONDRES, Junio 11.—Se robustece en algunos círculos de aquí la creencia de que dentro de unas dos semanas se hará el anuncio del compromiso de matrimonio del príncipe de Gales con la princesa Ingrid, hija del príncipe heredero de la corona de Suecia. Se indican como probables dos fechas para la publicación de ese futuro enlace: el trigésimo quinto natalicio del príncipe, que será el 23 del corriente, o el 14 del actual, día en que la embajada sueca dará un suntuoso baile en honor de la hermosa princesa escandinava.

No es la primera vez que se oyen rumores de que el heredero británico desea casarse con su prima segunda del país de los "vikings"; pero nunca había habido tantos sucesos y circunstancias que prestaran peso y verisimilitud a la noticia.

El 15 de Mayo último, cuando la princesa Ingrid llegó a Londres para hacer una de sus numerosas visitas a su abuelo el duque de Conaught, tío del rey Jorge, se dijo que su estada duraría sólo un mes. Con todo, sus planes han cambiado, y se tenía hoy entendido que permanecería en Inglaterra hasta el fin de la temporada de Londres, que terminará dentro de varias semanas.

Desde que llegó, tanto su padre, el príncipe de la corona Gustavo Adolfo, como su madrastra, la que fue princesa Luisa de Battenberg, la han acompañado a las numerosas funciones sociales a que ha asistido.

La embajada sueca ha repartido invitaciones para el baile de gala que allí se ofrecerá a la princesa Ingrid, y que se ha anunciado como uno de los sucesos más brillantes de la temporada londinense. El príncipe estará entre los asistentes. Este aseguró una vez a un amigo suyo que se casaría al cumplir los 35 años.

Cabecilla Rebelde Mejicano Muerto en Acción

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Junio 11.—Mensajes de Aguascalientes recibidos hoy en El Universal notician que fueron muertos Antonio Ramírez y cuarenta y nueve de sus partidarios en un combate de tres horas que se registró en Gerónimo (Aguascalientes) contra las fuerzas combinadas de los generales Lucas González y Anacleto López. No se dice a cuanto hayan subido las bajas de los federales.

El Reich No Tomará Parte en la Manifestación de Duelo

BERLIN, Junio 11.—El consejo de ministros de Alemania ha tomado el acuerdo de que el Reich se rehuse a estar representado oficialmente en las ceremonias de duelo que organicen las sociedades particulares con motivo del décimo aniversario de la firma del Tratado de Versalles, que será el 28 del actual. Tratan esas organizaciones privadas de hacer de esa fecha un día de duelo nacional.

El Vaticano Se Propone Instalar Una Radio

CIUDAD VATICANA, Junio 11.—Hoy ha concedido el papa Pío XI una larga audiencia al senador William Marconi, y ha hablado extensamente con él acerca de la posibilidad de construir una estación de telegrafía sin hilos en los terrenos del Vaticano.

El pontífice hizo muchas preguntas que demuestran que tiene sorprendentes conocimientos técnicos en radiotelegrafía, y dio calurosamente las gracias al distinguido inventor por haber éste puesto sus servicios a disposición de la Santa Sede. Dio el pontífice una bendición especial al senador.

Se Está Arreglando Comunicación Ferroaérea de Chicago a Los Angeles

CHICAGO, Junio 11.—Va a ser posible para los viajeros comer un día en Chicago, y al siguiente, en Los Angeles, pues se ha anunciado que el Ferrocarril de Chicago y Alton está preparando transportes mixtos, parte por el aire y parte por la vía férrea.

Ya están casi ultimados los planes para que el tren nocturno que va de Chicago a Kansas City por la vía del Alton conecte en esta última ciudad con los aviones de pasajeros de las líneas del Expreso Aéreo Occidental.

Dos Maridos Privados de Besos Consiguen su Libertad

En el juzgado superior han conseguido ayer la anulación de su matrimonio, basada en fraude, dos maridos cuyas esposas se negaban a besarlos.

A. A. Anderson declaró que su esposa sólo lo amaba "de palabra". Agregó que durante dos años ha rechazado ella toda caricia física. "Nunca me habría casado con ella", dijo el marido ofendido, "si hubiera sabido la clase de hogar que ella buscaba." El juez superior Wilson le anuló su matrimonio.

Richard V. Watson dijo al juez superior Craig que la señora Watson, a quien conoció en una hermandad femenina de la Universidad de Sudcalifornia, era una colegiala de tipo muy especial. Se negó a concederle un beso mientras no se casaran en Tijuana, y, pasadas seis semanas después de su matrimonio en dicho lugar, todavía estaba él luchando porque cambiara ella su modo de ver y, por fin, persistió su mujer en negarse sus besos, y, finalmente, se convenció el marido de que no le era posible vivir más tiempo con ella. El juez Craig le concedió la anulación de su matrimonio.

Banquete Dado a Dos Escritores de Aquí

En honor de Virginia Stivers Bartlett y de Lanier Bartlett, escritores de ésta, cuya novela sobre la vida primitiva de Los Angeles titulada "Adiós" acaba de salir de las prensas, han ofrecido anoche un banquete en el Hotel Mayfair sus publicistas editores, los señores William Morrow y Compañía, de Nueva York. Representaba a dichos editores el señor C. P. Benoit, de San Francisco.

El programa fue de viejo estilo español. Pronunció un brindis la señora Jack Vallely, crítica literaria de aquí, y saludó a los huéspedes en español el pintor Francisco Cornejo. Se cantó por primera vez la canción "Adiós" escrita ha poco por Harry Archer y Irving César, y publicada por Feist en Nueva York. La interpretó Luis Alvarez, tenor español.

IL FIELD FIRE UNDER CONTROL

Confined to Two Wells at Santa Fe Springs

Damage Estimated at More Than $1,000,000

Derricks Destroyed; Missing Worker Found

Burning Wells in Plane View

COAST GUN ASSIGNED HERE

Second Railway Rifle Weighing 730,000 Pounds Will be Stationed at Fort MacArthur

The second of the Army's new fourteen-inch railway coast defense rifles will be stationed at Fort MacArthur as part of the coast defenses of Los Angeles, it was announced yesterday by Col. R. F. Wood, commandant. The huge piece of ordnance, weight 730,000 pounds, is scheduled to leave the Aberdeen (Md.) proving grounds next Monday and arrive at San Pedro via transcontinental rail lines about July 24.

It originally was planned to base the big gun at the Presidio of San Francisco, but after telegraphic conferences with Col. Wood and Maj. C. P. Gross, United States district engineer at Los Angeles, the War Department yesterday decided to station it here with a sister gun, brought to Fort MacArthur four years ago. Ultimate plans for defense of the California coast provide for the basing of a complete battery of four of these fourteen-inch railway rifles at the local port, from where they can be quickly transported to strategic spots at any point on the coast provided with suitable rail facilities.

Capt. Archibald S. Parmelee, C.A.C., who has been an R.O.T.C. instrutor on duty at the University of Pittsburgh, will have charge of the detail of artillerymen to escort the gun across the continent. Advantage will be taken of the opportunity by Capt. Parmelee to study effects of the great weight of the gun on viaducts, tunnels, grades and curves en route. It will be brought to Los Angeles Harbor as follows: From Aberdeen to Chicago via the Pennsylvania Railroad; from Chicago to Council Bluffs, Iowa, via the Chicago and Northwestern Railway; from Council Bluffs to Ogden, Utah, via the Union Pacific system, and from Ogden to Los Angeles via the Southern Pacific lines.

Rich Visitors From Sydney Linger Here

Leisurely travel is the only effective method for tourists to adopt if they actually want to gain lasting impressions of the countries they visit. That is why, six wealthy natives of Sydney, Australia, are spending unlimited time on a tour of the Pacific Coast.

The visitors are Jack Walder, canvas manufacturer and merchant in the Antipodes; his wife, his daughter, Miss Louise Walder, and his son, Ray Walder; Mrs. Henry Brasch and Mrs. William Ditford, friends and neighbors of the Walders.

"It wasn't until we arrived in Los Angeles that we gained a real insight to the wonders of America," said Mrs. Brasch, speaking for the group at the Biltmore yesterday.

PROTESTS DISMISSED

The City Council yesterday denied protests against the ordinance of intention for the improvement of the streets in the Oak Crest Way and Oleander Drive Improvement District, thus opening the way for the early adoption of the final ordinance.

WELFARE COUNCIL FORMED

Representatives of 153 Social Service Agencies Join Hands to Integrate Charity Programs

The Council of Social Agencies, hailed as a new step in Los Angeles welfare work, took form yesterday when it elected its executive officers and completed the structure of organization. Three hundred and six representatives of 153 city, county, State, Community Chest and private social service organizations met in Patriotic Hall, 1816 South Figueroa street, and elected twenty-seven men and women of Los Angeles to guide the first year of the council's existence.

The Council of Social Agencies will integrate the programs of every agency of charity and survey and study the entire social, cultural, economic and religious structure of the city.

MRS. CLARK AT HEAD

Mrs. George Herbert Clark of the Board of Education was elected president; Roy Jones, vice-chairman of the American Red Cross, first vice-president; Dr. Miriam Van Waters, referee of the Juvenile Court, second vice-president; and Don M. Claflin, executive secretary of the American Legion, chairman of the finance committee.

The members of the executive committee were elected, not as representing agencies as such, but as representatives of groups embracing all points of view and types of activity.

William Lacy, president, and D. C. MacWatters, general manager of the Community Welfare Federation, will represent the Community Chest as such; I. Irving Lipsitch will represent the Jewish community; Floyd Covington, the negro population;

Rescuing Auto in Fire Causes Death of Man

David E. Finn of 459 Las Flores street died unexpectedly yesterday afternoon, presumably of a heart attack while assisting neighbors to roll an automobile from a burning garage at 547 North Las Flores street, according to deputy sheriffs who investigated.

Inhalator squads from near-by fire departments were summoned but their efforts were fruitless.

Deputy Sheriffs Bogardus and Cook reported that although it at first was thought that Finn had been overcome by smoke, he evidently died of a heart attack caused by the excitement.

SWEEPING FARE RISE GIVEN P.E.

Rail Board Grants Nearly All Increases Asked

Schedule Boosts Revenue $500,000 Yearly

Interurban Most Affected; Change Due July 10

Granting practically every item in the long schedule of passenger-fare increases sought by the Pacific Electric Railroad Company at the April and May hearings, the State Railroad Commission yesterday authorized a general raise in passenger rates on Pacific Electric lines and particularly on interurban lines. The new schedule provides for no increase in Los Angeles local fares except that the 5-cent ticket, sold in books of twenty tickets for $1, good between Zones 1 and 2 in Los Angeles, is increased to 6 1-4 cents. The tickets will be sold in books of sixteen for $1.

The new rates become effective July 10 and will be in operation for a period of not less than six months and until further order of the commission. This is interpreted to mean that, unless the Pacific Electric Company makes formal application for another increase or change, the rates will be in effect indefinitely.

NEW RATES HIGHER

The new rates, while slightly higher than those in effect since April 27, 1928, when the experimental rates were authorized by the commission, are lower, it was pointed out, than the old rates in effect before the beginning of the experimental period.

Railroad Commission spokesmen said yesterday that the increase just granted will boost the revenues of the Pacific Electric Company at the rate of approximately $500,000 a year.

The increases just granted are, in effect, a modification of the experimental passenger fares and are authorized, it is explained, in an effort to produce the revenue necessary to maintain Pacific Electric passenger service on an adequate basis.

Under the new schedule increases are allowed in all round-trip fares, while one-way fares were increased only to points beyond the twelve and one-half-mile limit from Los Angeles terminals. Commuters, it is pointed out, will benefit through the use of a new monthly pass system authorized by the commission. No increase in existing sixty-ride commutation ticket rates was ordered.

TICKET CANCELED

The twenty-ride ticket, good between Zones 1 and 4, has been canceled and will be replaced, to some extent, by the new monthly pass, good between these points and selling for $6.

Local fares in other cities served by the Pacific Electric system will remain unchanged. Many of the local fares were reduced last year from 6 to 5 cents and it has not been found desirable, the commission pointed out, to change such fares at this time.

As a result of several formal hearings the commission found that the experimental fares placed in effect in April, 1928, with materially lower round-trip fares on the interurban lines, had increased travel by 5.6 per cent while revenue was reduced 8.2 per cent.

One-way fares will not be increased on the interurban lines to a number of the close-in cities, such as Pasadena, Venice, Santa Monica, Manhattan Beach, Redondo Beach, Glendale, Burbank, Whittier, Compton, South Pasadena, Alhambra, San

ELK HERDS PRESS FAST ON CAMELS

Early B.P.O.E. Arrivals Find Loitering Shriners; 125,000 Booked to Come

The sixty-fifth national convention of the Benevolent Protective Order of the Elks, to be held in this city July 7 to 13, will bring to Los Angeles more than 125,000 visitors, according to General Chairman Carl E. McStay, who said last night that the hordes of Elks expected for the convention will surpass in numbers the tens of thousands of Shriners here last week for the fifty-fifth annual Shrine conclave.

The Elks' convention will witness a gathering of delegates and visitors from more than 1500 lodges. The Shrine hosts were drawn to Los Angeles from 157 temples.

While early arrivals already are entering Los Angeles for the convention, as indicated by advance registration, the first contingent of official delegates is due here Friday and Saturday, July 5 and 6, said McStay. At that time Grand Exalted Ruler Murray Hulbert of New York City will arrive with his staff accompanied by past grand exalted rulers, grand lodge officers, and committees and district deputy grand exalted rulers.

All grand lodge officials and visiting delegates will be welcomed at railroad stations, steamship terminals and airports by the White Squadron drill team and band of Lodge No. 99. Grand lodge representatives will register at the Biltmore, to be the scene of all formal functions, grand lodge and committee meetings, and official living quarters for representatives, McStay declared.

Registration of Elks and their families will take place at official registration headquarters on the main floor of the Subway Terminal Building at these headquarters, hotel assignments will given out, official badges and souvenirs distributed and hospitality coupon books issued.

Special services in churches of all denominations will be conducted Sunday, July 7, with feature addresses by past grand exalted rulers and grand lodge officers, while in the afternoon band concerts will be given in several public parks.

Welcome Day, with its receptions, automobile tours, initial play in bowling, trap-shooting, and golf tournaments, and official public session in the Philharmonic Auditorium, and a general welcoming of the visitors, has been set for Monday, July 8.

OLYMPIC GAMES BOOSTER HOME

W. M. Garland Returns from Switzerland Meeting

Says Mayor Only Obstacle to Meeting in 1932

Scores Political Wrangle on Coliseum Control

The only obstacle in the pathway of the Olympic Games for Los Angeles in 1932 is the Mayor of Los Angeles.

This was the message brought to Los Angeles last night by William M. Garland, president of the Los Angeles Tenth Olympiad Committee and member of the International Olympic Committee, on his return from the meeting of the international body in Lausanne, Switzerland, at which the site for the next athletic conclave was selected.

While the entire European world, as he found it, is looking forward anxiously to the California meet, Mr. Garland declared that the only hindrance so far encountered is in the recent action of the Mayor, who refused to sign a renewal of the agreement held by the Community Development Association, which will provide security for the enlargement of the Coliseum to handle the crowds that will certainly throng to the games. Mayor Cryer in his message to the Council stated he was in favor of enlarging the Coliseum but not through the medium offered—renewal of the agreement with the Community Development Association.

MUST BE ENLARGED

Mr. Garland deplored the possible effect that this policy of the Mayor might have on the enthusiasm of the countries of the world which plan to send large representations of athletes to the meet. It is absolutely necessary that the stadium be enlarged, in accord with the plans of the association, to a seating capacity of 105,000, so that the monster athletic carnival can be suitably housed, he declared.

The Community Development Association built the amphitheater, he pointed out, and has managed it successfully since the bowl was opened. This is no time to transfer a pre-eminently successful control for an uncertain political supervision, Mr. Garland believes.

All of the official bodies of county, city and State are in favor of a continuance for ten years, of the present management, he declared. The lease renewal was approved by county and State agencies as well as the City Council before it was presented to the Mayor.

"UNFORTUNATE PUBLICITY"

"The action of the Mayor creates unfortunate publicity for Los Angeles, after the representations I have made to the International Olympic Committee and the countries of Europe where I found nothing but unbounded enthusiasm for the next Games," Garland asserted.

"The world is looking toward Los Angeles in 1932. More than forty-six nations have announced that they will be represented by athletic teams. California and Los Angeles are in the best advertised places in the world. Everywhere I went in Europe I found numbers of people who want to visit this talked-of place. We cannot let any obstacle remain in the way of making the 1932 Games the greatest that have ever been held," Garland declared.

The Los Angeles committeeman carried with him to the international meeting at Lausanne a letter from President Hoover expressing his delight at having the games for America in 1932, and his assurance that the meet will be suitably received by the citizens of Los Angeles.

VISITS HOOVER

On Mr. Garland's return from the conference in Switzerland he visited the President at Washington and extended to him an invitation on behalf of the Los Angeles Tenth Olympiad Committee and the city to be present and officially open the meet. President Hoover announced that he deeply appreciates the invitation and hopes that official duties at the capital may be so arranged that he can be here, Mr. Garland said.

With Mr. Garland on the European trip were Mrs. Garland and LeRoy Sanders, member of the Los Angeles Tenth Olympiad Committee. Mr. Sanders attended the committee meetings in Lausanne, and assisted in the campaign to bring the 1932 games here, Mr. Garland stated.

It should be definitely pointed

NEW GRIMES INQUIRY LOOMS

Statement of Money Assertedly Paid by Jacobson May Bring Grand Jury Investigation

Another investigation of the Jacobson-Grimes episode appeared imminent last night with the announcement of Dist.-Atty. Fitts that he intends to study the transcript of the testimony of yesterday morning's proceedings in the case against Mrs. Callie Grimes and five police officers, accused of "framing" the arrest of Councilman Jacobson, and if he finds the foundation therein he will present the matter to the grand jury.

Mrs. Ida Russell, sister of Mrs. Grimes, refused to testify concerning a transaction with Jacobson over the statements of Mrs. Grimes in the affair. Her refusal followed several hours' maneuvering, and was on the constitutional grounds that she might incriminate herself.

LAWYER'S CHARGES

Leo Daze, Mrs. Grimes's attorney, in the absence of the jury, offered to prove by the witness that Councilman Jacobson gave her $150, and that she was to get Mrs. Grimes to agree to assist him; that she was to get Mrs. Grimes to tell the grand jury the same story Jacobson told; gave her a thirteen-page statement of his side of the case; that at all costs she was to keep the 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Grimes off the witness stand, and that Jacobson scraped together $36 in small change, taken from a church fund of which he was treasurer, to send Mrs. Grimes during the time she was absent.

At the end of this statement, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison declared that it was satisfactory to him if the witness so testified, but if she did, he would proceed "to do his duty." At this, Patrolman Frank Cox, one of the defendants, made a com-

TO COME from Taos, where the hotel clerk is an art connoisseur, to a boosters' convention at Raton is a severe shock.

I don't know why the rural American can't be joyous without making stupid noises. In this particular, he is just like the city American.

Downstairs in the hotel lobby is an idiot who is walking around pounding the concrete floor with a cane. Another one has a police whistle which he blows until his eyes pop out. Four of them singing in a corner. Two of them shrieking across the heads of the crowds at each other. Every time one of them starts around town in his auto, he leaves the cut-out open—to contribute to the din.

CULLS

I have been looking over the human race for a good many years—many men of many nations; and they are a pretty junk lot. On that last day, when Providence got around to creating man, the fuel must have been running low.

OH! OH! OH!

Every little town through which we pass has a newspaper; and every newspaper is dilating today with holy horror over the oration delivered by Prof. R. E. Rogers to the college boys of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He told them to be snobs; be good dressers; marry the daughter of the boss and act superior. Oh, how ye editor mourns and deplores.

SHOW WINDOW

Prof. Rogers's remarks were not so foolish at that. This has come to be a world in which advertising and salesmanship count for about 80 per cent. Part of salesmanship is a good show window.

HITCHING RACKS

It is still possible to get the "stab of the primitive" out here. Even in Taos, the artists and the three-deck-brow writers are all torn up over a town debate: they can't decide where to locate the horse hitching racks.

THE FLOCKS

These high plateaus are the sheep pastures of the world. Every few miles, you pass Indians watching the flocks. They all have dogs, but not the slick long-haired collies of aristocratic lineage; they are just dogs.

A while back on the road we passed a very old, thin Indian herder, who looked like a painting from the Bible. He was leaning on his staff with a wistful air of sorrow as though to say: "I will not be here to see many more pass."

The next herd was watched by a very small Indian boy on a boneyard horse. He was terribly worried lest we should run over some of his new lambs which were so newly born they still staggered on their feet. There were hundreds of them. The old sheep had shinned up the side of a cliff, leaving all the lambs together in the road.

EGYPT TO BE SKETCHED

At the regular meeting of the Los Angeles Kiwanis Club this noon at the Biltmore the speaker will be Tom Terris, who has chosen for his subject "A Sketch of Ancient Egypt and Modern Russia." The chairman of the day is Perry Widener, president of the United States National Bank of Los Angeles. The music committee has arranged some oriental music appropriate for a program of this nature.

Mystery Woman Questioned in Patty Murder Case

NAME OBTAINED AT PATTY ABODE

Police Refuse to Reveal Her Identity

Scores of Clews Lead to Blind Walls

Tallman Fingerprints Due from Washington

A mystery woman, whose name and address was found on a slip of paper in the Asbury apartment of Mrs. Virginia Patty, after she was found beaten to death and trussed up in a folding-bed closet last week was questioned at length yesterday by police detectives in an effort to solve the ever-deepening puzzle of Mrs. Patty's death.

The mystery about the new woman in the case is occasioned by the refusal of police to make known her identity, although she is said formerly to have been a resident of the Figueroa Hotel, where William L. Tallman, missing radio man charged with the murder, lived.

OFFICER SILENT

Capt. Slaten of the Georgia-street division, who is in charge of the investigation, declined to disclose the identity of the woman or her probable position in the case.

The officer announced, however, that after lengthy questioning the woman stoutly denies ever knowing Tallman or Mrs. Patty, but apparently cannot explain how her name and address came to be in the latter's Wilshire district apartment.

While the investigation of the murder of the woman hourly grows more complicated, the officers are near the end of scores of clews, all of which have been run down and throw no more light on the mystery than the day the body was discovered and Tallman was asserted to have been implicated in her death.

PRINTS AWAITED

Capt. Slaten is awaiting the arrival from Washington of Marine Corps fingerprints of Tallman to compare with a number of specimens taken in the South Union-avenue apartment near where Mrs. Patty's body was found hanging.

San Francisco police yesterday received a package from Los Angeles containing a suit of underwear and immediately the strange shipment was attached to the Patty-Tallman case until local officers obtained the true facts of the shipment.

The package was marked for return to A. J. Ellison, 835 Marview, Los Angeles. Ellison explained to the officers that while in San Francisco recently he had a misunderstanding with a Chinese laundryman and had been presented with another man's underwear as a result.

AND THAT'S THAT

Ellison's first thought in straightening out the underwear tangle with the laundryman was through the San Francisco police, so he shipped the package there for adjustment of the embarrassing tangle, but neglected to inclose a note to the police telling of his desires. And so that mystery was dissipated.

Andy M. Deguia, Mrs. Patty's Filipino chauffeur, was arrested yesterday as a result of the murder investigation, on charges of suspicion of burglary and sent to Long Beach, where he is asserted to have stolen a quantity of clothing about a year ago.

Detective-Lieutenants Katzenberger and Kleinfield arrested the young chauffeur at his home, 1410 East Forty-eighth street, and turned him over to the Long Beach authorities. Deguia is asserted to have pawned the clothing in Los Angeles which recently was recovered from the shop.

BODY IN BAY MAY BE TALLMAN'S

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11. (Exclusive)—Answering in general the description of "Handsome Bill" Tallman, San Francisco radio operator, accused of the "brickbat murder" of Mrs. Virginia Patty, a body was washed ashore at Asilomar Beach on the Monterey Peninsula this afternoon, only to be swept out to sea again before positive identification could be made.

The body, resembling Tallman in height and complexion, was discovered in the breakers by Mrs. H. A. Miller and Miss Olga Mahomed, motor tourists from Venice, Cal., stopping at an auto camp. While they hastened to notify the authorities the tide turned and the body was carried back into the ocean.

There was one discrepancy. The body was clothed in a dark coat and light trousers. The only suit Tallman had on board the steamship Admiral Benson, from which he disappeared a week ago last night, was of dark blue material with a narrow light stripe.

REPORTED ON STEAMER

From the description given by Mrs. Miller and Miss Mahomed, the Coroner's deputy in Monterey deduced that the body had been in the water less than a week.

One other clew came to the police, a rumor that Tallman had found refuge aboard a trans-Pacific liner and is now in midocean.

Though the police professed to place little credence in the report that Tallman had made his way aboard a vessel bound across the Pacific, it was recalled by his intimates that in his early days as a radio operator, he served on the steamship Sonoma. The Sonoma sailed at noon last Thursday, about twelve hours after his disappearance, for Sydney, Australia.

Investigation is under way to find out if any of Tallman's close friends might be aboard the steamship.

Though the intensive search of the Admiral Benson disclosed no clew to Tallman, it has been by no means given up, according to a telegram to the police here from Detective Michael Desmond, who accompanied Lieut. Frank Condaffer of the Los Angeles department north on the vessel.

DEFENDED BY KIN

While the man hunt continues with unabated activity, Tallman's family and friends grow more emphatic in their insistence that, because of his temperament, he could not possibly have fatally battered Mrs. Patty with a brickbat and hung her, still living, in the Los Angeles "murder closet."

The family's explanation of the radio operator's disappearance is that he feared his father, to whom they say he was exceedingly close, would reproach him for having had a love affair with a married woman. Both Mrs. Tallman and Polachek say they knew Mrs. Patty was married, but kept it from the elder Tallman lest it wound him deeply.

POLICE BOARD IN BATTLE

Commissioners Near Blows Over Rejected Motion for Jury Quiz of Tallman Escape

A verbal clash between President Dell Schweitzer and Commissioner W. S. Thorpe, which came to the verge of blows, marked the Police Commission's regular session yesterday when Schweitzer accused Thorpe of "grandstanding" to the press and the public at the expense of the police department. The tilt followed Thorpe's failure to put over a resolution asking the county grand jury to investigate the police department for the escape, in San Francisco, of W. L. Tallman, suspected of the murder of Mrs. Virginia Patty in Los Angeles.

Thorpe insisted on interrupting the regular schedule of the meeting to introduce his resolution. His explanation was that he was leaving town at noon. Schweitzer explained there was a long calendar to dispose of and urged him to wait his time, but Thorpe became so insistent and bitter that no other business could be handled and he was allowed to read his resolution.

CONFIDENCE HELD SHAKEN

The resolution pointed out what crime a murder is, the need for capturing the guilty party, stated that Capt. James Bean, head of the homicide squad, suspended by Chief of Police Davis, failed to notify outlying police divisions by teletype of a description of Tallman, with the result that he sailed from San Pedro and escaped in San Francisco. The resolution set forth that it was useless for the police department to be asked to investigate itself and that to restore public confidence in the department the grand jury should be asked to investigate.

Commissioner Gollum declared there is no need for taking the case before the grand jury. He asserted that when he comes to the conclusion that he is unfit to investigate the police department's activities, he, for one, will resign from the commission. If there is to be any investigation, he said, it should be by the commission first.

Schweitzer asserted he is confident the department will go fully into the matter itself and that if it doesn't there are other means open.

"The proposal just leaves the situation open for another attack on the police department," he said. "I am for bringing about efficiency in a quiet way."

REPORT PROMISED

"The police personnel bureau is investigating all facts in the case," explained Chief Davis, "and will make a full report to this board when the data are all ready."

Gollum reiterated his statement, saying: "I think it is time for us to quit if we cannot investigate our own department properly." He referred to the Thorpe resolution. His sentiments were indorsed by Schweitzer, who asked if there was a second for Thorpe's motion.

All three commissioners were opposed to the Thorpe resolution and Gollum moved that his request be filed. Commissioner Pierce seconded the motion and that ended the matter.

Later, in discussing specifications on bids for 60,000 pounds of meat for city prisoners, Thorpe declared he is opposed to giving the prisoners "high-priced meats such as beef hearts, mutton and other choice cuts when chuck beef and corned beef will do."

OPPOSITION DROPPED

Chief Jailer Shand explained that beef hearts are much cheaper, also the mutton, and that the chuck beef and corned beef are comparatively high-priced meats. Thorpe then dropped his opposition to the specifications. Schweitzer pointed out the delay to proceedings by Thorpe's tactics and Thorpe snapped back that he proposed to look into matters as much as he sees fit.

The two exchanged several verbal passages and Thorpe glared at Schweitzer, his lips working in impatience and anger.

"I'm tired of this sort of thing," declared Schweitzer. "You have been grandstanding on everything possible ever since I have been on this commission. A lot of the commission's business could have been accomplished if it had not been for this grandstanding."

Schweitzer pointed out that while Thorpe was in a rush to get his resolution in against the police department, there still was plenty of time to introduce it in the regular order. He intimated that the idea was to get it presented while there were a lot of newspaper reporters present.

Thorpe denied this snappily and the meeting proceeded.

Incompatibility Discovered After Twenty-two Years of Married Life

C. M. Thomas asking for a divorce from Lillian P. Thomas, after twenty-two years of married life, yesterday before Superior Judge Yankwich testified:

"I went to bed one evening and when I awoke she was gone. I went to work and when I got back home all the furniture was gone.'

Later, the husband declared, he met his wife and asked for an explanation.

"We are incompatible," the wife answered.

FILM GATE CRASHED BY TENNESSEE GIRL

Dorothy Jordan

It took Dorothy Jordan, a Clarksville (Tenn.) girl to establish somewhat of an enviable reputation in Hollywood for "gate crashing." In about twenty-four hours after she gained admittance to a studio she had a contract for a nice part in the forthcoming picture to co-star Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks.

According to announcement from the United Artists studio yesterday, Miss Jordan, who has had legitimate stage experience, has been cast for the role of Bianca in "The Taming of the Shrew."

Coming to Hollywood, she said, for a vacation, she found herself wanting a chance in motion pictures. The casting office turned her down, according to the story, so she got work in the wardrobe department. Once on the lot she sought out "Lucky" Humberstone, assistant director, and he finally got Sam Taylor, director, interested.

A test made at 3 a.m. by Taylor was shown to Miss Pickford and Fairbanks and by 2 p.m. the next afternoon the contract was signed.

SOCIAL SERVICE GROUP FORMED

Rev. Thomas J. O'Dwyer and Mrs. Rose Roy, the Catholic groups; Joseph Bonapart, the children in institutions; Mrs. Edna Jones, the work of the Salvation Army; Harry Henderson, preventive work among boys; Rev. Harold H. Kelley, work at the harbor among seamen; Dr. E. V. Emery, clinics, hospitals, and other medical agencies; Robert A. McKibben, settlements and social centers; Mrs. Arthur C. Wier, preventive work among girls; Mrs. Frank Wiggins, infan and child welfare; Dorothy Wysor, family welfare; and Col. C. W. Decker, social service among war veterans.

Dr. George Mangold of the University of Southern California was elected to represent the sociology departments of colleges and universities; Mrs. H. H. Kerckhoff, the work done for children in private agencies; R. R. Miller, the county charities; Mrs. argaret Sirch, the State Board of Public Welfare; Guy M. Hoyt, the attendance department of the Los Angeles public schools; Agnes C. Talcott, the City Health Department; and Mrs. Anna B. Smith, the City Social Welfare Department.

I. Irving Lipsitch was elected chairman; Harry Henderson, first vice-chairman, and Dorothy Wysor, second vice-chairman of the executive committee.

Each city, county, State, Community Chest and private agency in membership in the Council of Social Agencies is represented by two persons: one the chief executive of the organization, the other a member of its board or governing body. This means that every organization is represented by one professional sociologist, and one lay member, in order that the council will have both the technical viewpoint and that of representative public opinion.

Judge Wilson then declared that if such testimony was produced before him he would proceed to lay the matter before the grand jury. Mrs. Russell was instructed as to her Constitutional rights and advised to get a lawyer. After a recess she went on the stand.

REFUSES TO ANSWER

The jury, having been excused during the arguments, was returned to the box. Daze propounded a lengthy question which summarized the situation, and she refused to answer him on the grounds that she might incriminate herself. Mr. Dennison then cross-examined her, eliciting the fact that she was the sister of Mrs. Grimes.

Dist.-Atty. Fitts, when apprised of the situation, said that if his study of the transcript results in sufficient facts he will take the matter to the grand jury forthwith, without awaiting the end of the case now on trial.

The remainder of the day and night session was spent in the direct testimony and cross-examination of Captain of Detectives Wallis and Detective Lieutenant Lucas, who participated in the raid on Mrs. Grimes's house which resulted in arrest of the woman and the Councilman on a morals charge. Both are defendants. They gave an account of the proceedings similar to that presented before two grand juries, one Municipal Court jury which tried the Councilman, and a prior Superior Court jury which heard the conspiracy case against the present defendants.

In addition to Mrs. Grimes, Cox, Lucas and Wallis, the other defendants are Captain of Detectives Williams and Special Investigator Raymond. They are defended by Daze, Paul Schenck, Paul D'Orr, Joseph Painer and Joseph Ryan. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Bush co-operates with Dennison in the prosecution.

On Wednesday, there will be auto tours of the foothill regions, an air circus at the Grand Central Air Terminal, Glendale, drill contests in the Coliseum, and an international fashion pageant and lawn fete at the Ambassador for wives and daughters of Elks. The grand ball for representatives will be given in the Sala d'Oro ballroom of the Biltmore that evening.

New officers will be installed on Thursday, while a huge dress parade will take place in the Coliseum that afternoon, to be followed by Coliseum festivities that night. On Friday there will be an excursion to Catalina Island, a visit to the fleet in Los Angeles harbor, and a visit to Long Beach. On Saturday, July 13, there will be a visit to San Diego and Agua Caliente while at noon on this day a large contingent of Elks will leave Los Angeles harbor on the Elks' annual trip to Honolulu.

Wounded Man Admits Deed

Shot through the breast last night, William S. Andrews, 37 years of age, 845 3-4 West Santa Barbara avenue, was taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where he told police he had inflicted the wound on himself after a domestic quarrel.

FATHER SUPPORTED HER, WIFE ASSERTS

After Mrs. Eleanor L. Gruis told Superior Judge Yankwich that her husband, Edward H. Gruis, failed to support her, she was granted a divorce. "He would not give me the necessities of life," Mrs. Gruis testified, "so I had to turn to my dad for support." They were married in January, 1924, and separated in February, 1927.

TWELVE FACE COURT TODAY

Liquor-Ring Case Comes Up for Trial

Opening Postponed from Yesterday

Plot to Evade Volstead Act Charged

Results of an investigation of an asserted widespread liquor ring operating in Southern California by government agents is expected to be revealed during the trial of Maurice Sugarman and eleven other defendants, accused of violating the national prohibition act, when the case starts today before United States District Judge James. The case was continued until today because of another trial now on.

The ring is said to have planned the wholesale delivery of illegal liquor on the Southern California coast through co-operation of persons employed by the government to enforce the prohibition regulations. It is expected that startling details regarding the operations of the so-called ring will come to light during the trial.

The defendants include Maurice Sugarman, said to have been an agent for a Vancouver (B.C.) liquor company; Col. Leo A. Stromee, formerly head of the dry forces at San Diego for the government; Claude A. Davis, Ralph R. Morely, former dry agent; H. G. Ramage, former chief field agent for the local Federal dry forces; George Williams, A. W. Parker, George Ross, Morris A. Crank, Madeline Straila, Frankie Cornero and Eddie Richards.

WOMAN HELD IN FORGERY

In a hearing at the bedside of her 80-year-old paralytic grandmother in Whittier, Irene Johnson, 29, was ordered held for trial by Superior Court on two counts of forgery by Municipal Judge Galbreth yesterday. Miss Johnson is accused by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman of forging the name of her grandmother, Mrs. Sarah J. McDonald, to checks for $50 and $65.

Miss Johnson also faces a separate complaint for the asserted attempted murder of her grandmother. Mrs. McDonald charges her grand-daughter attempted to kill her by means of gas on the night of March 2, last.

CHAMBER OFFICIAL WILL LECTURE HERE

Recent years have witnessed the growth of a new viewpoint toward agricultural trade areas by the American business man, according to Delos L. James, assistant manager of the United States Chamber of Commerce agricultural service department, who will arrive in Los Angeles next week. According to P. L. S. Harman of the local chamber, Mr. James will arrive here on the 19th inst., and will speak on that day to members of the agricultural committee.

INQUIRY ORDERED INTO BOND DRIVE CHARGES

The State Railroad Commission has set the 19th inst., as the date for an investigation into rumors that employees of public utilities corporations were active in working for the defeat of the water and power bonds at the last election. Several rumors came to the commission, it was stated, concerning activities of the Southern California Gas Company, the Southern Counties Gas Company, the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and the Southern California Edison Company. Commissioner Seavey will go into the matter thoroughly, it was said yesterday. State officials pointed out that the State Railroad Commission is not interested in elections or bond issues, but is intensely interested in the affairs of utilities companies, and it purposes to determine whether these companies paid subscriptions to defeat the bonds and if they did, to what accounts these expenditures were charged.

FUNERAL OF F. S. BORTON TO BE TODAY

FRANCIS S. BORTON.

Last rites for Francis S. Borton, 67 years of age, pioneer resident of Southern California, who died Sunday morning at his home in Long Beach, will be conducted today at 2 p.m. at the Patterson & McQuilkin funeral parlors, Long Beach. Interment will be in Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Mr. Borton was born in Ottawa, Ill., and moved to California at the age of 7 years. For a number of years he lived with his parents on a ranch at the present site of Seventh and Alvarado streets and later on another ranch in Benedict Canyon. On one of the near-by peaks a clump of eucalyptus trees planted by young Borton marks the location of Borton's Peak, as it is designated on present-day maps.

Working his way through the University of Southern California, he graduated in the class of 1887 and thereafter entered the theological seminary of Boston University.

He married Miss Helen Pacific Burnett, a native daughter whom he met at the University of Southern California. After completing his course in Boston he was sent as a missionary to Mexico, where he was head of the theological department of the Methodist Mexican Institute. Along with his theological duties he did some notable work along poetical lines and his poems have been collected and published.

After twenty-five years in the Mexican field Mr. Borton returned to Southern California. His knowledge as an antiquarian, gained from his experience as a collector of rare books, seemed particularly to fit him for the position of curator of the Mission Inn at Riverside. He served in that capacity for about fifteen years and up to the time of his last illness.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Helen Pacific Borton, two daughters, Helen X. Borton and Mrs. Brunhilda Hanley, and a son, James B. Borton, all of Long Beach.

An additional $411,906.46 of St. Francis Dam disaster damage claims against the city was approved by Council yesterday.

CITY ACCEPTS LAND GIFT

Offer of Cahuenga Pass Acreage for Park Purposes Meets Favorable Action of Council

In a slightly amended form, the City Council voted yesterday to accept the offer of R. P. Shea to donate approximately twenty-four acres of ground to the city for park purposes, and also the land necessary to construct the portion of the proposed East Cahuenga Pass, or North Highland avenue, highway, between Lankershim Boulevard and Dark Canyon Road. The proposed new road will parallel the Pacific Electric tracks and the park land donated is that lying between the tracks and the present Cahuenga Pass road.

Originally, Mr. Shea made his offer contingent on the city's bearing the entire expense of paving the eighty-foot strip he is willing to dedicate, but some opposition to that feature developed in the Council and he amended his offer by expressing his willingness to go through with the deal if the city would at first pave a forty-foot strip of the roadway and grade and oil an additional thirty feet.

The thirty feet, however, would have to be paved by the city by the time the southern portion of the proposed new Cahuenga Pass Road is paved up to the southern end of his strip at Dark Canyon Road.

The action of the Council yesterday was to approve a joint report of its Parks and Playgrounds, Public Works, and Street Opening and Widening Committees recommending that the offer be accepted and directing the City Attorney to prepare the necessary resolution of acceptance.

Corps to Place Flag in Shrine

Observation of Flag Day on Friday will be made the occasion by the Stanton Relief Corps, No. 16, for the presentation of an American flag of 1847 to the Avila Adobe, 14 Olvera street, former headquarters of Gens. Fremont, Stockton and Kearney during the days of the American occupation.

The flag, with the thirty stars of 1847, will be presented by Mrs. J. A. Allred, patriotic instructress of the corps, and Mrs. Christine Sterling will accept it and give it a permanent place among the historic relics of the adobe. Other speakers will be Mrs. Florence Dodson Schoneman, Grace B. Willard, past national president of the Stanton Relief Corps, and Darwin B. Wolcott, new department commander. Boy Scouts will be present to assist with the flag salute. The ceremonies will begin at 10 a.m.

JUNIOR CLUB TINY PLANE SHOW OPENS

More Than 600 Examine Exhibits and Hear Hawks Tell of Record Flight

With more than 600 in attendance, the first annual exhibit of the junior section of the Los Angeles City Club opened last evening at the club's headquarters, 833 South Spring street. Approximately 100 miniature airplanes, made by young aviation fans and manufacturers of aircraft, and displays by petroleum companies and other industrial institutions were inspected by the throng. The exhibition will be open until next Tuesday.

Capt. Frank Hawks, pilot who holds the Los Angeles-New York nonstop flight record, told of his experiences in the storms in making the hop last February, and then commended the commercial and mail aviation interests for blazing the way for air progress. Capt. Hawks is the superintendent of the aviation division of the Texas Oil Company with headquarters at New York.

Woodruff DeSilva, assistant director of Los Angeles airports, and Lieut. W. R. Sweeley of Clover Field, the other speakers, also spoke of the progress made by the aviation industry in recent years.

GOLDWYN ASSISTANT DIVORCED BY WIFE

Robert B. McIntyre, business manager for Samuel Goldwyn, motion-picture magnate, was divorced by his wife, Mrs. Marion McIntyre, in Superior Judge Fleming's court yesterday. Mrs. McIntyre testified her husband was cold and indifferent and finally left her in April, 1928. The couple had been married seven years.

Today's Bible Text

"For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, the just shall live by faith."
Romans 1:17.

THE RIGHT SIDE

If there are two sides to every story take a glance at the outside, but get the inside, if you can.

GOING UP

Now they are building a twenty-eight-story garage in Chicago. Some of the cars will have to have a running start to make the hurricane deck.

NOW FEELS SAFE

Man who had escaped from prison some time ago flew back to the institution in a plane the other day to escape an angry wife. The protection of four stone walls offers wonderful relief in some of these domestic embroilments.

MANY BONDS ISSUED

There are city, county and State bonds of California still outstanding to the extent of $756,000,000. The gentlemen who hold these securities must take a great deal of interest in the situation—in fact, the interest amounts to more than $100,000 a day. Citizens have been very ready to vote bonds in the past, but are now becoming more careful and considerate.

THE HIGH MARKS

This German pilot, Willy Neuhofer, climbed into the skies for a new altitude record of 42,123 feet, which is a little bit better than the other boys were able to do. These lofty records show fortitude and determination, but are of no material value in commercial flying. It is presumed that a plane can go higher than the pilot at the controls. There are always limits to human endurance.

THE COLOR LINE

The United States courts rule that the Virginia primary law, by the operations of which negroes have been excluded from the Democratic primaries, is unconstitutional. The courts have already held the same way in considering the Texas law, which works to the same end. These measures do not specifically deny the vote to a negro, but they are so worded that this application is made. To this extent they are held to be contrary to public policy and in violation of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution. Southern Democrats appear determined to draw the color line on all occasions.

HITTING THE HAY

One of the psychologists of the Mellon Institute has for four years or more been studying the cause and effect of sleep. He has had some hundreds under examination during most of that time and the conclusions he has reached are about as had been suspected. Anyhow, sleep is a handy thing to have although the reactions from fatigue, alcohol and asphyxiation are practically the same. He finds that some men can get along with much less sleep than others, which has been accepted as a fact since the days of Noah. But anyhow, it is a fine thing to realize that a Pittsburgh professor will watch us while we sleep. If sleep came from the land of Nod the committee on resolutions will wish to offer thanks to the man who invented it.

MALE AND FEMALE

Men are not always delighted with the ways of their women. Ask the judge in the divorce court. He knows. Here is one poor duffer who would ordinarily love his wife and find joy in her company but he is living in Los Angeles while the lady insists that she can dwell nowhere but in Vancouver. It may be mentioned that the two cities are too far apart for commuting. But the wife is stuck on Canada and refuses to spend any part of the year in Southern California. Of course the woman must be crazy, but insanity is not ground for divorce and so the husband has to call it desertion. Then here is another husband who says that his wife will not reduce or beautify herself. He says that she now weighs 300 pounds and is raising a beard. He asserts that a lady of that type might be all right for certain phases of the movies, but is not an ornament in his home. Anyhow, he would be rid of her. And so it goes. Men are prone to be either selfish or unsatisfied—possibly both.

REMARKABLE RECORD

Despite a very large increase in population, there has been a substantial decrease in major crime during the past three years, according to official figures. Since the police records in Los Angeles are admittedly the most accurate and scrupulously complete kept in any large city, the report furnishes conclusive proof that the police here definitely have the upper hand of the crime situation. There is still plenty of crime of all sorts, but it is being lessened at a rapid rate.

It would have been a victory for the police had they kept the increase of crime proportionately less than the population growth; it is still more of a victory to bring about an actual decrease, especially when it is considered that the number of men in the department has remained stationary and that it is badly hampered by lack of equipment. It is plain from the figures that the plans of Chief Davis have proved effective and that his men have backed him up loyally.

Such protection of life and property is the principal function of a police department, and when it is given minor faults may be overlooked.

For the first time since the statistical bureau was organized, in 1923, burglaries drop below the 6000 mark for the fiscal year, 1928-29. Eleven months of the year brought reports of only 5136 of these crimes; there were 7183 last year, 8003 the year before, and 8596 the year before that. Burglary is in every city the biggest problem of the police, and everywhere it has shown a vast increase during the present decade. The Los Angeles figures for this crime cannot be used for comparison with figures from other cities, because the records kept here are much more meticulous. For instance, the most trifling pass-key theft is here recorded under the "burglary" classification; in most cities such an occurrence would not appear in police records under any heading.

The most significant thing about the homicide rate is the increased efficiency of the detective bureau in ferreting out the perpetrators of this crime or crimes. Of sixty-six homicides, inclusive of murder and manslaughter, in 1926-27, there were twenty-four unsolved; of fifty-two in 1927-28 there remained twelve on the books without explanation; but of fifty-one so far in the present year only eight have not been brought to a definite conclusion. The homicide average for Los Angeles is about one a week; the rate is decreasing in proportion to population.

Robberies, which reached their high mark in 1924-25 at 1712, will be only 1200 or less this year—the eleven-month total was 1145 such crimes; there were 1567 last year and 1378 the year before. Here again the record includes many minor crimes which elsewhere would not be recorded. In automobile thefts, the figure probably will be substantially the same as last year; there were 10,813 in that period, 9108 so far this year with a month still to be heard from. There has been a greater increase in automobiles in the city than of population. Approximately 83 per cent of all stolen automobiles are recovered.

Figures for grand theft show an apparent increase, which is explained by a change in the method of classification by which the stealing of a truckload of goods is twice recorded—the truck as a stolen automobile, its contents under the grand-theft heading. In previous years this double recording was not done. There were 558 grand thefts last year, 626 in the eleven months of this fiscal year. Actually, therefore, such crimes are considerably fewer than formerly.

Pocket picking dropped from 558 for the twelve months of last year to 351 for the eleven months of this.

All in all, this is a record of which Los Angeles can be proud and is by far the best the city has ever had.

The police problem in Los Angeles is a particularly difficult one because of the city's great area, 441 square miles. The permanent population is 1,400,000 or more, and the total police personnel is only 2358, which is far below that of most cities of comparable size. There are, of course, large sparsely habited areas which need little policing, but even when this is taken into consideration it is plain that the officers are spread out very thinly and that each must cover much ground.

The report, on its face, makes out a strong case not only for the retention of Chief Davis, but also for granting him more men and more equipment. Any change in the headship of this department will compel the man who makes it to shoulder a grave responsibility.

TROUBLE AT WILLEMSTAD

Strengthening of the defenses at Willemstad, capital and port of the Dutch island of Curacao, is to result from a raid made there recently by Venezuelan brigands, who seized an American steamer, killed several policemen, took the Governor and military commander prisoner and sailed off with all the arms and ammunition there were in Willemstad. The steamer, the Governor and the commander have all been released, but the brigands, the arms and the ammunition are presumably somewhere in Venezuela starting another revolution.

Inasmuch as the Netherlands government does not seem inclined to hold Venezuela responsible, serious international complications are not likely to follow. Doubtless a demand will be made for the capture and punishment of the brigands, said to have been led by Gen. Urbina, who also is wanted in Colombia as a bandit and murderer; and Venezuela will reply to the demand that she is as anxious for their capture as the Dutch could possibly be. There the matter will probably stand unless Urbina's revolution chances to be successful, which would introduce complications.

At present there seems no likelihood that the American marines will be drawn into the affair, which marks it as unique in Caribbean disturbances.

TAX ON PETITIONS

Honolulu is about to place a special license tax upon all persons circulating petitions. Here is something the boys have been overlooking in this country. If we could tax all petitioners it would mean a lot of dough.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

TODAY'S colyum is dedicated to reform.

R. E. Porter asks us to take a crack at the guys who insist on trying on your new hat, to see if one like it would suit them, whether or not their heads fit it.

HOY DOG!
TAKE IT OFF, I KNOW YOU

"You stroll in to the office with your new straw hat, which just fits you," he says, "and instantly the four Scotchmen who have been holding off, waiting for straws to come down, gather around you. 'Lemme see how one like that 'ud look on me,' says one. And he packs it down on his head, which is two sizes bigger than yours. After the hat has gone around the circle you get it back, but it is no longer your size. It is stretched to fit bigger and emptier heads."

As to Stretchers

So, as he requests, we'll proceed to attempt a little reforming.

Why don't you quit alibi-ing, R. E. P.? You know you ought to let your wife go with you when you pick out anything, because you nearly always get the wrong size, or get stung somehow. But when you get home with a hat two sizes too large, which fact you haven't noticed till she calls your attention to it, you try to put over a story about the boys in the office stretching it.

You're "stretching it" yourself.

Theater-Ticket Shoppers

And A. V. writes us to please have the folks in theater-ticket offices quit selling the unsuspecting poor seats when they have better seats at the same price which are unsold. She suspects that some of them say "All we have left at that price are in the fifteenth row, right," in hope of making you buy higher-priced seats, or in order to save the better seats at the price you want to pay for those fussier people who insist on getting just what they want, if they have to stand at the ticket window till everyone else in the waiting line gets St. Vitus dance.

DON'T ANNOUNCE, MISS!
SURELY YOU MUST HAVE SOMETHING BETTER LET ME SEE

It may be so, but we imagine most theater managers would rather do anything else than increase the number of slow-selecters, for when there's a long, long line a waiting nothing else makes everyone quite so frantic as the ticket-window shopper who hems and haws for nineteen minutes before deciding where to sit.

So the best we can do is to thank A. V. for the compliment, but we have no supernatural powers.

Guilty!

Mrs. A. C. M. writes to ask us to "annihilate the pest who, on street cars, crosses his legs so that one foot sticks out into the aisle, to trip unwary passers or bruise their knees, or, if held high enough, smudge their skirts."

YOU BIG BRUTE!
OK LADY?

Why be personal? That's one of our own habits. We fellows who have too much legs and feet to fit comfortably into car seats have troubles of our own.

We Poor Reformers!

I heard a loud "reformer" tell
How wicked is our city.
It made him both denounce and yell—
And filled my heart with pity.
I thought: "How great a failure he Must be, poor little-wit,
If it's grown worse through all the years
He's been reforming it!"

ADAM SINNICK.

Problem: Is F. G. a Corner Grocer?

F. G. is all excited about the all-night drive-in markets.

"They're bad for business, health and morals," he asserts, in his large, whole-hearted way. "They foster night life which is unhealthful, both among purchasers and employees. They put the neighborhood grocer at a great disadvantage and take away a great part of his legitimate trade. They give the footpad and the burglar good excuse for being abroad at night. And they are absolutely unnecessary, for any housewife worthy the name can make her purchases in the daytime. If we turn the market business upside down we might as well turn all the others upside down, and do away with night and respectable hours altogether. And women who encourage this system are doing away with their last excuse for being taken care of by the men. If they can't attend to their housewifely duties during the day, and not have their men drive them out to market (on the way home from show or night club, robbing the men of sleep they need if they must work next day) they might just as well go out and work next day, as they men do."

FEDERAL OIL REGULATION

The declaration of Mark Requa, who, at the request of President Hoover, is endeavoring to bring about an interstate compact for regulation of the oil industry, that forces of the Federal government may have to be brought into play to suppress overproduction if the States fail to do so, should not be construed as a threat. It is a statement of fact. Overproduction of oil is worse in its national effects than overproduction of an agricultural product, since it is a wastage of precious natural resources which cannot be replaced, and some method of stopping it is more than merely desirable; it is a necessity.

Conservation of oil is so obviously for the common good that the incidental and temporary damage to individual and State revenues that it involves, is so slight in comparison as to be negligible. Neither Wyoming nor Colorado nor any other of the States opposed to unrestricted production will lose anything, in the long run, from having their oil kept in the ground for a few years; in fact, they will gain. Exploitation means eventual exhaustion, and it is to the long-run advantage of the States that have oil, not to have it exploited when it is not needed.

The problem is admittedly difficult and there are many conflicting interests that must be reconciled; but the outstanding facts require that a solution be found. These facts are that at present oil is being taken from the ground faster than the market can absorb it, and that to permit this condition to continue is the height of folly. Oil storage above ground is both expensive and wasteful; oil storage in the sands of nature costs nothing but the restraining of impatience.

Federal regulation of oil production is undesirable if it can be avoided, but Chairman Requa is right in saying that it will be attempted if found necessary.

THE SUPREME COURT'S YEAR

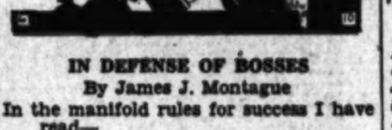
The United States Supreme Court has just closed one of its busiest terms. When it recessed for the summer on the 3rd inst. it had disposed of 850 cases, several of outstanding importance. Among these were Chicago's right to divert water from Lake Michigan to its drainage canal, which was denied, the railroad valuation case, the New York subway fare case, and several cases involving the authority of the Senate, among which was the one on which Harry Sinclair is now serving a jail sentence. The court also held, in a second Sinclair case, that shadowing of jurors constitutes contempt of court.

The decisions on the powers of the Senate unquestionably enlarge that body's authority, not indeed beyond its claims for itself, but beyond bounds hitherto set by common opinion. In the Sinclair case the court practically constituted the upper house of the National Legislature sole judge of whether it may properly conduct an inquiry, and in a case arising out of the Vare Senatorial election in Pennsylvania, refused to judge the relevancy of questions asked a witness and thus made the Senate its own master in this regard also.

The court clarified the naturalization law in the case of Mrs. Rosika Schwimmer, by holding that willingness to participate in defense against a national enemy is a prerequisite for citizenship. Mrs. Schwimmer's naturalization was denied on the ground that she is a pacifist.

At a previous term the court had laid down the rule that motorists must stop, look and listen when approaching railroad grade crossings. At the recent term it followed this up with corollary rules enhancing the power of State railroad commissions in the elimination of grade crossings, and upholding the right of a city to compel the maintenance of flagmen at street and railroad intersections.

No laws of Congress were declared void during the session, but several State acts were invalidated. Among these was a Pennsylvania statute aimed at chain drug stores.



IN DEFENSE OF BOSSES

By James J. Montague

In the manifold rules for success I have read—
  I have dwelt on them night after night—
I find that the best way of getting ahead
  Is the way that is kind and polite.
Great bosses are mild to their young employees
  When they learn that their judgment has erred,
And make every effort to put them at ease
  By a gentle and courteous word.

But though for some years I've been working around
  A means of existence to find
Somehow it has chanced that I never have found
  A boss of that large-minded kind.
When I made a mistake—and I made quite a lot—
  My shrift was exceedingly short,
More often than not I was sacked on the spot
  And with words of a pretty rough sort.

And now I am told that the average boss
  Is rarely with patience endowed.
He is often quick spoken and crabbed and cross,
  And his speech is uncommonly loud.
And yet, though this isn't an ethical way—
  As the maxims declare—to excel,
The most of these bosses I worked for, today
  Are doing exceedingly well.

And if I were a boss, and could say what I pleased
  Instead of what good bosses ought,
I believe now and then that my mind would be eased
  By uttering just what I thought.
I think it must soften the hard daily grind
  Which bends the executive's back
When he has an occasion to speak out his mind
  To a fellow who cannot talk back.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

All Good Men, Speak Out!

KINGMAN (Ariz.) June 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I note in The Times of June 3 an exclusive dispatch which said, "a group of twenty-four American industrial leaders and other prominent business men, including Henry Ford, Thomas A. Edison, Capt. Robert Dollar, J. C. Penny and Alfred P. Sloan, today issued a 'message to the American people' calling for support of President Hoover's law-enforcement program and for a 'fair trial' for prohibition."

Upon the heels of this comes a telegram to President Hoover from the Shriners gathered in convention in Los Angeles pledging the support of 600,000 members to the same cause.

This is, indeed, timely, and the very thing necessary in this critical time. The President as well as every other honest officer will have the heart to "carry on" in a much more effective and efficient manner if they know that every good man and woman in this country stands squarely behind them in the just enforcement of the law.

Let other communities and organizations throughout the country do this selfsame thing, and by so doing, the law enforcement officers of the country will then know that the people want this thing done and done quickly. Mussolini in Italy did it, and we can if we will but give a small bit of our attention to the affairs of the country.

It is time the law-abiding citizens come out into the open. Also is it time for some of the prominent publishers of the country to take stock of their own doings, for there is surely a day of reckoning on the way.

JOHN W. HENDERSON.

Snobs and Salesmen

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wish to congratulate Louisa Lightfoot for her very good argument in favor of the snob and the first-class salesman—she makes an excellent champion for both.

I do not hold any brief for holy folk—recently I have not met many. I was merely trying to point out the fact that "having things" is not the ultimate goal of existence. However, if her idea of absolute human achievement is being a good salesman—there is no argument—I merely bow and retire gracefully.

Humans are always interesting—the holier than thou or the slicker than thou and in the end we will likely find that all of us had the wrong idea—so why worry?

Exquisite Satire

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is quite evident that Prof. E. Rogers of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology indulged in exquisite satire when advising collegiate students to adopt the attitude of snobs if they desired to attain success in life, although he did not specify whether social or financial. It is likewise fully realized that the triumvirate of ungodliness in the human family are selfishness, ingratitude and snobbishness.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Telegraphy?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address, Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

On the wall of the telegraphy classroom, at the Frank Wiggins Trade School, Venice Boulevard, between Hill street and Grand avenue, is a list of 225 ex-students, and the names of the firms in which they were placed on leaving school. Instruction in this school is free, except for $1 enrollment fee, payable once a year.

Day classes are from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., and evening classes from 7 to 9 p.m. At present classes are held for five nights a week, but during the summer they will be held only three nights a week.

Students who attend school all day complete their training in the Morse code in four months, but it takes evening students eight months. Beginners are admitted to the evening classes.

The pay for girls is $75 to $145 a month. Boys receive $90 to $190, and promotion is quicker.

J. A. A. Lucier is the instructor. He is a member of the Old Time Telegraphers and Historical Association of New York, of which Andrew Carnegie was one of the first presidents. He also trains students in railroad station accountancy and telegraph station accountancy. He hopes to add automatic telegraphy to the Morse training in September.

Girl Babies Are Toughest

More boys than girls are born every year in the United States but girl babies have a 30 per cent better chance of living than boy babies, statistics of the Children's Bureau in Washington show. For every 100 female infant deaths there are 130 male mortalities among children under 1 year old. A prime cause of the greater death rate among boys, bureau experts assert, is lack of sunlight, boys needing more sunlight than girls who have a higher resistance to such ailments as rickets and others caused by lack of exposure to the sun's rays.

OLD SONGS TO NEW TUNES

BY HARRY BOWLING

Good causes are more often damaged by their friends than by their opponents. World peace is a good cause, an excellent cause, a cause that would have no enemies at all if its friends did not unwittingly produce them. An unfortunate incident that occurred in the environs of Paris the other day illustrates the danger of excessive enthusiasm or, as the poet expresses it, how "evil is wrought by want of thought."

The little suburb of Choisy le Roi was about to unveil a monument to its 300 men who gave their lives in the World War. A contingent of old soldiers was present to honor the memory of their comrades. All classes of the community were represented and among them were children from the schools in the neighborhood, massed around the foot of the monument. The stage was set for a reverential and patriotic demonstration.

At the head of the children was a little woman filled with a love of peace and a respect for all races of men. She saw a chance to improve the occasion and sow some good seeds in the cause of world harmony. So when the veil was drawn from the monument she gave a signal and the children rose to their feet and began to sing the "Marseillaise."

That is to say they sang the tune of the old battle song of France. But the well-known words were no longer there. In their place was a new hymn written by the pacifist schoolma'am. There was no exhortation to the sons of France to shed the impure blood of their enemies or to march on to victory or death! It was all about reaching the golden heaven of brotherhood and turning the other cheek to the smiter.

Immediately the whole demonstration was in an uproar. The legionnaires present at once began to vociferate their ancient determination to shed the blood of their enemies and to march on to victory or death. The pacifists shouted pugnacious demands for the golden brotherhood of heaven. Fists and sticks flew freely and the beautifully planned demonstration ended in a free-for-all.

Poor judgment, of course, on the part of the schoolma'am, and yet no poorer than many of the attempts made by more illustrious crusaders to advance the good of their brethren. Even in the best of causes men and women are not to be violently wrenched from their old sentiments and traditions. The dragon is not going to rest passive while his teeth are drawn and trying to hoist the god of war with his own petard is as futile as putting new wine into old bottles.

Nowhere is national sentiment more firmly intrenched than around its old songs and tunes. Nowhere does patriotism burn more fiercely than in the words and music of marches associated with the victories of its heroes. You might as well expect a people to change its flag as to rewrite its national anthem. Peace may have new songs. It should have. Songs are more powerful than words in swaying multitudes. But the old songs and the memories they stand for, even memories of death and carnage, are a country's inheritance. The Shriners can march in peaceful ranks to the martial strains of "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

From time to time well-meaning but futile efforts are put forth by American counterparts of the little French schoolma'am to substitute something more in keeping with the Kellogg peace treaties for "The Star-Spangled Banner." Prizes are offered for a new national American anthem. Nobody cares who wins such prizes or what becomes of their productions. Everyone stands at salute or bares his head at the opening bars of Francis Scott Key's immortal war song.

It is futile to tell a red-blooded American that the words of that song breathe the spirit of conflict. It is absurd to contend that they incite our people to another bomb bursting in air tragedy. That song was played by massed bands outside the British houses of Parliament in April, 1917. It is idle to proclaim that the tune as originally composed in the year 1770 was set to a wild bacchanalian club song.

For 115 years that song has represented the might, the majesty, the invincibility of a nation pledged to triumphant democracy, no matter in what scene of thundering guns and midnight bells it sprang fully panoplied from the brain of an American poet. For 115 years the music of its blood-stirring strains has accompanied the Stars and Stripes on thousands of momentous occasions and peaceful celebrations till it has become part and parcel of the very spirit of America. To us that tune was born in Baltimore in a pean of national thanksgiving and not in the Crown and Anchor tavern in London.

Nor will anything modern and softer and more saccharine ever take its place. Peace will come, but not through destroying the old songs or the old tunes. When we enter the era of universal law and war as national policy has been repudiated de facto as well as de jure, it is safe to predict that Frenchmen will still sing the "Marseillaise" to the old bad words and "The Star-Spangled Banner" will still be the national air of America.

A Tip for Inventors

Violin makers are worrying about the constant decrease in the number of white horses. What has that got to do with violin making? A great deal. The hairs from white horses' tails is used for bowstrings and no satisfactory substitute has so far been found. There is one little job for the inventors.

BROKEN LAWS

We struggle to enforce the law prohibiting the sale of booze; and violations are so raw that sometimes confidence we lose. And there are always prophets near who say, "Your efforts are no good, for men will have their gin and beer, and dark red bitters, aged in wood. The country's thick with knaves and crooks, and prohibition brought them in; wipe that fool statute off the books—it is the only way to win." Sometimes, discouraged, we believe this counsel is profound and wise; conditions make us sigh and grieve and brush the salt tears from our eyes. Then we remember there are laws prohibiting all sorts of crimes, and shall we wipe them out because we find them broken down at times? There is a law providing pains for those who rob us, under arms; yet robbers gather sinful gains, and seem to think their course has charms. Why have a law forbidding theft, since all such statutes are defied? Let people rob us right and left, and let the tail go with the hide. We feel some better when we think how many robbers go to jail; the law at times can put a kink in those who garner unearned kal. And murder is a bad offense that is verboten by the law; yet many slay, without much sense, until they feel the halter draw. Because some hands are stained with gore, should we insist the law is void that brings the hangman to the door of men who have good lives destroyed?

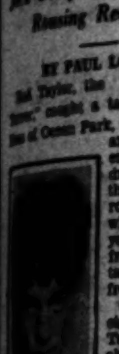
Terris Loses to Montoya on Foul in Fourth Round

Jack Dempsey Recipient of Rousing Reception

BY PAUL LOWRY

Bud Taylor, the "Terre Haute Terror," caught a tartar in Goldie Hess of Ocean Park, and the veteran was lucky to emerge with a draw after a thrilling ten-round fight in which the beach youngster came from behind to take the play from Taylor.



GOLDIE HESS

Going into the eighth round, Taylor was ahead with three rounds in his favor, three even and one for Hess. But in the eighth and ninth rounds Hess surged to the front, with a terrific splurge of fighting, hammered his way to decisive margins in both rounds and stood toe-to-toe in the tenth for a wild session that brought neither an edge that could in any wise sway Referee Lieut. Jack Kennedy.

So at the finish the navy arbiter hoisted both hands without a second's hesitation. It was quite a pill for the boys who had established Taylor as a three-to-one favorite to win, but there was no other possible decision.

Hess was entitled to his dues. He took everything Taylor had to offer, and was coming stronger and stronger at the finish. In fact, he [illegible] Taylor with long left and right-hand hooks in the closing rounds that brought anything but the smile which Bud carried in the earlier rounds.

HESS LOOKS PROMISING

By his incessant boring-in tactics Hess gives promise of developing into another Ace Hudkins. There was never a minute when the youngster from the beach city was treading water. He was always coming in, charging forward in relentless attack.

And it appeared to be nothing but a heart of the most courageous type that kept Taylor from visiting the canvas in the closing rounds, particularly the eighth when Hess rocked him with lefts and rights to the head.

In fact it was supreme courage that kept Taylor from losing several of the earlier rounds. After taking the first two rounds with a close-in body attack, Bud Hess seemed unable to follow. Taylor permitted Hess to get out in front in the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh rounds. Taylor came back strong enough in the latter half of the fifth round to get the margin in that frame, but he dropped the third and was held even in the other rounds.

JOHNS BAFFLES BEAVERS

BY BOB RAY

Augustus Johns, more familiarly known as Red to followers of the national pastime, uncorked a lot of wicked southpawing out at Wrigley Field yesterday to make it easy for the Hollywood Stars to win the series opener from Portland, 11 to 4.

"RED" JOHNS

Augustus, by the way, happens to be the middle monicker of Mrs. Lindbergh's husband, and to show that there might be something in a name, it looked as though Johns was going to make a non-stop flight to a shutout. However, Augustus's good ship Hollywood developed engine trouble around the shortstop position during the eighth inning and the Ducks sneaked across four unearned runs when Johns made a forced landing.

However, by the time those errors by Dud Lee enabled the Ducks to escape a whitewashing, the Stars had piled up eleven runs and nobody seemed to mind a little thing like four Portland markers being scored.

Joe Cascarella, the big curve and hook man, started on the mound for Portland, but blew up with a loud and resounding bang in the fourth. Five hits and a couple of walks were bunched off Joe in this big round and five runs came over to put the Sheiks off to a lead that was never threatened. John Beck replaced Cascarella and was pounded for six more scores in three innings. For no reason at all, Beck was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth and the services of Roy (Smokeball) Mahaffey were wasted on

CRAGHEAD CONQUERS KRUG CLAN

Oakland Hurler Defeats Walsh in Pitching Duel and Oaks Win, 4-2

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Pitching steadier ball than has been his wont through all this season, Howard Craghead gave the Oaks a winning day today at Emeryville and turned back the Angels in the opener of the series. Howard's men took a 4-to-1 victory, but the margin was not as wide as some of the cash customers would have preferred.

HOWARD CRAGHEAD

Back of the improved pitching of Craghead was the heavy bombarding of his team-mates, who slashed away at Augie Walsh all the afternoon, notwithstanding three runs in the first inning virtually gave the boys their win.

Craghead, aside from that same first inning, when the Angels bunched a walk with two hits for a tally, was in fine form until the sixth. Then came two singles with a double steal for another tally for the visitors.

As a matter of fact, however, things looked the worse for Craghead in the seventh when the visiting firemen laced out two hard-hit singles with but two down. Score:

HARRY KIPKE FOLLOWS WIEMAN AS MICHIGAN FOOTBALL COACH

DETROIT, June 11. (AP)—Harry G. Kipke, former all-American halfback, at the University of Michigan, will return to his alma mater next September as head football coach, according to announcement late today by Fielding H. Yost, director of intercollegiate athletics. Kipke succeeds Elton E. (Tad) Wieman, who was removed from his position by Yost. Frank C. Cappon, former head football coach at the University of Kansas, will take over Wieman's duties as assistant director of intercollegiate athletics. Cappon already is a member of the Michigan coaching staff. Wieman will remain at the university as assistant professor of physical education.

CALIFORNIA STARS BATTLE

Mrs. Green, Mrs. Edwards Feature Quarter-Finals of Southland Golf Championship Today

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Now that the necessary preliminaries are over, eight feminine stars, survivors of first-round matches, will settle down to the serious business of winning the Southern California women's golf championship at the Virginia Country Club.

First-round matches played yesterday came through without a single hitch, favorites and dark horses, alike, winning to enter the quarter-finals, although two victories were by hairline margins.

MRS. ROY GREEN

Mrs. Roy Green, California Country Club women's champion, barely pulled her match out of the fire on the nineteenth hole, where she defeated Mrs. J. C. Rentch of Oakmont. Mrs. Green was 1 up at the turn, but did not fare so well coming back. Mrs. Rentch played in hard luck on the eighteenth green, when she was forced to play a stymie, and knocked Mrs. Green's ball into the hole. Mrs. Green won on the nineteenth with a 5.

San Diego's most brilliant woman golfer, Miss Lucille De Long, also had her work cut out for her in defeating Mrs. Chris E. Rayser of Fox Hills, on the eighteenth green.

Two matches of more than ordinary interest are scheduled for this morning, when California's foremost women golfers, Mrs. Green and Mrs. Bess Edwards battle. Miss De Long

GAVUZZI MAINTAINS HIS LEAD

Front Man in Pyle Run Holds Slight Edge Over John Salo

CALEXICO (Cal.) June 11. (AP)—Pete Gavuzzi, bearded Italian from England, retained his lead of 55m. and 46s. in the transcontinental bunion derby today in the face of a bitter attempt by Johnny Salo, Passaic (N. J.) policeman, to recover first place during the 58.8-mile grind between Algodones, Mex., and Calexico.

PETER GAVUZZI

Salo, virtually recovered from the stomach trouble which had made miserable his last few days of running, gave Gavuzzi a hard fight throughout the lap. They finished in a tie with Sam Richman, of New York, for second place. The trio ran the lap, seventy-third of the coast-to-coast jaunt, in 8h. 16m. and 5s.

Guisto Umek, of Italy, who holds down third place in elapsed time, ran the distance in 7h. 30m. and 10s. to register his third lap victory in four days. By capturing it the Italian slightly closed up the gap between himself and the leaders.

Herbert Hedeman of New York, oldest entrant in the race; M. C. McNamara, of Australia, and Elmer Cowley, of Clifton, N. J., finished in a triple deadlock for fifth place. Their time was 9h. 3m. and 50s. Harry Abramowitz, of New York, was eighth in 9:24:15.

The bunioners entered the Imperial Valley today. Tomorrow they will travel to Jacunt, Cal., forty-seven miles distant, over a desert and mountainous road.

The elapsed time table:

Pete Gavuzzi, England	475:45:33
John Salo, Passaic, N. J.	476:41:19
Guisto Umek, Italy	490:47:18
Sam Richman, New York	514:44:58

EASTERN STAR NATION'S BEST

Legionnaires Plan Welcome for Great Runner

Indians in Fine Shape for Saturday's Grind

Athletes Scheduled to Report at 11 o'clock

BY BRAVEN DYER

Clarence De Mar, America's most famous marathoner, sets foot in Los Angeles this morning for the first time in his life. "The Melrose Marvel" is slated to arrive over the Southern Pacific at 10:25 and will be accorded a royal welcome by local American Legion members, De Mar being a World War veteran.

SEVERO ALVAREZ

Although past his forty-first birthday, the famous distance star has felt the call of battle again and is coming to run Saturday in the first annual Times Pre-Olympic Marathon. De Mar was first a member of the United States Olympic team in 1912, having twice been on the squad since then, so his career has been a long and honorable one.

WON SIX TIMES

The Melrose typesetter is best known for his sensational triumphs in the historic Boston Marathon. He has finished in front six times. It was in 1911 that De Mar won his first race. From then until 1922 he had to be content with something less than first, his best showing being in 1917 when he was third.

In 1922, however, De Mar broke out all over the place, winning the run in the fastest time ever recorded in the history of the event, 2h. 18m. 10s. Victorious again in 1923 and 1924, De Mar slipped to second in 1925, losing first place by a margin of 36s., which is pretty close finishing for a race of twenty-six miles. In 1926 he was third, seven minutes behind the winner, but in '27 and '28 he busted loose with two more victories. This year De Mar was ninth, his time being 2h. 43m.

Entries for the race officially closed yesterday, there being sixty-eight runners signed up. Three of these were ruled out however for having participated in C. C. Pyle's derby last year, which leaves the number of starters at sixty-five.

JENKINS AILING

Coach B. A. Jamison gave his Sherman Indians a workout yesterday afternoon and pronounced all but Tom Jenkins in excellent shape. Jenkins has a bad foot. The Indians will come to Los Angeles Friday, be driven over the route and then rest until race time.

The Sherman Institute possesses thirty-one trophies, won by its students in running races. It was quite a surprise to the writer, who has been a "native son" for only ten years, to learn that many of these were won in Times marathon races back in 1912 and 1913. There were more than half a dozen cups for these two years, which indicates that the Redskins rather hogged the honors during those days.

Severo Alvarez, a Mexican runner from Santa Paula, arrived in town yesterday. He claims to have done eighteen miles in 2h. 10m., while merely

Quartet of "Beeg Strong Fellers" Will Feature Tonight's Olympic Mat Program

ROUGH MATCH IS PREDICTED

Daviscourt and Lutze Mix in Main Event

Malcewicz Picked to Beat "Bad Bill" Beth

Lumberjack May Get Chance for Bigger Bouts

TONIGHT'S MAT BOUTS

Nick Lutze vs. Dick Daviscourt, best two out of three falls to a finish. Joe Malcewicz vs. Bill Beth, best two out of three falls to a finish. White Noble vs. Al Baffert, one fall, thirty-minute time limit.

NICK LUTZE.

Dick Daviscourt, whose roughing tactics have made him one of the toughest grapplers in the game to handle, will clash with Nick Lutze, the popular Chicago mat star, in the finish feature event of this card.

Judging this pair of topnotchers by the work each has shown here in his recent bouts, their battle should be the most sensational seen at the Olympic in many months, in the opinion of mat experts. Although Lutze is known as a "clean wrestler," he has proven time and again his ability to care for himself against every rougher he has faced.

In Daviscourt, however, Lutze will be up against a 220-pounder who not only outroughed Ed (Strangler) Lewis recently, but also outwrestled him for almost an hour. It was in this battle, held here last month, that Daviscourt proved himself to be a great wrestler as well as a great rougher, and his last few workouts for tonight's match showed that he was in even better condition than he was for the bout with the former champion.

Lewis is Daviscourt's pet enemy, and he is in line for a return battle with the Kentuckian if he beats Lutze. Promoter Daro has promised him the match, if he wins tonight, and the only thing that will stop Daviscourt from turning the trick tonight is the new backward body slam Lutze has perfected and used with success in his last two matches here.

This backward slam is made to order for Daviscourt's style of wrestling. The Kansan lets himself in a position to be nabbed with the hold every time he goes in for a front head lock which has proven often in his local bouts. It is considered quite possible that Daviscourt will use the side head locks, exclusively, during this bout, and eliminate any possibility of being tossed with this knockout hold.

It is generally agreed among close followers of the mat game that Lutze is due for the roughest match he has had on the coast in more than a year. If the Kansan carries out his original intentions, he will attempt to outwrestle Lutze, and rough him only when he finds it absolutely necessary in order to throw his opponent off balance or off guard.

Because of his sensational work against Lewis here recently, and the improvement he has shown in his recent workouts, Daviscourt is being made a slight favorite over the young Chicago star, in some quarters, while several mat critics believe the outcome is a toss-up, and rate the pair evenly.

Whatever the outcome, the match is expected to be one of the best seen here, while the second bout, which will bring together Joe Malcewicz, the Utica mat panther, and "Bad Bill" Beth, 220-pound rough lumberjack, is expected to be just as sensational.

Beth made a great showing against Lutze here last month, and he appears to be in line for feature event bouts. Although he is not favored to beat Malcewicz tonight, he is being picked to give the Utican a tough battle. Whether he wins or loses, he may get a shot at Daviscourt in the near future, if he makes a good showing against Malcewicz tonight.

Hollywood to Play Lincoln

Coach Frank Mallette's Lincoln High City League baseball champs for 1929 will tangle with the Hollywood High pill tossers this afternoon on the Occidental College ball lot.

The Tigers are favored to take the encounter handily, as the lads from Hollywood have one of the weakest nines in years. A win for the Tigers will give the North Broadway boys the undisputed hold on the flag, as they will end up the season the only undefeated nine in the loop.

Reyes will probably be on the mound for the Redshirts, while Nick Colleti, a fourth-string pitcher for the Tigers, is expected to do the hurling for the Railsplitters.

Two other games are on tap for Friday in the last round of play. Coach Ching Duhms's Jefferson High Democrats will travel to Los Angeles High, while Manual Arts will take on the Franklin High nine on the Panthers' diamond. Poly High gets a bye.

GROGAN PUT ON BLACK LIST

CHICAGO, June 11. (AP)—Tommy Grogan, Omaha lightweight, was fined $1000 and suspended for thirty days by the Illinois State Athletic Commission today for fouling Louis Vicentini, Chilean 135-pounder, in the sixth round of the bout at the Chicago Stadium last night.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

GUNNING FOR DE MAR

CONSIDER the dilemma of Coach B. A. Jamison of the Sherman Institute. He has six Indians entered in the first annual pre-Olympic Marathon Saturday and can't name his best man.

"If so and so," says Jamison, "are in the lead at the end of twenty miles they will fight it out to the finish, but if the other group of so and sos are ahead the first group of so and sos will never catch them."

None of the Marathon boys from Sherman are California Indians.

Jamison was asked the reason for this condition.

"The California Indians are too lazy," he said. "Those from New Mexico and Arizona run for the sheer love of running the year around. Marathons are nothing new to them. We run them at Sherman just as we do ten and fifteen-mile lopes.

"Four of the Indian boys running Saturday are Hopis from Arizona, one is a Navajo from New Mexico, the other a Zuni from New Mexico."

Jamison himself is a Seneca who attended Haskell before coming to the Coast. He played football there with many of the stars who later went to Carlisle and became famous under the coaching of Glenn Scobey Warner.

He predicts that the pre-Olympic Marathon will be run under three hours, in fact he insists that the time will be faster than two hours fifty minutes, which is stepping right along.

Jamison says his Indian boys welcome the presence of Clarence De Mar, the famous veteran marathoner, in the race. According to the Indian coach the coming of the easterner put more pep into his boys than anything else possibly could.

GIVE HIM A MEDAL

THE chap who deserves the gold medal for entering the pre-Olympic Marathon is Joe Quirk of Framingham, near Boston, Mass.

Although Joe's bid was rejected his heart was in the right spot.

He wrote that he would hitch-hike from his home to the Coast if he could have $25 for "sleeping bill" and $25 for "eats" to and from Boston.

Joe's requests were so modest that the A.A.U. probably will never forgive him.

He concluded his letter with these lines: "I figure on winning your race, or I would never take time to write this."

At that Joe might have had his request granted but he got his dates twisted and had the race listed as the 25th inst. instead of the 15th inst.

ANOTHER BIRTHDAY

MR. JAMES WOODS, esteemed commissioner of the State Athletic Commission, was a victim of hand paralysis when he hit the hay last night. It was birthdayitis with our boxing pooh-bah.

Although he was coy about the number of years that have rolled over the old mill wheel he admitted on advice of attorney that he would never be as young again.

The commissioner has another year of accomplishment in the business world to look back upon, and in his world of hobby—sports—he must gain singular satisfaction in retrospect.

As ruler in this section of the State Athletic Commission territory he has brought order out of chaos, replaced a certain distrust with confidence, injected a human understanding into a thankless and unremunerative position, and in general established satisfaction where there was only grief before.

May the commissioner be sempiternal!

A DIVORCED TOUCH

IT WAS a distressing sight to see Fred Morrison, splendid golfer that he is, literally "blow" his chances to represent the West in the national open golf championship simply because he couldn't putt.

But that is exactly what happened to the big Midwick pro over at Lakeside the other day. He took four putts on the home green, not to mention other occasions when the old brass blade went back on him.

It was just one of those things—the "putting touch" that failed.

His putter went bad on him in the Southern California open championship a month ago, and apparently he hasn't regained the delicate feel that makes a player drop 'em from any and all angles.

And if you haven't got the touch you're lost. Ask Bobby Jones. Even the peerless Atlanta star is a victim sometimes.

A. A. U. Locks Out Mermaids

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—The Amateur Athletic Union today locked the doors of amateurs' competition against two more of America's Olympic champions, both women.

Miss Martha Norelius, sensational winner of the 400-meter free-style swim at Amsterdam last summer, and Miss Helen Meany, Olympic low-board diving title-holder, were found guilty of giving unauthorized exhibitions with professionals.

The ruling stipulates that Miss Norelius must give up the prizes she won at the national women's championships which began the latter part of February. In making known its decision, the committee declared itself "satisfied that Miss Norelius gave an unsanctioned swimming exhibition with professional swimmers at Miami, Fla., on January 27, 1929, and at other times and places.

Charges against Miss Meany were similar and more numerous. Among other things, she is accused of "capitalizing her athletic fame" by allowing her name to be advertised in Miami newspapers in conjunction with exhibitions given by professional swimmers.

Scott to Take on Schmeling

NEW YORK, June 10.—Humbert Fugazy, Brooklyn boxing promoter, today visited the New York State Athletic Commission and exhibited signed contracts calling for a bout between Phil Scott, English heavyweight, and Max Schmeling, latest boxing sensation imported from Germany. The boxing solons accepted the papers and stated that a date for the bout must be arranged after the 27th inst., or after Schmeling has had his fistic rendezvous with Paolino Uzcudun at the Yankee Stadium.

FAVORITES BEATEN IN SQUASH TOURNEY

All favorites but George Harris, swimming ace, were eliminated from the first round of competition yesterday in the Hollywood Athletic Club junior championship squash-handball singles tournament. Harris eliminated another premeet favorite, Duncan Puett, in the feature match, 21-16, 19-21, 21-20, and the third, Earl Conrade, withdrew.

Results:

Harris defeated Puett, 21-16, 19-21, 21-20; James Irsfeld, Jr., defeated Van Dam, 21-7, 21-17; Elmer Clift defeated Dick Corrington, 21-2, 21-12; Bob Dexter, Jr., defeated Ince, 21-17, 17-21, 21-17; Francisco Alonso defeated Kress, 21-4, 21-3; John Hillman defeated Ralph Deering, 21-4, 21-4; Graham defeated Williams, 21-11, 21-14.

SIX YANKEES REMAIN IN BRITISH AMATEUR EVENT

SANDWICH (Eng.) June 11. (AP)—While John Dawson of Chicago continued to wait for an opponent in the British amateur golf championship, the first round of play was completed today and half the second round disposed of.

Two major upsets featured the eliminations when two members of the last British Walker Cup team, Lord Charles Hope and Maj. C. O. Hezlet, were defeated. Cyril Tolley and some other favorites had narrow escapes.

Six Americans remain in the competition, Dawson, Robert H. Baugh, Jr., Douglas Grant, Joshua Crane and Charles Sweeney, as a result of victories today, while Stuart Sheftel advanced when his opponent defaulted.

Duncan Anderson carried Grant to the eighteenth hole and Bobby Baugh, the Rhodes scholar, had to play nineteen holes to win his second-round match. Joshua Crane disposed of the titled Englishman, Lord Charles Hope, 4 and 2, and young Charles Sweeney revenged defeats of his two kinsmen yesterday by downing C. H. Brickell, 6 and 4. Dawson makes his debut early tomorrow with Dr. J. C. MacCormack as his opponent.

The great match in today's play was Tolley's struggle with William Sutton, the Cheshire artisan, who had his famous golfing opponent 2 down at the turn and fought him to the last hole before admitting defeat.

Tolley will play Douglas Grant tomorrow. Charles Sweeney's opponent will be E. H. W. Scott. Stuart Sheftel's opponent will be Moore Brabton. R. H. Baugh, Jr., will try conclusions with H. G. Bentley and Joshua Crane stacks up against Dudley Redman.

CALIFORNIANS BATTLE TODAY

Mrs. Green, Mrs. Edwards in Quarter-Finals Row

Favorites Win First Round Play at Virginia

Mrs. Pressler Cops Initial Match, 7 and 6

will face her crucial test in Mrs. Gregg Lifur of the Riviera Country Club, former Southland champion.

In the upper bracket, Mrs. Leona Pressler, defending champion and medalist, meets Mrs. C. A. Rife, and Miss Helen Lawson faces Mrs. John Hollywood.

Mrs. Pressler played the most convincing golf of the day. She shot a 39 going out, and finished 4-4-5, to defeat Mrs. F. G. Wilson of Virginia, 7 and 6. Mrs. Russell Fowles held Mrs. Lifur even for nine holes, but finally admitted defeat, 3 and 2. Both had 42's going out.

Miss Lawson, who is playing steady golf, eliminated Mrs. Blanche Cuppa, 6 and 5. Mrs. Rife won from Miss Helen Luscomb of San Diego, 4 and 2. Miss Luscomb was defeated, but look for this young lady next year to give them all a battle. Physically, she compares very favorably with Helen Hicks, the sensational young star of Hewlett, L. I., who cleaned up during the winter. Miss Luscomb hits a terrific ball, and with a bit more tournament experience should be hard to beat.

Following are pairings and starting times for today:

CHAMPIONSHIP

Starting time, 10 a.m.

Mrs. Leona Pressler defeated Mrs. F. G. Wilson, 7 and 6.

Mrs. C. A. Rife defeated Miss Helen Luscomb, 4 and 2.

Mrs. Roy Green defeated Mrs. J. C. Renish, 19 holes.

Mrs. R. E. Edwards defeated Mrs. B. T. Fitz Hugh, 4 and 3.

Miss Lucile De Long defeated Mrs. C. E. Haynor, 1 up.

FIRST FLIGHT

Starting time, 10:30 a.m.

Mrs. F. M. Slade defeated Mrs. E. K. Fleming, 3 and 2.

Mrs. L. Killian defeated Mrs. E. M. Bergwall, 4 and 2.

Mrs. George Herald defeated Mrs. G. E. Wilson, Jr., 3 and 2.

Mrs. Herman Fellis defeated Mrs. B. S. Browne, default.

Mrs. N. Howell defeated Mrs. R. C. Noble, 5 and 4.

Mrs. L. R. Milliken defeated Mrs. V. E. Wittinger, 2 and 1.

SECOND FLIGHT

Starting time, 11 a.m.

Mrs. C. A. Delaney defeated Mrs. B. Hayne, 19 holes.

Paulino and Schmeling in Busy Sessions

BY NOEL BUSCH

HOSICK FALLS (N. Y.) June 11. Paulino Uscudun today experienced a workout harder than any he has had since his arrival at the dairy farm and fight camp of Hans Von Ehmler. And Paulino is not yet in good shape. After one round with Buddy Howard today he was puffing hard.

As usual, he looked better against Jack Demave, who always stands up and slugs with him, than against either of his other targets, and he chased the New Jersey heavyweight this afternoon with an encouraging ferocity, even achieving a slight cut over Demave's right eye.

Benny Touchstone steered the panting Basque away from him around the ring and Paulino, making more than usually determined efforts to dispose of Touchstone's long left hand, went through a two-round boxing lesson which likely did him some good.

After this and the proper amount of bag work and shadow boxing Paulino was plainly tired.

BY JACK FARRELL

LAKEWOOD (N. J.) June 11.—The matter of sparring partners comprised the chief topic of conversation today in the camp of Max Schmeling.

Two new sparring partners for the German are expected to arrive tomorrow. One of them will be George La Rocco, a tough Italian, who, his handlers believe, will prove beneficial to Schmeling's training for Paulino.

Max proved a rough customer for his jaded sparring brigade today. Only two worked, Herman Heller being unable to go through his paces.

Ray Neumann was on the receiving end, taking considerable punishment in his three rounds of boxing. Neumann, in fact, took enough bruising to earn an odd rest for several days. George Neron, who worked the other two rounds, suffered a cut over the left eye.

BAMBINO TAKES THE REST CURE

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Babe Ruth, the celebrated convalescent, left today for an unknown destination "in the country" for a rest which he expects to put him in condition to return soon to the Yankee outfield.

PASO ROBLES GETS REPEATER

PASO ROBLES, June 11. (AP)—J. Stewart Campbell, manager for the local ball park, has been advised by Barney Dreyfus, president of the Pittsburgh Nationals, that the Pirates will make Paso Robles their spring training camp in 1930. It will be the seventh season the team has trained here.

SQUIRE GOING EAST

Huntington Park Coach to Accompany Junior Olympic Boys to Atlantic City for Nationals

BY BRAVEN DYER

R. E. (Pop) Squire, popular Huntington Park athletic coach, will accompany the four Southern California Junior Olympic Games champions to Atlantic City for the national finals there the early part of next month. The Huntington Park Major Civic Improvement Association stepped in and arranged to send Squire East and Vane Baker, brilliant young athlete who won the junior title with the largest score ever tallied by a Junior Olympic Games contestant anywhere.

The Civic Improvement Association is a branch of the Huntington Park Chamber of Commerce and in addition to having a very high regard for "Pop" also think quite a bit of Vane. That they are making a good investment in sending Squire along with Baker is a foregone conclusion for it is hard to see how anything but a serious accident or illness can prevent Vane from copping the national crown, thereby bringing Huntington Park much publicity.

It would seem that the town of San Pedro might well step forward and send Arthur Dietz along with Jerry Deal and Robert San Jose, second-place winners. Deal was Southern California junior champion last year. He is a great little athlete and will undoubtedly score well back East. San Jose is right on a par with Ramos, which means that one has as good chance of winning as the other.

Of course, the four boys are being adequately coached by Boyd Comstock, director of the Junior Olympics for Southern California, and they will be well taken care of by John F. Ness of the executive committee on the trip East, but it would be a nice thing if each could be accompanied by his own school or playground mentor. This also applies to Coach McKenzie, who mentors Fernando Ramos at Ross Snyder Playground. This district is far from a rich one and if McKenzie is to go East the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce or some other local organization will have to step in and do a good turn.

The town of Azusa sent Coach Friar with Johnny Falcon last year and they brought home the senior championship. Ramos is just as good a bet as Falcon was in 1929 and McKenzie is undoubtedly a capable coach.

HANDBALL TEAMS IN FINAL MATCH FRIDAY

The date for the finals of the L.A.A.C. doubles handball tournament has been set for Friday noon on Court No. 5 at the Mercury Club, it was announced last night by Commissioner Harold Reed. In this match Maynard Laswell, retired national champion, and his partner, Gordon Bleckner, will meet Joe Powers and Ira Courtney. Although the tournament has been a handicap affair the match Friday will be played from scratch by both teams.

DRIVERS WILL QUALIFY FOR ASCOT NIGHT CAR

Qualifying trials for the inaugural A.A.A. program of night automobile racing, at the American Legion Speedway this Saturday night, will be run off at 4 p.m. Saturday, according to an announcement from H. A. Marow, manager of the track.

Results of the qualifying trials will determine which sixteen of the thirty-five entries now in the hands of speedway officials will be allowed to start in the finals in the evening. The first race of the night program, which is scheduled to get under way promptly at 8:30 p.m., will be a five-mile sprint. AUBREY DEVINE NAMED FROSH GRIDIRON COACH FOR TROJANS

Aubrey Devine, all-American quarterback in 1920 and 1921 and for the past four years a member of the University of Southern California football coaching staff, has been named freshman football coach at the Trojan university next fall.

Coincident with this announcement was the statement by Director of Athletics Bill Hunter that Lloyd Thomas and Charles Boren, three-year varsity stars on Coach Howard Jones's squad, will be assistant freshman coaches.

Inasmuch as Devine does a lot of scouting for Jones it is likely that Thomas will assume charge of the frosh after the first part of the season. Lloyd is a very capable chap and his appointment to the Trojan coaching staff was exclusively announced in The Times some time ago.

Devine, one of the most colorful players in football history when he starred at Iowa under Jones, has been with the Southern California coaching staff since Jones came to S.C. as head coach in the fall of 1925. He acted as assistant varsity coach in '25, was freshman mentor in '26 and '27 and went back to the varsity as backfield specialist and scout last fall.

the mound during the Hollywood half of the round.

COOPER BOSSES DUCKS

In the absence of "Wild Willyum" Rodgers, who is recovering from an ear operation, the Ducks were managed by Guy Cooper, the Portland coach.

Joe Hassler, who recently joined the Ducks from the Athletics, made his Coast League debut at short for the Portlanders. This necessitated the switching of Walters to third base, which evidently is a strange spot to him, judging by the way he was crossed up by a couple of Hollywood bunts.

Both Cascarella and Johns disposed of the batters in one-two-three order until the home half of the fourth when the Stars put on a five-run rally that took all interest out of the struggle.

Eli Funk broke the spell to start the fourth by beating out a slow roller to Hassler in back of second. Burkett forced Funk, Hassler unassisted. Rollings slashed a terrific smash down the first-base line, but Keesey knocked it down with an unconscious stop, picked up the ball and beat the Redhead to the bag. Cascarella then lost control and walked Rumler and Carlyle to clog the cushions. Mickey Heath hit the next pitch on a line to right field for a single that scored Burkett and Rumler and sent Carlyle to third. Lee, Sypher and Johns all followed with successive singles and Carlyle, Heath and Lee crossed the plate. Funk walked, but Burkett grounded to Keesey for that long-delayed third out.

Walters and Bates touched Johns for singles after there was one out in the fifth, but the Sheik southpaw disposed of Borelli and Woodall to prevent any scoring.

Beck began pitching when Hollywood came to bat in the fifth and the Stars started after him in the sixth. Three hits and a walk gave the Sheiks two more runs in the sixth. After Heath had lined to Frey, Lee beat out a bunt down the third-base line. Sypher drew a pass and then Johns sacrificed the runners along. Funk plunked a single to right to drive Lee and Sypher over the plate. Burkett also beat out a bunt down the third-base line, but Rollings fouled out to Woodall for the third out.

RUMLER HITS HOMER

Bill Rumler started the Sheiks off on a four-run rally in the seventh when he hammered one of Beck's offerings far over the left-field wall. That wallop unsteadied Beck, who walked Carlyle, allowed Heath to double, and then walked Lee and hit Sypher to force in a run. Heath also scored and the other runners advanced when Hassler threw out Johns. Hassler should have started a double play on Johns's roller, but fumbled the ball and was lucky to get his man at first. Funk's sacrifice fly to Bates brought Lee over the plate with the fourth run of the round.

Johns saw his hopes of a shutout go aglimmering in the eighth when Lee committed two errors in a row to enable the Ducks to chalk up four unearned runs. Borelli opened the eighth with a single to right, but Woodall flied to Carlyle and Rego, batting for Beck, forced Borelli at second to make it two away. Frey blasted a double to center and some fast fielding by Carlyle held Rego at third. However, Lee then snagged Hassler's grounder and heaved the ball over Heath's head to permit Rego and Frey to cross the plate on a play that should have retired the side. Keesey then rapped an easy grounder to Lee, who promptly muffed the ball and both runners were safe. Art Jahn's single to left filled the bases and Walters followed with another one-base shot to left that tallied Hassler and Keesey. Bates forced Walters, Lee to Burkett, to end the inning.

Mahaffey blanked the Stars in their half of the eighth, while the only bit of excitement in the Portland ninth was caused by Woodall's double, but the Duck catcher died on second.

Foul Tips

Hank Hulvey, who didn't fare so well in his mound efforts against the Seals last week, will be Oscar Vitt's pitching selection for Hollywood in today's game against Portland. Curt Fullerton, the ex-Star, is expected to be the Ducks' starting slabster.

Bill Rumler, who has been handicapped by injuries most of the season, is beginning to get his eye back up at the plate. Rumler poked one of Beck's offerings far over the left-field wall in the seventh inning yesterday.

Rumler's homer yesterday was so hard hit that Art Jahn, the Portland left fielder, didn't even move out of his tracks for everybody in the park could tell the ball was bound for foreign parts.

Woodall, the Portland catcher from Detroit, doesn't look so good at tagging runners coming into the plate. On a couple of occasions Woodall took throws from the outfield and didn't even make a move to tag the runners.

Red Rollings was the only Hollywood player who didn't get a hit yesterday. Rollings was robbed of a hit in the fourth when Keesey turned his back to Red's hard-hit drive and knocked the ball down with his body for an unconscious stop. From the press box it looked as though Rollings had considerable to say about Keesey's stop when he got down in the dugout.

Although it hasn't been announced yet, it is expected that a double-header will be played by the Stars and Ducks Friday. The extra game will be added to make up for the five contests rained out during the Sheiks' trip to Portland early in the season.

PRELIMS SIGNED FOR MAIN STREET

Four preliminaries will support next Saturday night's double wind-up at the Main-street Athletic Club. The bouts "underneath" include Roy Billobos vs. Gus Paranaque, 120 pounds; Fred Tynovitz vs. Ritchie Aguayo, 140 pounds; Jimmy Carter vs. Tony Piscitelli, 145 pounds, and Frank Quigley vs. Jimmy Finazza, 130 pounds. Jack Charvez and Bert Hubbard, middleweights, clash in one-half of the double main event, with Raul Talan and Tiger Bobo, 135-pounders, in the other.

Chief of Police Davis and his traffic officials are all set to handle the route of the race. W. P. Hendry, Culver City Chief of Police and Lieut. Ed Coppo will take care of the marathon route in their section. C. C. Blair, Chief of Police in Beverly Hills and Sergt. A. L. Taylor will have men stationed at intersections in their district.

Although it is hoped it will not be put to much use, Claire Overholtser will furnish the official ambulance. Dr. Ben Frees will act as official physician, while the Tanner Service will furnish a large bus to pick up the stragglers who may suddenly decide they have run far enough.

Charles Keppen, manager of the race, has requested all entrants to report to Clerk of the Course Kinter Hamilton at the Central High School Building, 451 North Hill street, sharply at 11 o'clock. Mr. Hamilton will give the runners their instructions and the numbers which they must wear, and from the high school building they will be taken to the starting point directly in front of the City Hall.

Chief of Police Davis, the best pistol shot in the police department, will fire his cannon and the race will be officially under way at 12 noon—the zero hour.

PIPGRAS WINS

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—The Yankees assaulted four St. Louis pitchers for seventeen hits and twenty-four bases here today, and the champions won their third straight over the Browns by 11 to 5. Combs, Robertson and Durocher tossed triples into the Yankee collection, Combs's drive being his fifth triple in his last four games.

George Pipgras allowed thirteen hits, but his big lead and fine support saved him. Manush got a double and two singles. Score:

DE HATE CHANGES STYLE UNDER HUDKINS'S BOSSING

Ace Hudkins is interested in Paul De Hate and Ace expects to groom De Hate for a shot at the welterweight championship. De Hate is fighting Freddie Fitzgerald in the main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night.

The Hudkins family has taken over the management of Paul De Hate and Ace has changed De Hate's style of fighting. He is trying to copy the style that made Hudkins famous. De Hate appears to be more aggressive than ever before, and seemingly has a harder punch. After Tommy Jones had beaten Dick Hoppe at Hollywood he fought Paul De Hate and De Hate beat Jones without any trouble.

Interest in Poison Pisons, the Filipino flyweight champion of the Navy, is about as great as it is in the main-eventers. Pisons is regarded equally as good as Speedy Dado, and the boys in the Navy assert he will be the next flyweight champion. Pisons fights Clayton Gouyd in the semi-wind-up.

MISSIONS WIN OVER SEATTLE CLUB, 6-1

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11. (AP)—The league-leading Mission Reds punched out a 6-1 win over Seattle's Indians to day. Herman Pillette pitched fine ball for the winners, holding the visitors scoreless for seven innings. The Missions reached Fisch for three counters during the seven innings he pitched and touched Lamanski for three more in the eighth. Score:

HEAVIES TO MIX IN PASADENA GO

SADDLE CLUB POLO TEAM PLAYS SUNDAY

With a good prospect of Gwin (Big Boy) Williams again being in the Sunday struggle, the Saddle Club polo four are being favored to win from the Californians this Sunday in the feature of the Saddle Club's Sunday afternoon program. Steeplechase race, goat roping, grab race and musical chairs on horseback make up the rest of the events scheduled for the club field situated in Van Nuys on Ventura Boulevard.

GLADMAN, GORCHAKOFF WIN

Trojan Miss and Occidental Captain Win Matches in Pennsylvania State Tourney

HAVERFORD, June 11. (Exclusive)—Marjorie (Midge) Gladman, University of Southern California tennis star, and Ben Gorchakoff, Occidental College, gained quarter-final brackets in the women's and men's singles championships of the Pennsylvania State tournament here today.

Miss Gladman, whose ranking is seventh in the country, advanced at the expense of Mrs. G. Gardiner of Philadelphia, 6-0, 6-2, while Gorchakoff eliminated Edward Mann of Merion, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2.

Fred Mercur and Gilhall, Davis Cup alternates, had easy wins today in fourth-round matches, as did also Miss Ann Townsend, defending women's champion, seeded second to Miss Gladman, who defeated Mrs. Delloy Thompson of Washington, 6-2, 6-4.

The men's and women's doubles opened today. Richard Williams, former Davis Cup captain, and Tamio Abe of Japan were seeded first, Gorchakoff and Kussman, Pacific Coast threats, were placed third. Miss Gladman and Miss Wiener of Philadelphia, and Miss Page and Miss Hilleary, are feature singlists in tomorrow's quarterfinals. The men's and mixed doubles will be slated for tomorrow, also.

Tilden Thrice Victorious on Dutch Courts

NOORDWYK (Holland) June 11. (AP)—"Big Bill" Tilden furnished the chief sensation of the opening day of play in the Dutch tennis championships today. He raced through three matches, two in the singles and one in the mixed doubles without losing a game.

In the singles, the lanky Philadelphian disposed of Van Eek and Kamsten of Holland in three straight love sets, each. Then he paired with Kea Bouman of Holland to beat M. and Mme. Kellerman Slotemaker of Holland, 6-0, 6-0.

Frank Hunter, the defending singles champion, defeated Weber, a young Dutchman, 6-1, 6-1, 6-3. Hunter dropped out of the mixed doubles when his partner, Cecelie Aussem, decided not to participate in the tournament.

CHAVEZ FACES ADAMS IN WILMINGTON BOUT

Is Zenaydo (Young) Chavez, the sensational young Mexican who battles Johnny Adams tonight in the ten-round main event at Wilmington, another fighter like the late great Mexican lightweight, Aurelio Herrera?

Chavez has scored six kayo wins in his last eleven starts and has high hopes of adding Adams's name to his list.

Holman Advances in Net Classic

TENNIS CHAMP DEFEATS LEVY

Coast Titleholder Winner in 8-6, 6-4 Match

Victor Enters Quarterfinals on Berkeley Courts

Dorothy Weisel Cleans Up on Mrs. Gross

BERKELEY, June 11.—Cranston Holman, defending titleholder, attained the round of eight in the Pacific Coast tennis championships today at the Berkeley Tennis Club when he defeated Edmund Levy, 8-6, 6-4.

Holman seemed much off form in the first set, in which he succeeded in outscoring Levy by only two points. Levy, using his mean chop to frequent advantage and lobbing often to slow up the fast game of the champion, won a 5-5 lead in the opening set. Here Holman braced, however, and raked the side lines with smoking drives that went for placements and eventually gave him the set.

In the second set Holman trailed at 2-0, but came even at three-all, took the lead and finally ran out with timely smashes.

Most of the play was in back court with Holman showing superior aggressiveness.

First-round matches in the mixed doubles held the court in the afternoon of the fourth day of the tournament, which was marred by a number of postponed contests.

Bear Rowers in Workout

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) June 11. (AP)—A squad of husky six-footers walking through the streets of the city this afternoon was all the notification needed to spread the word that the University of California had reached the Hudson River to start training for the Intercollegiate Rowing Association regatta on the 24th inst. Head Coach Ky Ebright and Russ Nagler, assistant coach, were in charge.

In less than an hour's time, the two shells were on the water for a paddle about a mile down the river and return. The workout was without benefit of coaches since the California coaching launch was not unloaded in time.

California's varsity boating today, Coach Ebright said, was a temporary arrangement and probably would be changed tomorrow.

It was as follows: Stroke, Donlon; No. 7, Frederick; No. 6, Thompson; No. 5, Caldwell; No. 4, Workman; No. 3, Dolly; No. 2, Brinck; bow, Von Tillow, and coxswain, Mullen.

Columbia and Pennsylvania are already on the river. Syracuse is expected tomorrow, Cornell on Friday and other crews next week.

FRESNO MAY LAND STATE LOOP BERTH

Harry Defty, president of the California Class D Baseball League, announced yesterday that transfer of the club franchise now held in Coronado, Cal., to Fresno was being considered.

Phil Koener of Fresno, a former baseball player, is considering taking over the Coronado franchise and moving it to the northern city, Defty said.

BERG AND LOAYZA DRAW

MILLER WHIPS O'DOWD

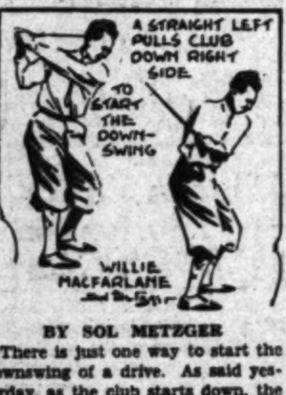
Tip on Golf Driving



BY SOL METZGER

There is just one way to start the downswing of a drive. As said yesterday, as the club starts down, the hips slide laterally to the left and the left heel goes down. If it doesn't, balance is bound to be lost and you can't get your weight into the shot.

But the club has to get under way, too. You can't hit without using it. It is brought down by a gradual pull of the straight left arm, a pull that is down the right side. Keep the right out of this pull down and make it smooth and easy at the start, gradually speeding it up so that this centrifugal force of the straight left arm swing will reach its greatest velocity as your clubhead sweeps through the ball.

That's how Willie MacFarlane swings down with his wood and there isn't a more graceful wood player in golf. Tomorrow—when to uncock the wrists.

Good putting makes good golf. Write Sol Metzger, care of The Times, requesting his leaflet on putting. In writing inclose stamped, addressed envelope.

TAYLOR HELD EVEN BY HESS

Morgans and the like. A junior-lightweight title bout with Morgan was to have been Taylor's reward for decisive defeat of Hess, but now the kid from Ocean Park is as much entitled to the shot as Taylor—perhaps more so as a result of his sensational finish.

Hess weighed 129 1-4 pounds for the main event and Taylor 128 3-4. The house catered to about 8500 fans.

There were a couple of funny decisions in the preliminary bouts. After twice being down in the fourth round of the semi-wind-up Ray Montoya won on a foul when Johnny Torres hit him while he was still on the floor.

The referee was correct in disqualifying Torres for hitting an opponent on the floor, but at the same time he could have ruled against Montoya for going down the second time of his own volition.

Johnny Nasser scored a technical knockout in the third round over Trip Limbaco by the grace of the referee. Nasser was leading easily when he dug into Limbaco's cup in the third round of the special event with a left hook. Limbaco went to the floor claiming a foul, but he was counted out and Nasser's hand raised.

Ray Van and Willie Fausto fought four rounds to a draw and Louis Ramos won the decision over Trench King in four rounds to complete the bill.

RAH FOR DEMPSEY

One of the biggest features of the evening was the terrific reception given Jack Dempsey when he crawled between the ropes just before the main event got under way.

It was unnecessary for Announcer Dan Tobey to say a word. The fans just got up on their hind feet and yelled their lungs out for the old Manassa Mauler. Following him came Ace Hudkins, and the Wildcat also received a big cheer, second only to the terrific ovation for Dempsey.

KEPPEN SELECTED TO BOSS OFFICIALS

Charley Keppen, one of the best known figures in amateur athletic circles of the West, has been placed in charge of the officials who will handle the timing and judging in the marathon race which will wind up C. C. Pyle's cross-country race at Wrigley Field Sunday night.

Keppen has obtained surveyors to lay out a track inside Wrigley Field over which the transcontinental runners will run the twenty-six miles, 385 yards.

A corps of timers and judges who have been active in athletic circles for the past ten years will be selected by Keppen.

The athletes will enter Wrigley Field about 8 o'clock Sunday evening. As they will start only a few miles from the park the men should be well bunched when they enter the big gates of the baseball diamond.

FAN SUES HOWARD AND OAKLAND CLUB

OAKLAND, June 11. (AP)—Ivan Howard, manager of the Oakland baseball club, was made codefendant with the club today in a $25,000 damage suit brought by W. D. McElwain, Oakland business man, who charged Howard attacked him, fracturing his skull, as he was leaving the Oakland ball park on June 16, 1928.

The attack was said to have come after the Oakland team had been defeated by the Missions in a seventeen-inning game in which feeling ran high, with frequent shouts from the spectators directed at the Oaks.

EDDIE ANDERSON LOSES

TROJAN TRACK CREW RETURNS

mores and have two years of varsity competition ahead of them, and the second was that the runners stood up well under fire and surmounted tough breaks, in that they took second to Stanford in the I.C.4-A. championships without the services of three of their leading performers—Borah, Vic Williams and Jimmy Payne.

The sophomore runners scored ten of the twenty-one points the Trojans gathered in the Philadelphia meet, while a junior accounted for two, giving Cromwell twelve digits to start on next year. The same athletes accounted for twenty-three of the thirty-two points rounded up at Chicago.

HILL HIGH-POINT MAN

Jess Hill came back high-point man of the eastern invasion, with thirteen points to his credit, while Mortensen collected twelve. Hill set a new I.C.4-A. broad jump record when he leaped 25ft. 7-8in. for first place and five points. He took second at Chicago, jumping 23ft. 11 1-2in. on a soft runway, for eight more digits. Points at the N.C.A. meet are counted 10-8-6-4-2-1.

Mortensen won the N.C.A. javelin with a throw of 203ft. 7 3-4in. for ten points, and collected two at the Philadelphia championships.

Vic Williams, star quarter-miler, came back on crutches. Williams entered the 440 in the I.C.4-A. meet, but failed to qualify due to an injured ankle, sustained in training on Bovard Field. An immediate examination was made and it was discovered that Williams had broken a small bone in his foot—broken it, indeed, before the team ever left Los Angeles—and didn't know it.

Gerald Pearson, the other sophomore quarter-miler, didn't qualify at Philadelphia, but did at Chicago. Walter of Northwestern won the event in 47 9-10s., and so closely were the runners bunched that Pearson ran 48 2-5s.—the fastest quarter of his career—and failed to place.

Both Milt Maurer and Dick Wehner, the sophomore sprinters, suffered badly from stage fright. Both got into the finals of their events at Philadelphia and Maurer took down fourth place for two points. At Chicago Wehner just missed qualifying for the furlong and Maurer got into the finals of the century, which Simpson won in the world's record time of 9 2-5s. Maurer was clocked in under 10s. flat, but did not place.

WHAT ATHLETES DID

Here, in more or less detail, is just what the athletes did at both meets:

Jess Hill, senior: Won broad jump at Philadelphia, setting new I.C.4-A. record of 25ft. 7-8in., and placed second to Gordon of Iowa at Chicago, with a jump of 23ft. 11½in.

Jack Williams, senior: Tied Sturdy of Yale and Edmonds of Stanford for first place in I.C.4-A. meet at 13ft. 9in., and tied for fifth at Chicago.

Charley Webber, senior: Failed to place in either meet.

Jess Mortensen, junior: Placed fourth at Philadelphia with throw of 198ft. 9in., and won at Chicago with 203ft. 7 3-4in.

Jimmy Payne, junior: Hit a hurdle in semifinals of I.C.4-A. meet, and finished third behind Anderson and Rockaway at Chicago.

Howard Paul, sophomore: Placed third in broad jump in both meets, going 24ft. 2 7-8in. at Philadelphia, and 23ft. 11in. at Chicago.

Clarence Schleimer, sophomore: Placed fifth in I.C.4-A. shot put with a heave of 47ft. 11in., and qualified, but did not place at Chicago.

Vic Williams, sophomore: Discovered he had a broken bone in his foot, and did not place in either meet.

Dick Wehner, sophomore. Qualified, but did not place in 220 at Philadelphia, and did not qualify at Chicago.

Most of the athletes will continue to work out in preparation for the A.A.U. championships at Denver next month. All are candidates for the L.A.A.C. squad, which will defend its championship. Hill, Mortensen, Jack Williams, Ernie and Jimmy Payne and Paul are considered as being certainties to make the team.

SIXTEEN OLYMPICS TO ENTER DENVER MEET

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11. (AP)—The San Francisco Olympic Club will enter a sixteen-man track-and-field team in the National A.A.U. championships to be held in Denver, July 3, 4 and 5. Percy Locey, director of athletics at the club, telegraphed the entry today. The team will include Russell Sweet, who has an unofficial time of 9 2-5s. in the 100, and Bob King, 1928 Olympic Games high-jump champion.

WINDY CITY WINS RACE

CHICAGO, June 11. (AP)—Windy City, F. M. Grabner's candidate for the American Derby to be run at Washington Park Saturday, today captured the trial—a race over the mile and an eighth for 3-year-olds. J. R. Thompson, Jr.'s Minotaur, which finished second in the Preakness, was next followed by G. W. Hay's Judge Hay.

Plans Call for Completion by Mid-September

BY WALDO DRAKE

Fifteen acres of modern fireproof cotton warehouses, with a storage capacity in excess of 70,000 bales, will be completed by September 15, next, by the Los Angeles Compress and Warehouse Company, at the Outer Harbor, it was announced yesterday by I. E. Blohm, general manager.

The Board of Harbor Commissioners at its meeting this morning is expected to approve plans for the two-thirds of the big project yet to be completed. This includes two sections; the first, to be built over the original wooden storage sheds, now being dismantled, of 160,000 square feet, and the second, on land being filled directly south of the Outer Harbor viaduct. The two new warehouses, to be of uniform design with the steel-concrete unit built last season, will cost approximately $530,000. F. E. Zumwalt, engineer associated with Robert J. Cummins of Houston, Tex., is now at the harbor completing construction plans for the new warehouses. The complete fifteen-acre system of warehouses, equipment and trackage will cost in excess of $750,000, according to Mr. Blohm.

The local compress during the season just closing has compressed and exported more than 168,000 bales. Next season, it is estimated that new acreage throughout the Southwest will send a total of 300,000 bales to this port for compressing and export to the Orient and Europe.

To provide room for the new cotton storage warehouses, the main line of the Outer Harbor Terminal railroad is being moved west of that area, its present main line, directly east of the Coast Guard headquarters, being dismantled.

DEATH OF VETERAN MARINER REPORTED

Capt. Walter I. Green, formerly of Los Angeles Harbor, is reported to have died of rheumatic fever aboard the liner Ventura on which he was second officer. Death occurred between Sydney and Honolulu, and the body is being returned to San Francisco.

Capt. Green was with the old Pacific Mail Steamship Company, and later went with the Panama Mail, sailing into Los Angeles on the liner Ecuador. A few years ago he joined the Banning Company of stevedores and moved to Los Angeles Harbor, only to return to sea on Matson Line ships a year ago.

He is the son of Capt. Charles J. Green, one of the oldest masters on the Pacific, and a brother of Charles J. Green, Jr., chief officer, lost on the steamer Roanoke, when the latter sank off the southern coast several years ago. He is survived by his widow and two sons who reside in Alameda.

Bountiful local cargo offerings delayed the departure of the Panama Mail motor liner City of San Francisco until noon yesterday, the liner taking 4000 tons of California products for Central America, and leaving some behind. Capt. Walter Pringle announced a new chief officer, George Dow, formerly of the Corinto, and a new chief engineer, C. E. Magnusan. Mrs. William C. Tucker and son were among the passengers, bound for Manzanillo, where Mr. Tucker has charge of the Standard Oil Company terminals.

Capt. Y. Tomioka, formerly on a European run, brought in the NYK liner Siberia Maru from San Francisco and the Orient yesterday, to disembark eighty-one passengers and drop 1000 tons of freight. He succeeds Capt. S. Ito, who will bring out the new liner Tatsuta Maru in a few months. The Siberia Maru will embark 150 passengers, load 2000 tons of cargo and sail home at 2 p.m. the 14th inst.

The four-masted schooner Melrose, serving as a fish tender for Halfhill Packing Company, was towed in from Cape San Lucas yesterday by the tug Heston, bringing the season's last important catch of Yellowfin tuna from such distant banks. She had been reported in difficulties at Magdalena Bay.

The annual cruise of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to Hawaii has been timed to fit in with the National A.A.U. swimming meet to be held at Honolulu August 7 to 10, and many of Southern California's best swimmers are expected to participate. The cruise this year will be on the Lassco liner City of Honolulu, leaving Wilmington July 27. More than 100 reservations already have been made for the cruise.

Al Z. England, who has been night dispatcher of the Wrigley tug fleet for the past year and previously well known in port shipping circles as a member of the Marine Exchange force, has been appointed purser of the Catalina liner Avalon.

Twenty-four thousand boxes of oranges went out to North Europe last night aboard the North German Lloyd liner Witram, she also taking out, in addition to sixteen cabin passengers, 1000 tons of borax from this port.

Dudley H. Yearwood, chief engineer of the Cerro de Pasco copper mines in the Andes Mountains area of Peru, arrived from South America yesterday aboard the W. R. Grace liner Cuzco. Mr. Yearwood, accompanied by his wife and child, is in Southern California for an extended leave.

The Cuzco, in command of Capt. P. C. Prantz, also brought in for local discharge 1600 tons of nitrate from Antofagasta and Tocopilla.

H. B. Reitcker's new forty-five-foot twin-screw Diesel cruiser Mary Kay, which Harbor Boatbuilding Company delivered last week, yesterday successfully completed her trials, proving that she will be a thirteen-knot boat. She is powered with two of the new sixty-horsepower Cummins high-speed Diesel engines and developed a speed of eleven knots at only 750 revolutions. Designed by D. M. Callis, Mary Kay cost $25,000.

QUARRY FIGHT CLIMAX NEARS

Attorney Soon to Ask Bell Plea be Dismissed

Witness Calls Will Rogers's Polo Ponies "Industry"

Hearing Ends Until Tuesday After Spirited Set-to

A request that Alphonzo Bell's application for a permit to operate a cement quarry and rock crushers in the Beverly Boulevard-Santa Monica Mountain region be denied without further argument will be made before that City Planning Commission next Tuesday.

That was the statement made yesterday before the planning commission by attorneys representing protestants against the cement scheme, as Bell and his associates prepared to close presentation of their evidence in favor of the granting of the permit.

The cement people have taken since last February to present their case, the commission sitting twice a week to hear testimony. When the hearing opened yesterday Attorney Arthur Smiley, appearing for one of the protestants, asked that the Commission sit every day if possible so the protestants might present their case in full and conclude the hearing by July 1.

HE LISTS "INDUSTRIES"

After going into executive session, however, the commissioners declared they are giving all the time they can to the case, in addition to the other duties of their office, and denied Smiley's request. The lawyer then declared he will argue that the Bell group had established no case as soon as the applicants conclude their testimony and ask that the permit be denied before protestants' witnesses take the stand.

Wilkie Woodard, chief engineer for the Bell interests, was on the stand yesterday afternoon for cross-examination of testimony previously given.

Under questioning by Attorney Smiley he admitted he had prepared a chart showing the location of various "industries" in the Santa Monica region to "show the unreasonableness of the desire on the part of the protestants to have the Bell application denied."

PIPE CAUSES CLASH

Further questioning by the attorney developed that most of the industries listed by Woodard are riding academies and other stables for fine horses.

"What do you call an industry?" demanded Smiley.

Woodard declared that under the terms of the zoning ordinance the keeper of more than four horses is operating an "industry."

Under this heading, it seemed, Woodward had listed Will Rogers's polo mounts, kept on the Rogers's estate.

"How do you figure that?" said Smiley.

"Well, he boards more than four horses," said Woodard.

RESTRICTIONS ISSUE

Last night's session was devoted almost entirely to the introduction of and argument over copies of deeds of land sold by Bell and the zoning restrictions imposed by him with the sale. Attorney Smiley placed on the stand C. A. Rea, title searcher for a large title guarantee company, who had obtained the copies from the originals filed in the Courthouse, but Attorney Overton, representing Bell, objected to the documents as hearsay evidence, and the point was still at issue when the hearing adjourned.

By the introduction of this testimony, the protestants hope to show that Bell imposed restrictions on lands he sold in the Santa Monica Mountains, where he now proposes to open a quarry. The hearing will be continued at 7:30 p.m. today. Alphonzo Bell is scheduled to take the stand as final witness for the applicants.

TESTIMONY WITHHELD BY BENNETT

"Bright Young Man" of Julian Case Called to Stand in Usury Trial

Jack Bennett, the "bright young man" of the Julian crash, appeared yesterday in Municipal Judge Pope's court as a witness in the usury case against Louis Rothman. Bennett, called to the stand by Hugh Foster, special prosecutor, as a State's witness, refused to testify on the ground that he might lay himself open to a charge of conspiracy to commit usury. In spite of Foster's protests, Judge Pope upheld his stand.

When Bennett refused to write his signature for comparison with that on checks introduced as evidence, however, Judge Pope ordered him to do so.

Louis Berman, Bennett's brother, also was called as a witness. He testified that he was employed by the Julian company and that he deposited checks to its account in a downtown bank. Most of the time was taken up by arguments between Foster and defense counsel. The case was continued until this morning.

Stevenson to Ask Probation

After denying William J. Stevenson, Los Angeles promoter, a new trial upon a charge of defrauding Dr. E. Bailey Webb, Los Angeles physician, of $30,000, Superior Judge Doran yesterday granted Stevenson permission to file an application for probation.

The court fixed the 25th inst. as the date for hearing on the application.

NEW CITY ATTORNEY SWORN IN

Werner Deposits $5000 Bond With Dominguez and Takes Oath of Office

The oath of office was administered yesterday to Erwin P. Werner, who will succeed Jess E. Stephens as City Attorney, by City Clerk Dominguez, in the presence of Mrs. Werner, Mark Herron, who managed Mr. Werner's campaign, and Deputy City Attorney Bryan, a close friend of the incoming City Attorney. The ceremony took place in the City Clerk's office.

In addition to taking the oath of office, Mr. Werner deposited with City Clerk Dominguez the $5000 bond, which must be put up by the City Attorney. He was asked whether he had anything to say concerning his elevation to his new position or as to his plans for the conduct of his office, and replied he had no statement to make.

HITCHCOCK COMPANIES UNDER LENS

Four to be Arraigned in Federal Court Today on Charges of Mail Frauds

Operations by Horace D. Hitchcock and his associates involving several hundred thousands of dollars will be delved into today when the trial of Hitchcock and three others begins before United States District Judge Henning.

The Federal grand jury charged that Hitchcock, Fred Winegar, an executive of finance companies; H. L. Marsh, sales manager, and Louis K. De Roode, New York agent for the companies, conspired to use the mails to defraud.

It is charged that the defendants took from $400 to $1200 from clients to finance and service their corporations but failed to perform such service. Several companies are said to be involved in the operations of the defendants.

REGIONAL RULE FORECAST

Dr. Munro in Lecture Here Points Probability of Intermediate Governmental Form

Discussing American principles of government, national, State and local, Dr. William B. Munro, vice-president of the National Municipal League, stated yesterday in a lecture to a "school" of public officials at the University of Southern California: "Probably the next century will see some intermediate form of government in the United States.

"The Colorado River problem is not a California problem, nor is it a national problem," he said. "It is a southwestern problem; the city planning and zoning problem of New York City is more than a New York problem—it spreads out into New Jersey and Connecticut; many problems in the United States are regional, and apply to the Pacific Slope, to New England, to the Northwest, or to the Middle States. There is no machinery of government as yet in the United States to take care of these, although an indication of what is likely to happen is found in the army divisions of corps areas and in railroad regional classifications.

FUTURE FORECAST

"In the year 2000 this country probably will have a population of 250,000,000; industrialism of the entire area will be as strong as it now is in Pennsylvania; we probably will import about four-fifths of our food supply and the center of gravity will have shifted from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coast. Transportation will have been taken off the ground, and in all probability there will have occurred the creation and recognition of great sectional areas."

Dr. Munro stated that during the past six centuries three countries have made distinct contributions to methods of government, and all other governments are copies or modifications of these; the three named are England, France and the United States. "To England we owe more than to any other country for the idea of popular responsibility; France has contributed more in methods of local government, with Napoleon standing out as a greater constructive statesman than a military man; to the United States in a relatively short period goes credit for the unique practice of giving the court the last word. The doctrines of judicial review is an Americanism," stated Prof. Munro, who is a member of the department of political science of Harvard University. He is lecturing at 1 o'clock every day, except Saturday and Sunday, this week and during the second annual summer course in public administration at the Trojan university.

FEDERALISM COMPROMISE

"Things become sacred through usage," he stated yesterday. "The Constitution of the United States is not embodied in twenty pages of print—that much is only the 'Magna Charta'—the Constitution today is a huge superstructure of judicial procedure, customs, traditions, universal suffrage and adopted systems which have supplemented the written word of the original document. Otherwise, an eighteenth century document drawn by 3,000,000 people would not serve the purpose of 125,000,000 in the twentieth century. Federalism is a compromise today.

"Our scheme of government has had very little to do with our economic development and present strength and prosperity, and new republics in Europe are therefore copying our business methods and economic practices, but not our system of government. The United States has, however, contributed to the world the idea of dual government systems. This country is unique in the duality of governmental authority, such as the Federal and State authorities, which work in relative harmony with no real contact."

One of the lovely affairs of the day will be the luncheon and bridge with which Mrs. McCulloch Craig Harvey and her daughter, Miss Margaret Evelyn Harvey, will entertain at the Beverly-Wilshire, seventy-five guests being bidden.

Early summer flowers in a riot of color will be effectively used in the centerpieces of the tables, and corsage boquets will form the place favors.

Assisting the hostesses will be Mrs. George McLearnon, Mrs. James Frederick McCulloch, Miss Virginia McKenzie, Mrs. Rose Williams and Mrs. Annetta Fleischmann.

Mrs. Harvey, who has been at their country home in the Ojai, is returning home for the affair, and most probably Miss Harvey will pass the week-ends this summer in Ojai.

Alumnae Luncheon

Los Angeles alumnae of Mu Phi Epsilon will hold their annual luncheon tomorrow afternoon at the Uplifters Rancho and after the picnic luncheon Mrs. Merrill Tackley will preside over a meeting and installation of officers for the coming year. Mrs. Tackley will again serve as president, the other officers including Mrs. John Hurtt, Mrs. Marie Donaldson, Mrs. Hosmer W. Stone and Mrs. Roy Burton.

Summer Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Harrison and their daughter, Miss Fay Harrison of the Victoria Arms will leave Saturday for Honolulu, where they will pass the summer. While there they will make the Royal Hawaiian Hotel their headquarters.

Around the World

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Baash, Miss Grace Baash and Miss Betty Ann Baash of 400 North McCadden Place, Hollywood, and Miss Maxine Whiffen will sail Friday aboard the President Johnson for a six months' cruise around the world.

The party will visit in Honolulu, China, Java, Philippines, Ceylon, Egypt and the Mediterranean, and on arrival at Naples will proceed by automobile through France.

Luncheon Party

Mrs. Morrison Hopkins of Casa De Manana, La Jolla, entertained Saturday afternoon with a beautifully appointed tea in honor of Mrs. J. J. Carter (Artie Mason) of Hollywood, who is passing some time in San Diego. A number of friends motored out to La Jolla from San Diego and adjacent cities to honor the visitor.

Lovely Affair

One of the lovely affairs of recent date was the stork shower with which Mrs. Lena Pepperdine of Catalina street entertained Wednesday afternoon, honoring Mrs. Wayne D. Baker (Jane Pearsall.) Mrs. Pepperdine was assisted by her daughter, Miss Esther Pepperdine, and among the guests were Mrs. Hal Baker, Mrs. Herbert Baker, Mrs. Ralph Baker, Mrs. Claude Roudebusch, Mrs. Victor Pitcher, Mrs. Florence Pitcher, Mrs. Harry Press, Mrs. Earle Wilcox, Mrs. Fred Ackerman, Mrs. Francis Goss, Mrs. John Chorn, Mrs. William Baker, Mrs. Robert Kyle and Mrs. Randolph Crosley (Florence Pepperdine.)

AID TO HOOVER URGED ON CLUBS

Republican Women Hear Plea by Mrs. Koverman

Glad Mrs. Willebrandt Has Quit Arduous Job

Business Legislative Body Will Meet Today

BY MYRA NYE

"Terrific battles in terrific heat are being fought in Washington and President Hoover needs every ounce of support we can give him. His job at this time is one of the greatest any President has had," said Ida Koverman, woman politician who returned from Washington Monday. The occasion was a luncheon of the Federated Republican Study Clubs of Los Angeles county to celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Republican party. Mrs. Koverman named three of the difficulties now confronting the President and Legislature—reapportionment, farm relief and prohibition enforcement.

"We will have five or six Representatives from this county," said Mrs. Koverman, "and the singular thing about the fight is that California and New York are together. The amendment to the reapportionment bill that aliens can not be counted for reapportionment bitterly is fought by New York where there are so many aliens."

Speaking of the resignation of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Mrs. Koverman said of this distinguished member of the Los Angeles Republican Study Club which is the mother club of the State and county federations:

"I am glad Mabel resigned. No one knows how prohibition is coming out. She would be crucified in the future as she has been in the past no matter which way it goes. It is time for some man to take on the big job."

State Senator Frank Merriam of Long Beach, the chief speaker with the subject, "The Luster of the Name of the Republican Party," reviewed briefly the history of the party from its inception in 1854. He ended with a plea for the support of President Hoover in his prohibition endeavors.

OTHERS INTRODUCED

Others who were introduced and spoke briefly include: Judge May Lahey, Judge Georgia Bullock, Mrs. Oliver P. Clark, Republican National Committeewoman from California; Mrs. W. E. Evans, wife of the Representative from the Ninth District; Nellie Dean Graham, president of the Pan-American Association in Los Angeles, and Mrs. V. R. Wilbur.

Mrs. G. Edwin Winn is president of the federation and had arranged the program, but on account of the death last Thursday of her husband she could not be present. Resolutions of condolence were sent her and many personal messages. In her place, Mrs. Edward Maugauran, vice-president of the federation, presided and introduced Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, beloved president-emeritus of the mother club and founder of organized Republican womanhood in California.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

At the Women's Athletic Club tonight at 6:30 p.m., the adjourned meeting of the Business Women's Legislative Council of Southern California will be conducted with Sue Brobst, president, in the chair. The main purpose of the council this year has been to defeat proposed legislation that, if carried, would have discriminated against business and professional women. Mrs. Amelia F. Johnson lobbyed for the council at Sacramento and she will tell of her experiences. Edgar R. Perry also will speak and several legislators will speak briefly. Among the members who are arranging for the affair are Miss Edna Covert Plummer, Miss Jane C. Humphreys, Mrs. Alberta Gude Lynch, Miss J. Frances Emans, Mrs. Una R. Winter and Miss Ethel Carrell.

ADVERTISING CLUB

Miss Ava B. Blank will be the speaker today for the Women's Advertising Club at 12:40 p.m. in the town house of the Latonians, 738 South Broadway. Miss Blank, who is secretary of the Los Angeles Community Foundation will tell what are the organization's aims and purposes. Mrs. Gertrude C. Maynard is president.

Harmonia Club

Mrs. Nuncie Sabinia Bittman has been re-elected president of the Harmonia Club, and she will present her incoming board at the annual luncheon of the organization tomorrow at the Surf and Sand Club, Hermosa Beach, when the guest speaker will be Harriet Ware, composer. The program will be presented by Glennie Mae Hill, soprano; Evelyn Shapiro, pianist, both winners in the Southern California young artists' contest of the National Federation of Music Clubs.

Worth While Club

At the last meeting of the season of the Worth While Club at the Elks' Club, officers were installed as follows: Mrs. S. S. Spitz, president; Mrs. Bernard H. Harris, vice-president; Mrs. Percy G. Isaacs, secretary, and Mrs. H. M. Neugroschl, treasurer.

University Book Club

D.A.R. Regent Chosen

Mrs. George W. McCoy has been chosen by members of the Los Angeles chapter, D.A.R., to serve as regent for the coming year. Those who will serve with her include the following:

Vice-regent, Mrs. Orlando C. Vogel; recording secretary, Mrs. S. Clyde Arthur; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Wilbur E. Labry; treasurer, Mrs. Irene De Galler; registrar, Mrs. R. Morgan Galbreath; historian, Mrs. C. E. Crary; genealogist, Mrs. George W. Clemson; chaplain, Mrs. Harriet Walker, and directors, Mrs. Clark Stull Smith, Mrs. John W. Gates, Mrs. Lyttleton Price, Mrs. John Henry Peckham and Mrs. Claude C. Coffee.

Women's Breakfast Club

What promises to be the big event of the year in the activities of the Women's Breakfast Club is the closing function of the summer season, the bridge luncheon to be hold at the Beverly Hills Hotel today.

The program for the affair is being arranged by Mrs. Samuel Blake.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy
author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

AVOID SUNBURN

The summer sun is now flooding the earth with the full force of its heating and healing rays. Sunlight is essential to life, but too much at one time, when one is not prepared for it, may be harmful.

Most of the severe sunburns occur in the early part of the season before the skin becomes tanned. One should always keep in mind that an overdose of the sun's rays is always injurious. Many people suffer from the mistaken belief that if a little sunshine is good, a great deal more is better. Extreme sunburn is dangerous because the pores of the skin becomes so swollen and injured by the burn that the proper elimination of toxins cannot take place. This has a disastrous effect upon the kidneys by burdening them with overwork. Even a small amount of sunburn affects the body in a proportionate manner.

It is much better for one to measure the time of exposure so as to produce a slightly increasing tan each time than to try to become tanned through only one or two sunburns. Always go into the shade when you notice a quickening of your pulse. When you wish to lie in the sun for a long time, it is better to expose the skin only a short time and the remaining period keep it covered with a blanket or a robe. People are often burned badly on cloudy days, as they are apt to remain out too long because they do not feel the heat of the sun, but it should be remembered that the ultra-violet rays, which actually produce the burn, do not warm the skin.

To keep cool in the summertime it is necessary to reduce the heating foods, such as the starches, sugars and fats to the minimum and drink plenty of pure water and wear clothing as light as possible. No drink is as valuable as plain water, not spoiled by syrup flavors. Unsweetened fruit juices may be added if desired.

During the hot days, it is sometimes a good plan to make a luncheon entirely of some of the juicy or leafy green vegetables in a salad form.

It is much the better plan to take the sunshine in small doses and in this way avoid the unpleasant effect of sunburn, heat exhaustion or sunstroke. Enjoy the valuable summertime, and avoid the suffering caused by lack of judgment.

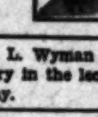
Severe sunburn should be treated much like any other burn. While sunburn is very painful it is hardly ever serious enough to cause death, although this does occur in some instances. Much relief may be had by using cool showers or ice water compresses wherever the pain is severe. The skin should be covered with an alkaline oil, such as carron oil, which is a mixture of lime water and linseed oil. This is obtainable at any drug store, and will keep out the air, and at the same time, neutralize some of the acid products of the decomposing skin.

Court May Try to Fix Rewards

On recommendation of its Finance Committee, the City Council probably will pass up to a court of law the problem of the division of the $10,000 reward offered by the Council for the apprehension of William Edward Hickman, convicted slayer of Marion Parker. Due to the many conflicting claims for the reward, City Attorney Stephens suggested this line of action to the Council, and that body this week probably will authorize the beginning of the necessary court action.

As soon as the Council authorizes the action, a check for $10,000 will be deposited with the County Clerk. All of the claimants then will be joined in the action as interpleaders and the court will be asked to adjudicate the rights of each.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES



Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

GOOSEBERRY TAPIOCA

Soak two-thirds of a cupful of pearl tapioca overnight in slightly salted water, drain well, place in a double boiler with one and a quarter cupfuls of boiling milk and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, cook until the tapioca has absorbed the water, then add two cupfuls of gooseberries and one cupful of sugar and cook until the berries are tender, and the tapioca is transparent.

COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD

One pound of cottage cheese, one and one-half cupfuls of sour cream, one bunch of radishes, one medium-sized cucumber, one bunch of green onions, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one-half a teaspoonful of paprika, a few grains of cayenne pepper, slice the radishes, without paring them, pare the cucumber and cut in dice, peel the onions and cut in slices, using some of the green tops. Combine the vegetables, add the seasoning to the cheese, then add the cream, combine the two mixtures, chill thoroughly, serve on crisp leaves of lettuce, sprinkle generously with paprika.

TROUT BAKED IN CREAM

Clean four or five small brook trout, season with salt, and paprika, dip in milk, and roll in sifted flour, place in a well-buttered baking dish, that will just hold them, cover with one cupful of cream, and sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese, set the dish on the stove, until it starts to boil, place in a moderate oven, and bake for twelve minutes or until the fish is cooked and the top is brown. Serve from the baking dish.

OATMEAL BISCUITS

One and one-half cupfuls of flour, one tablespoonful of sugar, seven teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt, one and one-half cupfuls of uncooked rolled oats, four tablespoonfuls of shortening, three-quarters of a cupful of milk; sift the flour, sugar, baking powder and salt, mix in the rolled oats, rub in the softening, add the milk gradually, and mix to a soft dough, using more milk if necessary; turn out on a floured board and roll or pat to three-quarters of an inch in thickness, cut with a biscuit cutter, brush with milk and bake in a quick oven fifteen to twenty minutes.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Fresh Meat

Keep fresh meat in the refrigerator until just time to put it on to cook. It has been kept very cold and changes in temperature are not good for uncooked meat.

New Recipes

Vary the manner in which you cook vegetables; even if they are the same they will taste different and interesting. Look up new recipes and do not hesitate to try them.

Hanging Sheets

Try hanging sheets by the two hems instead of hanging over the line. They are easier to take down and have fewer wrinkles. Besides, the hems can stand the strain of the pinning better than the center of the sheet.

Timely

Now is a good time to examine gas and water taps for leaks. It may save you time, worry and expense when you are ready for your summer vacation.

Striped Crepe Baroda $1.95

What could be smarter than audacious Candy or Blazer Stripes, for young fashionables who go down to the sea? Paris uses stripes vertically or horizontally — sometimes both ways! A value!

Washable Shantung $1.95

The handsome "rough weave" that has so captivated the imagination of style creators. The perfect fabric for the sleeveless Tennis Dress. Practically all colors but white—32 inches wide.

Silk Broadcloth $1.95

Note well—this is the genuine Darbrook Silk Broadcloth of subtle sheen and marvelous quality. Does your preference run to Stripes—or Checks—or perhaps colors discreetly plain? All 32 inches wide.

Printed Sports Silks $1.95

Crepe Senoussi . . . Special at $1.95

And here is a Silk that has established a vogue! It drapes like Crepe de Chine—its weave is rather like Shantung—and it has a soft charm all its own! 40 inches wide. The price is impressive. Bullock's suggests you buy thriftily for months ahead—at $1.95.

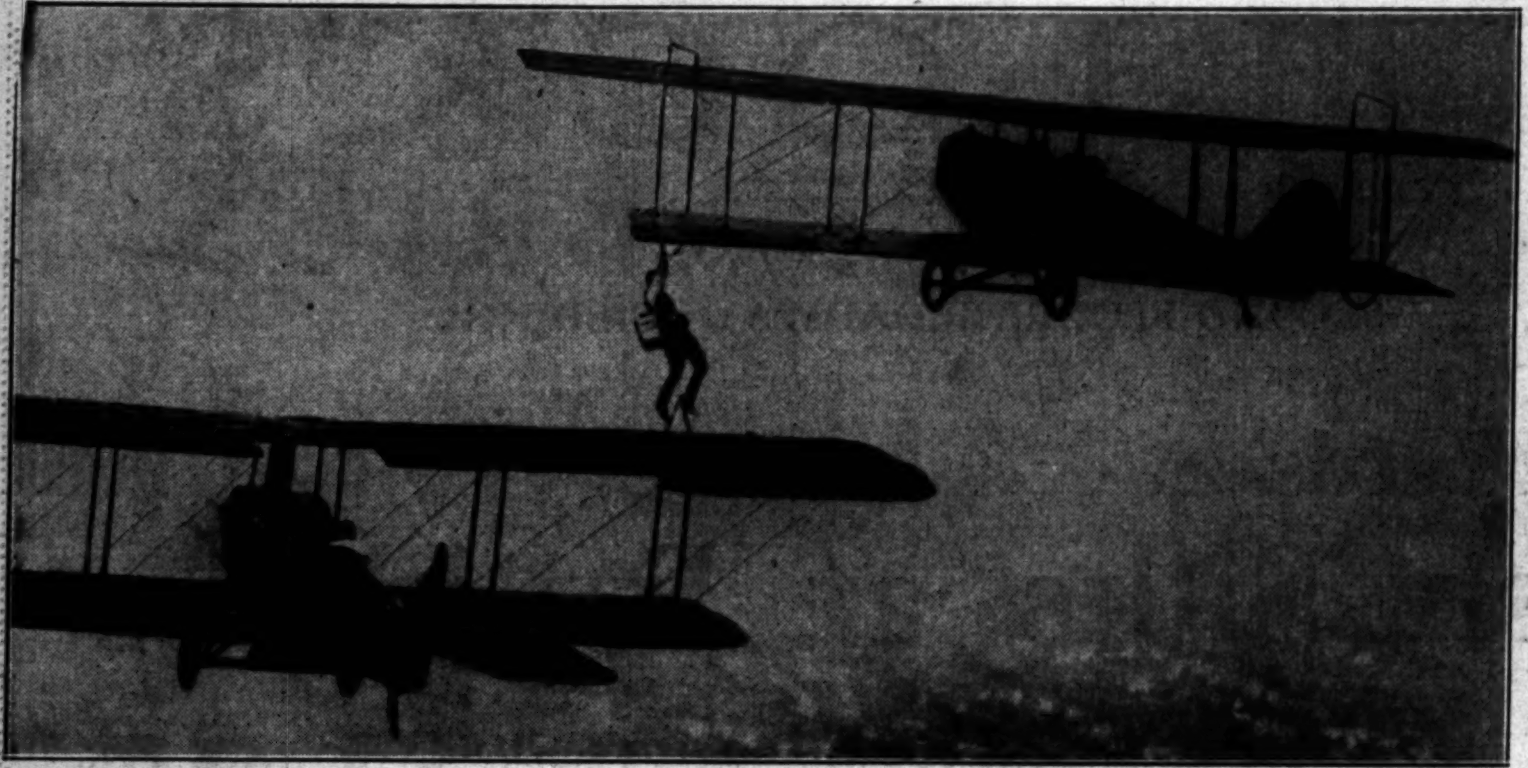
Local Dare-devils Refueled Plane in Flight Here Five Years Ago



The First Successful Refueling of a Plane in Flight Was Accomplished in Los Angeles More Than Five Years Ago when Wesley May with a five-gallon can of gas strapped to his back climbed from an ancient Standard piloted by Bud Creeth to a rickety old Jenny flown by Earl Daugherty. The trio of dare-devils, all since killed, performed the feat over Beverly Hills. In this remarkable photo May is shown making the transfer from Creeth's plane (lower) to Daugherty's. THERE HAD BEEN SOME SPECULATION AS TO HOW THIS DRAFT MEASURE WOULD BE RECEIVED BY THE PEOPLE, BUT ALL DOUBTS AND FEARS WERE DISPELLED WHEN A COUNT SHOWED THAT ON THE APPOINTED DAY, 9,586,508 YOUNG AMERICANS HAD ENROLLED FOR THE DRAFT. Mrs. John R. Osborne of 2089 1-4 Hillhurst avenue. It is charged that Meadows obtained $5000 from Mrs. John R. Osborne, $5000 from John E. Osborne, and the balance of the $26,542 from Mrs. John E. Osborne upon representations that he was obtaining a commutation of sentence for Mr. Osborne's son, who is confined in Leavenworth prison.

EXHIBITS PAPER

To convince the Osbornes that he was accomplishing his purpose officers assert, Meadows exhibited a paper purporting to be a commutation of sentence for John R. Osborne and bearing signatures represented to be those of former President Coolidge, William J. Donovan and others high in executive circles. In this manner, the grand jury charges, Meadows obtained the money from the wife of the imprisoned man and his father and mother in small sums paid over to him at intervals since June 6, 1928.

Ball on the charge was fixed at $100,000. Meadows will be taken before Superior Judge Shaw today when the time of his plea will be fixed.

NEW CASE SIGHTED

Evidence indicating that Meadows attempted to sell an option on a proposed site for the new State building in Los Angeles to three different business men by showing them a letter purported to be from Gov. Young expressing his preference of the location also was revealed yesterday, according to Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

The letter, Dist.-Atty. Fitts said is suspected of being a forgery and investigators have been assigned to seek further evidence in the matter.

Among the witnesses called before the grand jury yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. John E. Osborne, Laura C. Osborne, wife of John R. Osborne and a daughter-in-law of John E. Osborne, and Henry Lissner, a deputy United States marshal, whose investigations resulted in the matter being placed before the District Attorney.

ACTRESS SUES DRY CLEANER

Belle Bennett Windemere, stage and screen actress, yesterday appeared in Municipal Judge Russill's court, asking for judgment of $150 against Laurence D. Stoll, Hollywood dry cleaner, whom she declares exchanged a white fox fur of that value for one worth much less when she sent it to be cleaned.

On the stand, Miss Bennett, who is the wife of Fred Windemere, film director, declared that when a fur came back from Stoll's establishment, it was approximately half as large as the one she had sent to be cleaned. Her son, James T. Macy, and the latter's wife, Mrs. Ruth Bennett Macy, testified that they had seen the fur and that it was larger than the one returned.

Stoll, who contends that the fur was valued at not more than $50, was on the stand yesterday when court adjourned. The trial will be resumed this morning.

GLADIOLI of every size and color known to botany and grown in the soil of all sections of California will make up the exhibit, beginning at noon tomorrow, of the annual show of the California Gladiolus Society in the grand ballroom of the Biltmore. More than 500,000 specimens, it is announced, have been entered by hundreds of exhibitors and will compete for the fifty-nine silver cups and 200 other prizes. The show will remain open until Friday midnight.

The committee of judges consists of J. D. Long of Boulder, Colo., Louis G. Rowe of Seabrook, N. H., Carl Salbach of Berkeley, W. H. Kingsley of Hayward and C. E. Hudyshel of La Verne.

An innovation in judging the champion flower of the show will be introduced, it was announced yesterday. Every visitor to the exhibit will be asked to select the prize blossom and that receiving the greatest number of votes will be awarded the title of the most beautiful gladiolus in the State.

COUNCIL SETS DATE TO HEAR PROTESTS

Hearings of appeals against the confirmation of assessments for the opening and widening of Raymond avenue between Manchester avenue and Eighty-third street was postponed by Council yesterday to July 10, next. The Council denied all but one of the appeals against the confirmation of the assessments to pay for the land condemned for the El Sereno Playground and will hear that appeal on the 18th inst.

BOND VOTE STEP TAKEN BY COUNCIL

Special Election Planned to Ballot on Buying Site for Van Nuys City Hall

An ordinance of intention was adopted by the City Council yesterday to call a special election in Municipal Improvement District No. 70 to vote on the issuance of $40,000 of bonds to pay for the acquisition of the Sylvan site for a new branch City Hall in Van Nuys. Protests against the calling of the election will be heard by the Council on the 25th inst.

It is believed that there will be little opposition to the election as the property owners in the district voted overwhelmingly in favor of the purchase of the Sylvan-street site in an informal postcard vote conducted several months ago. The proposed budget for the next fiscal year, which is now before the Council, contains an appropriation of $275,000 for the building of the new branch City Hall, but the money will be expended only if the citizens of the section provide the site.

Texan Arrested for Check Quiz

Allen Holden, 26 years of age, of 1212 South Stanley avenue, who says he is the son of a rancher in the Texas Panhandle, yesterday was arrested on charge of passing a worthless check. E. J. Bennett of the Wilshire Auto Rental Company complained that Holden gave him a check for $15 which was returned for lack of funds.

Detective Lieutenants Wilson and Molle of the forgery detail, who made the arrest, began further investigation after finding in Holden's possession an identification card made out in the name of Rev. Theodore G. Haas of the Pasadena Hotel. Holden said he came to Hollywood to double for a western picture actor.

Public Hearing on City Budget This Afternoon

The public hearing on the proposed budget for the next fiscal year, which the charter provides the City Council must hold before it can approve the tentative draft submitted by the Mayor, will be held by the Council at 2 p.m. today. The Council must return the budget to the Mayor before the 20th inst., with any changes it has made.

After he receives the budget back from the Council, the Mayor has five days within which to approve or disapprove of any changes which the Council may have made. After its resubmission to the Council that body has three days within which it may override the Mayor's veto on any of the items it has inserted, but such action requires a two-thirds vote of the Council.

Women, for the first time, sat as jurors on a case in West Virginia, despite a State law limiting such services to males.

WATCHMEN'S FIRE CLASS ENDS JULY 1

Seven Hundred to Receive Diplomas from World's First Course of Its Kind

Seven hundred night watchmen are preparing to receive diplomas from the Los Angeles Fire College when the first class of its kind in the world graduates on July 1. Fire Chief Scott organized this class for night watchmen so that they can cope with fire hazards in a scientific manner.

The training for watchmen was begun January 14, last, by Assistant Chief Samuel H. Dodds and Capts. W. W. Tebbetts and J. L. Gowell. These officers schooled the class on fire prevention and extinguishment, while officers of the police and Sheriff's departments instructed them regarding the prevention of burglaries and the preserving of evidence.

Chief Scott established the course after learning that many watchmen do not know what to do on discovering a fire. Many do not know where the nearest alarm box is or what the fire department telephone number is. Business establishments were invited to send their watchmen to the fire college and a response of more than 700 pupils resulted.

Six lessons were presented, dealing with industrial fire prevention and handling, including the operation of extinguishers, alarm boxes and sprinkler systems. Certificates are to be presented to all members of the class who complete the course.

Due to popular demand, Chief Dodds announced a new class for watchmen will be organized in the autumn.

MISSIONARY TO ORGANIZE PEACE PLAN

H. E. Coleman Returns After Twenty-two Years' Work Among Japanese

Completing his work as honorary national secretary of the National Sunday-schools Association of Japan, H. E. Coleman returned here yesterday on the N. Y. K. liner Siberia Maru to organize a Near West Bureau of International Relations.

In his twenty-two years of missionary work in Nippon, he said, he has seen the Christian faith enroll 500,000 members, half Protestant and half Catholic.

"Japan's progress in our religion," he said, "has advanced to a point where it will henceforth act independently of missionary workers, the native Christians being left to carry on. It is the first such foreign country to take over all missionary work and it was the showing at the convention at Los Angeles last year which prompted this departure."

Tokio interests, Mr. Coleman said, are glad to co-operate in the projected organization, seeing in the move a means of better understanding between nations. He expects to confer with leading Americans and probably take a party of these leaders to the Orient in the fall.

Coleman is residing temporarily at 660 1-4 North Alexandria street, whence he set out on his Christian conquest twenty-two years ago.

NEW FILM INVENTIONS FORECAST

Harold Lloyd Manager Prophesies on Leaving for Eastern Meetings

The conventions of the major cinema producing and distributing companies will be inaugurated with the Paramount conclave in St. Louis this week, which William R. Fraser, general manager of the Harold Lloyd Corporation, leaves tonight via Santa Fe to attend. The middle western conference will be followed next week by a gathering of the Paramount eastern sales and executive forces in Atlantic City. Mr. Fraser is to arrange for the release of Harold Lloyd's first sound and dialogue production, "Welcome Danger," while east.

"We have seen the beginning of a new era of motion pictures," declared Mr. Fraser. "We are deeply interested in the outcome of experiments being made with stereoscopic cameras and projection machines for solving the photographic problem of the third dimension.

"Right now we are on the verge of the double-width film, which will add materially to the appeal of pictures. Television is only around the corner, while color pictures have been demonstrated virtually to perfection."

Two Kissless Husbands Win Their Freedom

Two husbands whose wives refused to kiss them obtained annulments on grounds of fraud in Superior Court yesterday.

A. A. Anderson said his wife loved him "with her voice." For two years, he said, she repulsed all physical caresses.

"I wouldn't have married her if I thought that was the kind of a home she wanted," he said.

Superior Judge Wilson annulled the marriage.

Richard V. Watson told Superior Judge Craig that Mrs. Evelyn Watson, whom he met at a U.S.C. sorority, was a strange variety of co-ed. She refused to kiss him before their marriage at Tia Juana, and for six weeks thereafter he strove to change her point of view. Still she wouldn't kiss him, and finally, he said, he could no longer live with her. Judge Craig granted the annulment.

MISS DRESSLER OPPOSES EQUITY

Actress Denounces Demand for Closed Shop

Says Move Perils Motion Picture Industry

Denies Situation Warrants Interference Here

Marie Dressler, for more than forty years in the spotlight on the stage, one of the first members of Actors' Equity Association, organizer and first president of Chorus Equity, yesterday denounced as wrong and as unwise the attempt of Equity to force closed-shop conditions on the motion-picture industry. She said that the thing Equity is attempting to do "is not exactly kicking a man when he is down," but that it is at least "taking an advantage."

MARIE DRESSLER

"When Actors' Equity Association was formed I was one of the first to join," Miss Dressler said. "In the difficulty of 1919 I organized Chorus Equity and was its first president. I think I helped a little. They said I helped a lot.

SITUATIONS CHANGED

"But I must be honest about this situation. To begin with, the situation in 1919 and the one now are entirely different. The theater is organized now and conditions complained of in 1919 have been changed. Conditions similar to those of 1919 do not prevail in motion pictures.

"And, a point I would like to make is this: Let the people who find so much to complain of in motion pictures go back to the stage.

"I have no personal thought of the producers in this, but they are the leaders of a huge industry engaging thousands and thousands of people.

"The industry went along for years, growing and prospering. Overnight, however, with the coming of the talkies, we faced new conditions. And, it seems to me that Equity is taking an advantage, perhaps an unfair advantage, of a situation.

JOBS PERILED

"If the industry should be paralyzed now by this thing Equity is forcing upon it, thousands of people will be thrown out of work. And those thousands are not all actors.

"I have nothing to gain from either side. If Equity should expel me I should be sorry. If the pictures cannot give me a living I shall be sorry. But, I'll take a tent and a funny old curtain and go back to the thousands of little towns I have visited in my forty-three years on the stage and I'll make them laugh and they'll like it and I'll manage to make a living, somehow.

"I'm not trying to grand-stand, now. But it's a privilege to live in the glorious Southern California and doubly a privilege to have one's work here. Let them think of that.

BIT OF ADVICE

"I'll always be a tramp at heart. And all I ask of the theater or motion pictures is enough to permit me to make a little trip each year.

"I'm getting old and a little bit tired. Let the young ones carry the load for a while.

"But I would like to offer a bit of advice. This thing they are attempting to do is wrong. It can only result in trouble and unhappiness where everyone has been prosperous and contented.

"It is unwise and I don't think they can succeed."

Tomorrow Will Be Bundle Day for Near East

In response to an urgent cablegram from Constantinople calling for old clothing for Near East Relief refugees and orphan wards of America in the Bible Lands, the Los Angeles Board of Education has set aside tomorrow as "Bundle Day" in the public schools. The children and their parents are asked to bring bundles of worn clothing to the schools.

All the parochial schools of the Catholic Diocese of Los Angeles also are co-operating in the campaign, under the sanction of Father Noel P. Dillon, superintendent of Catholic schools. Each public and parochial school will be a "Bundle Station." George A. Miller, 714 South Hill street, is directing the campaign.

CONFRATERNITY WILL GIVE CARD PARTY

A card party will be given at the Catholic Woman's clubhouse Saturday by the Confraternity of Christian Doctrain, with Mrs. George Nicholson as executive chairman.

The Confraternity needs funds to carry on its work of child welfare and character building in its immigrant section. It receives no help from the Community Chest. The ladies on the committee are Mmes. Edward Callahan, John Carling, Nicolas Cappadona, Miss Monaca Costello, Mrs. Marie Doyle, Mrs. C. J. Dunnigan, Miss Agnes Real, Mrs. Michael Hurley, Miss Mary McManus, Mrs. Edward Nicholson, Mrs. Armon Normandin, Miss Jane Quinn, Mrs. James Quinn, Mrs. Herbert Quinn, Mrs. James Regan, Mrs. William Taylor, Mrs. Rose Roy and Mrs. Edward Yingling. Those in charge of the refreshments are Mrs. Joseph Kopp and Miss Dolores Palethrope. The patronesses are Mmes. M. Young, Mary Young Moore, William Brophy, Lucien Brunswig and James Sword.

PARENTS TO BE GUESTS

Parents of the majority of the 850 students attending Woodbury College will be guests of the institution Friday from 1 to 3:30 p.m. President and Mrs. R. H. Whitten and Miss Teresa Nichols, dean, will receive.

LASKY CHOOSES NEW FILM TEAM

Marguerite Churchill, Owen Davis, Jr., Play Leads; Louise Dresser Signs for Big Role With M.-G.-M.; Russell Gleason Will Go On Local Stage

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Another professional Damon and Pythias film team has sprung into being, this time at Paramount.

JACK OAKIE

So excellently well did Jack Oakie and Skeets Gallagher perform in "Close Harmony," that they are to be made into a comedy team by Paramount, and will be featured in a succession of stories, just as were Raymond Hatton and Wallace Beery. Edward Sutherland will direct the pair, just as he directed Hatton and Beery.

The first story in which the two will appear under the team arrangement is Ring Lardner's comedy of baseball life, "Elmer the Great," which is to be called in its film-talkie form "Fast Company."

OWEN DAVIS, JR., SIGNING WITH FOX

It has just come to light that Owen Davis, Jr., son of the noted playwright, has signed a long-term contract with Fox Films. The organization may have to give him a vacation next fall, however, as the youthful actor is supposed to return to New York for a play. Or it is possible that he may be released from his stage contract.

The above information came to us from a source outside the studio. In the meantime Fox itself gives us the word that young Davis and Marguerite Churchill will furnish the romantic lure of Paul Muni's next talking picture, adapted from "A Friend of Napoleon." Miss Churchill, it will be remembered, scored heavily in "The Valiant," with Muni.

Berthold Viertel, Hungarian director, will direct the picture.

An interesting side light on the story is that William K. Howard had such faith in it when he was with Paramount that he suggested its purchase by that organization. It was accomplished. Then Howard went to Pathe, who bought the story from Paramount. But before Howard could make it for Pathe he left to sign with Fox, and Fox officials bought the story on his recommendation. It was Howard himself who suggested that the picture be directed by Viertel because of the latter's foreign background.

Clara Bow Vacations

Clara Bow is spending a fortnight's vacation at her home at Malibu Beach before starting work on her next picture.

In the meantime Paramount is doing all the worrying about what her next story will be. There is discussion, we hear, as to whether Clara shall be graduated to more dramatic roles, or whether she shall remain in frothy comedies.

Arthur and Polly in It

George K. Arthur and Polly Moran have been given featured parts in the cast of "The Rounder," J. C. Nugent's first effort as a director of talking pictures, at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Comedians With R.K.O.

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, featured Ziegfeld comedians, checked in at the R.K.O. studios yesterday after an eight-day motor jaunt across the continent from New York.

Signed by William Le Baron, vice-president in charge of R.K.O. production, to enact their original stage roles as lawyer and bootlegger in "Rio Rita," the Broadway comedy team immediately reported to Luther Reed.

Stuart Erwin With Gloria

It is likely that Stuart Erwin thinks Hollywood a good town. He has been busy ever since he left the New York stage for the talkers.

Having just completed a role in Pathe's "Joe College," he is now engaged for the leading comedy role in Gloria Swanson's first all-talking production for United Artists, not yet titled. Edmund Goulding wrote the yarn and is also directing. In the picture Erwin will play a newspaper reporter.

Louise Dresser with M.-G.-M.

If Louise Dresser doesn't stop being mother to film children, she soon will be in the plight of the lady who lived in a shoe, and will forget their names.

Louise Dresser

Now Miss Dresser has been engaged by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to take another mother part, a featured role in William C. De Mille's next production not yet titled. The script was written by Clara Beranger.

The part which Miss Dresser will play in the De Mille picture is that of the mother of a spy behind the German lines in Alsace-Lorraine during the World War. The role may easily, we hear, turn out to be the most important in the picture.

Russell Gleason on Stage

Flaming youth is exploited again in Monte Brice's new stage play, "Just Twenty-one," which is destined to be a vehicle for Russell Gleason.

RUSSEL GLEASON

Such is the success of young Gleason that it will soon be unnecessary to explain in these columns that he is the son of James Gleason.

"Just Twenty-one" was originally intended to be a screen play, but it is reported that when Brice met Russell Gleason and heard him in the talkers he decided that he would like to have the pleasure of presenting him in a play on the stage. Negotiations are under way now for the production of the play at a local theater.

COLLIER AT PARAMOUNT

With the adoption by Paramount of the new policy of having stage directors for talking pictures, William Collier, Sr., John Meehan, George Abbott, Joseph Santley and Irving Rapper were retained to take an important part as specialists in speech in making talking pictures. Collier has taken up the new work with more than ordinary enthusiasm and has shown much progress thus far. His first assignment was as assistant to Director Victor Schertzinger in making "Nothing But the Truth," Richard Dix's first all-talking farce now showing at Lazarus's Alhambra Theater.

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Edith Knox, pianist, demonstrated her progress in the Julliard Graduate School of New York, at a recital in Baldwin Hall last night. Her friends filled the auditorium and she was ably assisted by her brother, John Knox, violinist, and her mother, Mrs. H. C. Knox, accompanist. The program was comprehensive and played with authority. Bach, Chopin, Debussy, Rachmaninoff and the Liszt E flat concerto, with Irene Robertson Pitts playing the second piano, made up the list.

Miss Knox's playing shows capability, strength, deliberation, technical power and intellectual development. Her musical ideas are effective but overemphasized. She is evidently determined to "play like a man." While an audience is at first attracted by this quality it will eventually be repelled. There is an intuitive and spiritual strength to be found in all great music which is essentially feminine in the best sense of that word. It would be a pity if this well-equipped young woman should miss the opportunity of expressing it.

Mr. John Knox is also gifted. He has an expressive violin tone and a nice sense of phrasing. Were he to borrow some of his sister's assurance and cultivate a bolder stroke, his artistry would gain a wider hearing.

Establishing what is believed to be a record in feature length all-talking pictures, Donald Gallaher has finished the filming and recording of his Fox-Movietone production, "Pleasure Crazed," in just twenty days from the time the cameras began to turn.

This period includes two location trips as well as the studio sequences, and, according to the director, demonstrates the value of extensive rehearsals before actual shooting.

Marguerite Churchill and Kenneth MacKenna have the leading roles in the film, a story of society and racketeers treated from a highly modern angle. It is claimed to be the first talkie containing a polo game and an automobile chase sequence as part of the program. And, Gallaher says, in spite of its society background, there is neither a party nor a dress suit in the entire picture—which in itself is a record.

Dorothy Burgess heads the supporting cast, with Henry Kolker, Douglas Gilmore, Frederick Graham, Campbell Gullan, Rex Bell and Charlotte Merriam also seen and heard. The film is scheduled for release some time this month.

Commanders in Gala Reception

The commanders were heard in their premiere in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel Monday night, when the "who's who" of the film world evidenced their approval of music and diversified specialties presented by the newcomers.

The glamour and gala festivities which have attended Hollywood's gayest premieres marked the opening of the Commanders at the Roosevelt. Frank Fay presided as master of ceremonies, introducing such guest artists as Fanny Brice, Irene Bordoni, and Charles King, who offered several informal numbers. "Red" Stanley and Phil Saxe, presented specialties between dance numbers. Aaronson's Commanders are here for a limited engagement only in the Blossom Room.

Orchestra Nears Final Showing

With the Orpheum theater's new Saturday opening policy going into effect this week end, Gus Arnheim and his celebrated Cocoanut Grove orchestra will conclude their current engagement Friday night. Shortly afterward they will depart for New York where they will appear at Radio-Keith-Orpheum's Palace Theater, prior to embarking for Europe.

Featured as specialty artists, with Arnheim's orchestra are Mitzi Mayfair, versatile young dancer, and Miss June Clyde, blond songstress.

Sex Lesson in Films Offered

"Fools of Passion," a Continental film produced in Germany by UFA, and now showing at the College Theater, is one of those occasional efforts backed by physicians and dealing with so-called sex truths.

The pitfalls to which innocent men and women are sometimes heir and the dire results of illicit and ill-considered sex life are here pointed out in a broad manner, and the advantages of straight living emphasized.

The ban on mixed audiences has been lifted. The National Board of Review has unconditionally passed the picture.

"FOOTLIGHTS TO FOOTMEN"

Thus the Changing Preferences of Nobility, as Seen in the Case of Baroness de Hollub

BY ALMA WHITAKER

BARONESS de HOLLUB

Don't you adore escaped baronesses with castles in Italy? I confess to preferring them as residents at the Biltmore, and receiving me in orchid silk pajamas, large earrings and a beauty spot under the left eye.

This, the Baroness de Hollub of Italy, disguising herself incompletely as Harriet Lorraine, now playing in "The Bachelor Father," at the Belasco, direct from a year of it in New York. It seems New York and Boston and San Francisco discovered her, too—such secrets being hard to conceal in this land of press agents. Her Ladyship graciously offers clippings from newspapers galore, conceding that there is no good reason why Los Angeles should be denied.

A phrase I must not omit is that "she preferred footlights to footmen"—all the other scribes seized upon it. But then that was a reversion to species, for Harriet Lorraine was born in New Orleans and took to the stage at an early age. It was while returning to America from a "triumphant" tour in Russia that the Baron met his fate—one newspaper account mentioning that she was his fourth wife, and he her second husband.

Harriet concedes this point. At first she declined to be bothered with barons, she says, but later yielded—and it was awful to have to wait six months in New York to be married, because of the slight embarrassment of a pending decree of divorce from No. 1. But he pledged their love with a priceless ruby—and thereafter Harriet tried baronial domesticity for four years and accumulated such gorgeous jewels that these have been written up as being worth way into figures beyond my comprehension. Those press cuttings were offered in evidence too.

Our profession just adores wads of jewels. Some wads were stolen in 1917, and that made another scumptious story, with headlines, even in war time, when one was giving away jewels for the poor Belgians.

It seems the parting with the Baron was occasioned because such life was "so artificial." And then, of course, there was a later discussion anent finances, (which would ruin any romance,) in which her Ladyship felt she had been "fooled," since he led her to believe he was in financial straits when she left him. The brute only settled $120,000 on her, pleading poverty! Still, he never called without a diamond in the courting days. And they weren't all stolen that time.

Any way, here she is playing in "The Bachelor Father," with considerable vaudeville experience behind her. She confidently expects her talents to open "talkie" doors. She hopes my story will be a "pretty" one to that end. I hope it glistens like a jewel for her. And I am sure she will eventually elude all "artificiality" by securing a nice fat talkie-sing contract—since she has always known what she wanted and secured it hitherto.

Harriet has a good rich voice, black, black hair, red, red lips, and photographs of herself provide the "art" beneath her dressing table glass—so that she can compare her reflections in the mirror with the photography beneath.

Now, don't forget, will you, that she has forsaken "footmen for footlights."

SWISS LOVE DRAMA LISTED

"Eternal Love," starring John Barrymore and directed by Ernst Lubitsch, will start its run at the United Artists' Theater the 19th inst., succeeding "Alibi," which opens its fourth and final week today.

The new film is the first in which the famous star and director have worked together, and the result is said to be a gripping love drama presented against a spectacular setting of the Swiss Alps. It is offered with a synchronized score created by Hugo Riesenfeld and played by the Riesenfeld orchestra.

Camilla Horn again plays opposite the star and Mona Rico and Victor Varconi are the other angles in an unusual love quadrangle, which culminates in an unusual climax. The cast also includes Bodil Rosing, Hobart Bosworth and Evelyn Selbi.

On the same program with the Barrymore vehicle will be the Movietone musical comedy, "Belle of Samoa," featuring Lois Moran and Clark and McCullough in entertaining and hilarious experiences. The versatile comedy pair are said to be at their best in the tabloid musical comedy.

WARNERS TO REPEAT LATE STAGE SHOW

Marilyn Miller Appearing With Frank Fay and Other Celebrities

MARILYN MILLER

Marilyn Miller, musical comedy star, who was a success on Broadway in "Sally," "Sunny," "Rosalie" and many other shows, will head one of the greatest lists of stars of both stage and screen ever presented on a Los Angeles stage, it is said, at the midnight frolic at Warner Brothers' Theater Saturday night.

Frank Fay, whose ready wit it is reported kept the audience in continuous laughter at the first midnight performance, held in connection with the showing of "On With the Show," the first all-natural color screen musical comedy, now in its last two weeks, will by popular demand again be master of ceremonies.

Although the entire list of stars that will be there has not been completed, the management has definitely arranged to have Lupino Lane, Armida, Patsy Ruth Miller and many others on the stage in person to entertain the late theatergoers.

Seymour Felix, who has presented many of the musical comedy hits in New York, including "Hit the Deck," "Rosalie" and "Whoopee," will collaborate with Larry Ceballos, known for his elaborate revues at Warner Brothers' Theater, in staging this performance, and together they will present Larry Ceballos's Glorious Girls in dance routines from these shows.

Aged Dancers Included in Loew's Bill

Contrasts of all kinds will be the theme of Fanchon and Marco's new stage revue, "Contrasts" idea, which is included with the new program starting tomorrow at Loew's State.

A troupe of 70-year-old dancers will be contrasted with youth doing the "Breakaway" as one of the extremes of the idea. The aged performers will do some of the old-fashioned dances. Blonds and brunettes, the Floradora Sextette and the new jazz steps, modest crinolines and the new beach sun suits and other extremes of types, costumes, traditions, scenes and music of today and yesterday will be introduced by Rube Wolf.

"The Idle Rich," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's all-dialogue screen version of "White Collars," the long-run play, is the screen attraction on the new show. Conrad Nagel, Bessie Love and Leila Hyams are featured. William De Mille directed the piece.

MANHATTAN STAR WILL COME HERE

Helen Menken Travels West to Replace Ruth Chatterton

Helen Menken, New York actress with a reputation of a "hit" a season, is en route to Los Angeles to enact the principal feminine role in "Top o' the Hill," Felix Young's second west coast production which will have its world premiere at the Mayan Theater the 27th inst.

Miss Menken accepted the assignment over the telephone last night and embarked immediately to join the cast in rehearsal, Young announced. The popular eastern star's addition came as a replacement for Ruth Chatterton, whose picture contract prevented as lengthy an absence from the screen as Young has outlined for his new play, groomed for fall introduction on Broadway.

Miss Menken's appearance will mark her first on the west coast since she played her original role in "Seventh Heaven." Her addition gives the cast two of New York's most noted players. William Boyd, creator of the sergeant role in "What Price Glory," was signed last week.

Since she first attracted attention in "Three Wise Fools," Miss Menken's name has been closely associated with New York's White Way. She followed that success with "Drifting" and then achieved her most brilliant success in "Seventh Heaven."

Young announced today that casting was completed and other important names would be disclosed this week.

Masquers Will Attend Theater to Honor Hardy

Tonight has been designated Sam Hardy night by the Paramount Theater, in honor of Sam Hardy, who plays a featured role in Eddie Dowling's all-talking production, "Rainbow Man." The Masquers Club, Hollywood's male actors' group, will turn out en masse to honor the star, who is president of the organization.

More than 100 celebrities of the motion-picture capital will be seen at the Paramount tonight. Some of those who will be present are Antonio Moreno, Gardner James, Robert Frazer, Charlie Chase, Alan Hale, Edward Earle, William Davidson, Joe E. Brown, Robert Edeson, William Bakewell, Lee Moran and Purnell Pratt.

Hardy has arranged for a special skit in which he, Little Billy, and Frankie Darro, who is also in "The Rainbow Man," will take part.

Tomorrow the Paramount will present the first showing of George Bancroft's emotional all-talking drama, "Thunderbolt." This vehicle was directed by Josef Von Sternberg, who brought fame to Bancroft with his former success, "Underworld." "Thunderbolt" has Fay Wray and Richard Arlen also in the talking cast. It is a drama of powerful characterization, with Bancroft appearing as a mighty monarch of Harlem.

Stage Players of "Broadway" in Film Roles

Two members of the original cast of "Broadway," the New York stage play which achieved such success in its runs in the principal cities throughout the country in the last few years, will be seen in Universal's lavish screen version of the drama which has its gala western premiere at the Biltmore Theater on Monday evening.

They are Thomas Jackson and Paul Porcasi, who will be seen playing the same parts in the picture which they made famous on the stage, as Dan McCorn, the detective, and Nick Verdis, owner of the gorgeous Paradise night club, which is the setting for the story.

Glenn Tryon is featured in "Broadway" in the role of Roy Lane, the "hoofer," while the highly dramatic role of Pearl is played by Evelyn Brent. Merna Kennedy, last seen in "The Circus," portrays the role of the little chorine, Billie Moore. Others with important roles in the cast include Robert Ellis, Otis Harlan, Marion Lord and Fritz Feld.

The original drama and dialogue of "Broadway" as conceived by George Abbott and Philip Dunning, its authors, is closely followed in the film production, which Dr. Paul Fejos, the young Hungarian, directed, and was produced at an actual cost of $1,500,000 by Universal.

ACTOR BELIEVES IN STAGE SUPERSTITION

Henry Hall who plays the role of James Tuttle in "Paris Bound," the New York comedy drama at the Hollywood Music Box, is firmly convinced that "things go in threes."

When Hall's season with Pauline Frederick in "The Scarlet Woman," closed in Chicago, he bought a car and drove back to Los Angeles. Near Quincy, Ill., he just missed a cloudburst that might have swept him into the flooding Mississippi; at St. James, Mo., he just missed a cyclone that utterly demolished a service station where he had just taken on fuel only a few minutes before, and the day he arrived in Los Angeles, a motion-picture producer greeted him with "Henry, you've just missed the lead in a new talking picture in which we needed you."

RADIO SUPPLIES TALENT

A new field of talent, radio, has been raided by the movies in the endeavor to film talkies, and it offers fine possibilities for vocal and musical ability. David Buttolph, pianist, and Gania Zielenski, soprano, of a radio chain, were enlisted for the concert scenes of "Syncopation," the all-talking production with Waring's Pennsylvanians now showing at Lazarus's Million Dollar Theater.

UTILITIES REPLY TO COMMISSION

Defend Excess Profits Accusations

Each Outlines Program of Expansion

Six Companies Respond at Hearing Here

Three gas companies and three telephone companies of Southern California were before the State Railroad Commission, sitting en banc yesterday, to explain reasons for asserted excessive earnings and to show cause why rates should not be so adjusted as to reduce these earnings.

Both the gas company and the telephone company representatives were asked by the commission to explain assertions by the commission's engineers that earnings of the companies involved are, in some cases, in excess of 10 per cent.

In defense of their existing rates and in explanation of the earnings attorneys for the public utilities companies offered practically similar explanations, to wit: Earnings for 1928 were not a fair basis on which the commission should figure present profits; and that any profits earned by the company as based on increased rates granted by the commission within the past six months will be more than offset by necessary expansion.

COMPANIES APPEARING

Companies cited to appear were the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, the Producers' Gas and Fuel Company of McKittrick, Kern county, and the Southern Counties Gas Company, in the gas and light division, and the Associated Telephone Company of Santa Monica, Long Beach and San Bernardino; the Pomona Valley Telephone Company and Telegraph Union of Pomona, and the Sunland Rural Telephone Company of Sunland.

Appearing for the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, Paul Overton, attorney, explained to the commission that the commission's estimates of earning power of 8.8 per cent on electric service and 9 per cent on gas for 1928 were based on a previous rate, effective before December, 1928, and that the return for 1929 would be considerably less. The present rate, under which the company is operating, Attorney Overton told the commission, has been in effect too short a time to form a basis on which to figure 1929 earnings.

It was asserted in the case of the Southern Counties Gas Company, operating in the Santa Barbara, Ventura and Orange county fields, that the company had been earning in excess of 10 per cent, or 10.85, in 1928.

ERROR CHARGED

Leroy Edwards, attorney for the company, declared this to be in error but admitted that the company had been earning in excess of 8 per cent. The commission's cost base is too low he declared, and does not include certain factors that are important. He urged that 1928 earnings were high because of an unusually cold year and an excessive demand for gas service. He said the company anticipates no such profits this year.

T. J. Reynolds, attorney for the Producers' Gas and Fuel Company, a subsidiary of the Southern California Gas Company, asserted in reply to charges of excessive earnings that the company, serving only about 100 consumers, will be obliged to pay considerably more for gas this year than in 1928 and that its earnings will drop to about 3 per cent for 1929.

Denying assertions of excessive earnings, the secretary of the Independent Telephone Companies Association, declared to the commission that telephone rates have not altered materially for the Associated Telephone Company during the past ten years but that, on the other hand, the company has been obliged to keep abreast of rapidly growing community demands. He pointed out that any profits accruing to the Associated company during the past three years will be more than offset by an expansion program that will cost $500,000 during the next two years. New central exchanges at Long Beach, Westminster and in the newly opened Malibu country will be important factors in operations for this period, he urged.

REPLIES TO BE STUDIED

Similar explanations were given by Carl H. Lorbeer, general manager of the Pomona Valley Telephone Company, who declared that new improvements to the existing plant during 1929 will eat up all the profits obtained through the increase in rates granted the company by the State Railroad Commission last December.

Profits of the Sunland company in the past have been due largely to money paid by the long distance telephone companies operating in Southern California for toll hook-ups and that a revision of the schedule on which these payments have been made in the past would soon decrease the company's earnings, it was urged.

The commission took the explanation of the various representatives under submission. It was explained that all exhibits and briefs, to be filed, will be carefully studied before the commission issues any orders in regard to rate changes. The hearings were a part of the State Railroad Commission's recent action in determining to look into profits and earnings of public utilities throughout the State. Other hearings, affecting other sections of the State, which began on the 4th inst. at San Francisco, will be carried on in different localities. Commissioners Louttit, Whitsell and Seavey conducted yesterday's hearing in Los Angeles.

CONTRACTOR PAYS CITIZEN

So City Council Confirms Assessment and Allows Collection of $448,035 for Street Work

The payment of $250 by Oswold Brothers, contractors, to W. H. Conley of 1541 Durango street, yesterday was followed by the City Council's confirmation of the assessments levied for the improvement of the streets in the Bedford-street and Cashio-street Improvement District. Until this action was taken by the Council the contractors were unable to obtain payment of the $448,035.72 due them for their work on this street-improvement project.

On Monday Conley had appeared before the Council and complained that the contractors had failed to reimburse him for damage done to his property in the course of the street improvement work and a majority of the Councilmen had announced that they would hold up payment of the large sum due the contractors until they settled with Conley.

The latter had fixed the extent of the damage to his property at $387, but the contractors asked that the Council's Public Works Committee visit the property and make an estimate of the damage.

The committee did so Monday afternoon and reported yesterday morning that in their opinion $250 would cover the damage. The contractors agreed to pay Mr. Conley that amount, he agreed to take it and the Council confirmed the assessments, allowing Oswald Brothers to collect their $448,035.72.

Action Delayed on Barton Home Labor Protests

The Police Commission yesterday heard further protests from property owners in the Hansen Heights district, San Fernando Valley, against the use of city prisoners in the construction of the Minnie Barton Home for Women at 10225 Johanna street.

Mrs. Barton, a veteran police and probation official, appeared in defense of her projected home, which is being built on her own property from donated material and by "trusty" labor. Only girls and women will be inmates of the home when it is completed. The thirteen-acre site is in a sparsely settled part of the valley.

According to Joseph Mesmer and C. R. Heide, representing the protestants, the trusties got drunk and made themselves obnoxious in the neighborhood. It also was charged that no permits had been taken out for the plumbing and electrical work. Mrs. Barton showed a building permit and Chief Jailer Shand defended the character of the buildings. Chief of Police Davis reported to the commission indorsing the project, praising Mrs. Barton's work and undertaking to keep the working force under camp control in the future.

Action on the protest was continued two weeks on the representation that the same matter is to come before the City Council.

In the afternoon the citizens who had appeared before the Police Commission in the morning attended a hearing of the City Council's Health and Sanitation Committee on the matter. The members of the committee said they believe they have no jurisdiction in the matter, but promised to obtain reports on the situation from the health department and the police department.

WOMAN'S LIFE SAVED AFTER INHALING GAS

Despondency over a recent separation from her husband, yesterday caused Mrs. Edith Reitschlager, 24 years of age, to attempt suicide, according to a police report, by inhaling gas in her rooms at 1037 West Twentieth street. She was discovered by the landlady, Mrs. Anthony, who told officers the young woman frequently had threatened to end her life ever since the marital estrangement five months ago. After emergency treatment at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, she was taken to the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital, for observation. Her condition was reported to be not serious.

WOMAN DRINKS POISON

After drinking chloroform yesterday, Mrs. Anna Shoup, 25 years of age, 109 North Vendome street, groaned so loudly that she attracted neighbors to her aid. She was rushed to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where she was treated by Dr. Kirkpatrick. Later she told Detective Lieutenant Cahoe that she swallowed the anesthetic in a fit of depression. Milo Shoup, a butcher, hurried to his wife's side and asked to have her sent home in his care.

COLLISON PROPERTY SETTLED

Court Gives Wife Choice of $6000 Cash or Alimony of $250 a Month

Mrs. Margaret Collison, young Beverly Hills matron, was given the choice of $6000 in cash or $250 a month as alimony in a property settlement ruling made by Superior Judge Collier late yesterday, thereby bringing to a close the divorce action in which the wife obtained a legal separation from Martin A. Collison. The trial ended on May 29, last.

The wife also was given the choice of one-half of a duplex bungalow, owned by the couple, to live in, or $50 a month for house rent. She also was allowed $50 a month for the support of the couple's minor child, whose custody was awarded to her by Judge Collier.

Mrs. Collison first filed a suit for separate maintenance. Later this was withdrawn when the husband filed a suit for divorce. The wife then answered with a cross-complaint. Each accused the other with intemperance.

Collison is engaged in the printing-machinery business.

Tahoe Selected for Bus Session

Approval of a report on recent State legislative enactments and selection of Lake Tahoe for the August meeting featured an all-day session of the California Motor Carriers' Association at the Alexandria yesterday.

Charles F. Wren, president of the Pickwick Corporation and outstanding figure in the recent merger of Pickwick, Yelloway, Greyhound and Motor Transport Company stage lines, explained details of the merger.

The legislative report was submitted by Arthur H. Samish, secretary, of San Francisco. Franklin D. Howell, vice-president of the Motor Transit Company of Los Angeles, and also vice-president of the State association, presided in the absence of President William H. Pierson, who is ill.

Child Left Alone Sets Fire to Bedclothing With Lighted Candle

Lydia Castero, 2 years of age, died yesterday at the Children's Hospital from burns received when she upset a lighted candle in the bedroom where she had been left temporarily by her grandmother, with whom she was living at 796½ East Eighteenth street.

On returning from a grocery store the grandmother discovered the bedclothes ablaze and the child severely burned.

NEW BAY AIR LINE TO FLY SATURDAY

Special Passenger Rates to Feature Trips on Huge Ships of Continental

Ten-seated tri-motored Fokkers, superuniversal special Fokkers and Lockheed Vegas, all of the cabin-monoplane type, constitute the fleet of planes to be put in operation next Saturday with the inauguration of the Continental Air Express' new airline to San Francisco. They represent the best equipment possible, Harry Sperl, president of the company, stated yesterday in announcing the new service.

Features of the route will include a flag stop at Coalinga, a regular scheduled stop at Taft, providing permanent air transportation service for inland cities and special excursion rates.

"I am certain that these rates will meet with the approval of all who are 'air-minded' in their mode of travel," declared Sperl, "for they will be a radical departure from anything heretofore offered." The Alameda Airport will be the northern terminal and will be connected with Bay points by speed boats operating on a ten-minute schedule.

The luxurious accommodations of the ships to be placed in service on the new line yesterday were inspected by a group of film beauties from the Hal Roach studios. They went up in one of the Fokkers and after enjoying the spectacle of Mother Earth, 10,000 feet below them, settled down to a game of bridge.

out to the public that the games were assigned to Los Angeles and not to California, Mr. Garland declared. The California Tenth Olympiad Committee has now been superseded by the Los Angeles Tenth Olympiad Committee. This will henceforth be the official name of the body handling the games.

Mr. Garland is one of the three American members on the International Olympic Committee. He has been a member since 1922.

Following the official conferences, April 8 to 13, he toured Italy, France and Sicily in the interests of the games. He found conditions in Italy particularly progressive. There is a pronounced indication of continued prosperity throughout Italy and Sicily, Mr. Garland believes. France is on the up-grade commercially and industrially, he said, and an extensive building program is being carried out in France, particularly Paris.

Mr. Garland prophesies that Great Britain, France and Germany will send the largest aggregations of athletes to the Los Angeles games. As a result of investigation in these countries, he found that the interest is intense.

"An Angeleno has no reason to be lonely in all Europe," he said. "Everywhere I went I found citizens or former residents of this city living temporarily abroad."

When he stepped from the Chief of the Santa Fe last night, he said he was glad to "be back in the land of sunshine and home."

Beverly Hills Will Open New Pool Saturday

Beverly Hills' first municipal swimming pool, construction of which recently was completed in La Cienega Park at La Cienega Boulevard and Gregory Way, will be opened officially to the public next Saturday, it was announced yesterday by Park Superintendent Chapman.

Costing $66,000, the pool measures 45 by 150 feet with the depth of its continuously running water ranging from two to ten feet.

Adjoining it is a children's wading pool with depth graduated from two to eighteen inches. Both are built of tile. Visitors will be charged a nominal admission fee. W. E. Holcomb, it is announced, has been named caretaker of the pool.

AUTO CLUB MAKES PLEA TO COUNCIL

Speedy Improvement of Silver Lake Boulevard Requested in Letter

The Automobile Club of Southern California in a communication to the City Council yesterday urged the Council to carry forward as rapidly as possible the improvement of Silver Lake Boulevard into a cross-town traffic artery, with grade-separation structures at Sunset Boulevard and at Temple street.

The saving in travel time, loss of life, injury to persons and property damage, it is pointed out in a letter sent to the Council, will repay many times the cost of the grade separations.

"While vast sums of money have been expended in the improvement of streets within the metropolitan area of Los Angeles within the past few years," the letter read in part, "it may be correctly stated that traffic congestion is continually and rapidly increasing. One apparent reason for this condition is found in the lack of continuity in street improvements. In other words, streets and highways are being improved in short sections, thereby affording little, if any, relief to the congestion existing on our principal thoroughfares."

DRY AGENT SURRENDERS ON CHARGE

Former County Officer Held for Disturbance of Peace in Home Raid

James Young, former investigator for Capt. Clyde Plummer, prohibition enforcement officer under Dist.-Atty. Fitts, yesterday was charged with disturbing the peace in a complaint issued by Justice of the Peace Sleeper of Calabasas township.

The complaint charges that Young with several other officers entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Atkinson of Calabasas on the night of April 20, last, searching for liquor.

No liquor was found, it is asserted, and when Mrs. Atkinson demanded that the officers leave the premises or display a search warrant Young is said to have created a disturbance.

Municipal Judge Ambrose fixed Young's bond at $300 yesterday, when the former investigator surrendered and asked that bail be fixed. He was ordered to appear on the 14th inst. before Justice Webster of the Malibu Justice Court in Las Flores Canyon for arraignment on the charge.

GOV. BALZAR EN ROUTE TO NEW BRIDGE

Nevada Executive Stops Over on Way to Colorado Span Dedication

Gov. Balzar of Nevada who, with Mrs. Balzar and their daughter, Phyllis, arrived here yesterday from Carson, will leave Los Angeles this morning to participate in the dedication ceremonies of the new bridge across the Colorado River at Lee's Ferry.

Gov. Balzar's destination is Grand Canyon, where he will join Gov. Phillips of Arizona, Gov. Dern of Utah and Gov. Dillon of New Mexico, all of whom are to take part in the two-days' dedication ceremonies which will open the bridge officially.

Gov. Young of California is not expected to attend the dedication but more than likely will send a representative, Gov. Balzar asserted.

An informal discussion of State highways and Boulder dam also will take place at the meeting, Gov. Balzar said, at which he expressed the hope that a way would be paved to a final accord between Nevada, Arizona and the other States to be affected.

Crow Convicted for Attack on Football Star

Arthur C. Crow, bank official, yesterday was convicted in Judge Frederickson's court in connection with his asserted attack April 21, last, on "Chuck" Gabriels, Manual Arts High School football star.

Crow is asserted to have stabbed at the youth with a pen knife during an altercation over an automobile accident. Crow pleaded self defense and told the jury he had no recollection of having attacked Gabriels with the knife. Crow filed an application for probation which will be heard July 2.

NEW FEATURES FOR KHJ HOURS

Contralto Makes Radio Bow on Night Program

Vibro-Harp and Organ Will Provide Novelty

Musical Hop Scheduled for Fans of KMTR

BY DR. RALPH POWER

Clare Van Nostrand, contralto, and a new member of KHJ, the Lon Lee station, will be featured on the 7:30 o'clock program this evening.

One of her numbers will be the always popular "Estrellita," with organ accompaniment. Ray Hoback and Wesley B. Tourtellotte will also offer a vibro-harp and organ duet, "The Pagan Love Song."

KMTR at 8 p.m. is scheduled to carry a chain program from San Francisco with Liborius Hauptmann directing the Pacific Salon Orchestra.

"RUSTIC MARCH"

Geographically it is a long distance from Scandinavia to the peaceful Hawaiian Islands, even in this day of air cruisers. But radio makes it possible to bridge this gap in seconds.

Starting in Finland with an overture and lullaby of Finnish composition, Hauptmann visits Sweden long enough to present a processional and wedding march and then hops to Norway for a suite by Schytte and Grieg's "Rustic March."

MUSIC OF JUNE

Then comes the long hop. A Hawaiian medley by the orchestra, "Song of Hawaii," sung by a trio, and "Ukulele Lady" by the orchestra closes the journey. The orchestra then jumps back to San Francisco to close with the theme song of the hour, "On Wings of Song."

At 8:30 o'clock KTM will dish up another half-hour in the June bride series of musical menus. El Camino Quintet will stage the background of music while Lucy Day, soprano, will act as soloist.

The narrator will be Edward Lynn, and Ira Van, juvenile reader, will do some reciting.

DIALERS THRILLED BY ANTENNA "LEAK"

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11. (AP)—Proprietary pride in receiving sets soared skyward in many California homes recently when from loud speakers came the words, distinctly and clearly, "This is station WGY, Schenectady, N. Y. We are broadcasting a special program for the benefit of the Antarctic party of Commander Richard Byrd."

But it developed that WGY's short-wave companion station in New York was rebroadcasting the program and an Oakland short-wave station having a directional antenna was picking it up.

Brother and Widow Inherit Witzel Estate

The estate of Albert Witzel, local photographer, who died in Banning May 31, was worth $150,000, and included a photographic studio, bonds, stocks, real estate and a South Dakota mine, it was revealed when his will was filed for probate yesterday.

The widow and the decedent's brother, Marion J. Witzel, inherit his photographic business, and four nephews, Charles F. Witzel, Charles Coules, Victor Coules and Paul Coules get $1500 each. The widow is to get two-thirds of the residue, and the brother one-third.

MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy, every mother should know about Phillips Milk of Magnesia.

This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour-belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic.

A teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a pint

Willing to Be Broadminded

The discovery of a manuscript of an unpublished story by Joel Chandler Harris ("Uncle Remus") recalls the story about him when he was working on an Atlanta newspaper. One night an old-time reporter looked over at him and said:

"Just how do you spell 'graphic?' With one 'f' or two?"

"Well," said Joel, who was too gentle to hurt even a common adjective "If you are going to use any Bill, I guess you might as well go the limit."—[Boston Globe.

COUNCIL DINES NEW MEMBERS

Get Acquainted Session Held at Biltmore

Cryer Warns of Difficulties to be Faced

Organization Under Porter Forbidden Topic

Members of the City Council were hosts to the Councilmen-elect at an informal dinner at the Biltmore last night, which was featured by a talk from Mayor Cryer, who discussed the difficulties that the new members may expect in the discharge of their duties.

Politics or the matter of the organization of the Council under the new regime were forbidden topics, according to a number of those present, and there was no open discussion of the selection of a president for the body.

NEW MEN INTRODUCED

The gathering was in the nature of a "get-acquainted" session, according to President Bonelli, who acted as toastmaster, and to provide a "hand-shaking" place for the old and the new before the removals on July 1. It was also in the nature of an invitation to the six new members to visit the City Hall during the next three weeks, where the outgoing group will go over the records and files to give the new Councilmen a foresight of the matters now pending.

Several of the incoming Councilmen made short talks after the introduction by the men they are succeeding, and the two-hour discussion was in the spirit of good-will and co-operation.

PORTER NOT PRESENT

Mayor Cryer's talk was a discourse on the problems that will confront the incoming Council, and he described the situation by saying: "In my deliberate judgment this city is the most difficult in the world to govern. There are thousands of citizens here who have nothing to do but sit around and find fault." The Mayor also told of the accomplishments during his tenure in office, and expressed regrets that Mayor-elect Porter was not present at the dinner. Porter, it was explained, is out of the city on vacation.

Those present in addition to Mayor Cryer and President Bonelli were: Charles H. Randall, Thomas F. Cooke, Arthur Albers, Ernest L. Webster, Robert L. Burns, William H. Hughes, Virgil A. Martin, J. G. McAllister, Howard W. Davis, Evan Lewis, W. J. Sanborn, E. Snapper Ingram, Pierson Hall, Thomas W. Williams, Douglas E. Foster, Charles A. Holland, A. E. Henning and Charles Colden.

Yellowstone Park to Open New Gateway

Indians in tribal costume and cowboys attired in western regalia will unite with government officials in welcoming tourists to Yellowstone National Park when it opens its portals for the fifty-eighth season on the 20th inst.

This year the official opening will be held at Gallatin Gateway, Mont., the newest entrance to the oldest national park. The program will be under the direction of the Milwaukee Road, the railroad serving this new entrance to Yellowstone, and will take place on the veranda and grounds of the recently completed Gallatin Gateway Inn.

Roger W. Toll, superintendent of the park, has been invited to make the address of welcome. Brief addresses will be made by Horace M. Albright, director of National Park Service, H. A. Scandrett, president of the Milwaukee Road, and others.

Departure of the caravan of motor busses that leaves Gallatin Gateway each morning for the tour of the park will be delayed to permit tourists to join with the throngs from Montana, Wyoming, Idaho and other western States expected to attend the opening.

Two Face Trial on Dry Raid at Breakfast Club

Charles Schnobelin, chef, and Robert Thompson, waiter, arrested in a raid on the Breakfast Club by members of Dist.-Atty. Fitts's dry squad, were arraigned before Municipal Judge Bogue yesterday on charges of possession of liquor. Both men, through their attorney, Charles Ostrom, pleaded not guilty and demanded jury trial, which was set for July 10, next.

Investigators Martin, Parker and Childers reported finding three cases of whisky, two of wine, nine quarts of gin and four barrels of beer at the club.

FOREIGN TRADE CLUB TO SEE CABLES SENT

Foreign Trade Club members will receive a practical demonstration of the relationship between overseas commerce and the cable and telegram business at their luncheon program tomorrow noon at the Chamber of Commerce under the auspices of the Postal Telegraph and Cable Company. Equipment for sending and receiving messages will be set up in the luncheon room and will be put in actual operation during the meeting. H. C. Nichols, commercial sales manager for the Postal company, is to give a short talk on his company's activities in connection with foreign trade.

GOVERNMENT TO BE STUDIED

With special emphasis upon California, a study of State and local government in the United States will be made in an evening lecture course at university college, University of Southern California, during the summer quarter which opens next Monday in the Transportation Building. Dr. O. W. E. Cook will be in charge of the eight-week evening course to be given on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 8 to 9:40 o'clock.

PAIR TIE FOR CLUB LEADERSHIP

Soroptimists Fail to Elect President

Dr. Lillian M. Grandmason and Anna M. Bergeron

FOR the first time in the history of the Los Angeles Soroptimist Club a presidential election conducted yesterday noon in the Music Room of the Biltmore resulted in a tie. Dr. Lillian M. Grandmason, optometrist, and Anna M. Bergeron, manufacturer of beauty products, scored an equal number of votes.

Instead of adjourning, the meeting was left open by President Amelia F. Johnson, and will be continued next Tuesday, when the selection of a president again will be attempted. Results in all other offices also were close, no candidate receiving a majority of more than twenty votes.

Margaret D. Reordan was chosen first vice-president over her opponent, Minnie M. Proctor, while for the office of second vice-president, Elizabeth B. Tomlinson was the winner from Peggy Halloran. Opponents for treasurer were Bertha L. Aldrich and Izora M. Scott, the latter capturing the victory after a close contest. Directors chosen are Madge B. Burnham, Clella Collins, Lulu E. Eckels and Marjorie Quigley.

Youth Held on Death Charge

As a sequel to a girl's death in a motoring accident, Harold Brown, 20 years of age, of 2707 Folsom street, yesterday was arrested on a warrant charging suspicion of manslaughter, served by Detective Lieutenant Connors of the Hollenbeck Heights division.

Brown took twin sisters, Minnie and Frances Doyne, 16 years of age, of 2122 Sheridan street, for a ride in a truck last Thursday night. Police reported that the truck was overturned at Pickett and Malibar streets, crushing Minnie Doyne's head and killing her.

X-RAY MEN RECEIVE CONVENTION NOTICE

Drs. Floyd J. Trenery, Dain L. Tasker and Herman E. Beckwith yesterday received notice of the annual meeting of the X-ray specialists of the osteopathic profession, which will be held at Des Moines, Iowa, beginning the 17th inst., in conjunction with the convention of the American Osteopathic Association. Dr. Trenery, who is attached to the Monte Sano Hospital, 2834 Glendale Boulevard, is president of the American Society of Osteopathic Radiologists. The founder of osteopathy is reported to have installed in his college the third X-ray machine manufactured in America.

SICK ENTERTAINED

Masonic Club Gives Annual Program at Santa Fe Hospital

Patients of the Santa Fe Hospital last night were the audience at an entertainment in the convalescent ward given by the Santa Fe Masonic Club's entertainment committee. Harold J. Roden, the chairman, arranged and directed the show, which was the third annual affair provided by this committee for the railroad patients and their friends.

Fifteen members of the C. W. Wallace School of Dramatic Art presented two playlets, dances and readings. Music was furnished by sixteen boys of the Pecan Playground Harmonica Band and William Hannum's high-school orchestra.

RUNAWAYS SHOW UP

Missing Youths from Oklahoma and Santa Barbara Found Here

Two runaway boys reported missing from their homes last month yesterday were picked up by police officers who recognized them from descriptions and turned them over to juvenile authorities, preparatory to returning them to their parents.

Lewis Edson, 16 years of age, was found at Los Angeles and Fifth streets. Police had been looking for him since May 25, last, when he disappeared from his home at 923 West Brand street, Oklahoma City.

The other runaway is Raymond Robinson, 14, whose parents reported he left his home at 300 Gary street, Santa Barbara, May 28, last. He was found at Van Nuys. Parents of both youths were notified.

Report Reveals Foreign Lecture Series Popular

The extent to which a university may extend its cultural influence beyond the confines of its campus is illustrated in a report just issued by the Los Angeles Public Library, showing that more than 5000 citizens have attended the series of foreign-language lectures which have been conducted the past year under the direction of professors from the University of California at Los Angeles.

These lectures have been instituted in order that those who speak and write a foreign language may keep in touch with the trend of the times in literature and thought abroad. German, French and Spanish are the languages represented in lectures, which are free to the public.

The German series, under the direction of Prof. William Diamond of the U.C.L.A. German department, was attended by more than 2500 persons, it was reported. Other members of the U.C.L.A. faculty and neighboring universities assisted in the lectures.

The lectures will be resumed again in the fall with Prof. Diamond in charge of the German lectures, Prof. Henry Brush conducting the French, and Prof. Cesar Barja, the Spanish.

City Council Hires Bandmen

BAKERSFIELD, June 11.—The City Council today authorized City Manager Clarke to contract with the John Rumage Concert Band for a series of twelve concerts. The city will pay $1000 for a series of ten concerts and the band will give two additional concerts without cost to the city.

According to Manager Clarke, six of the concerts will be given in West Bakersfield from the memorial band stand in Jastro Park and the other six in East Side Park, East Bakersfield. There will be one concert each week, the first to be given during the latter part of the month, which will bring the concert series to a conclusion during September.

POLICEMEN HEAR WEIRD CONFESSION

BAKERSFIELD, June 11.—William H. Everhart, alias James Stinson, M. Workman and several others, according to his admission in police headquarters, who was arrested here on a warrant from Lindsay, startled police officers last night with the announcement that he joined the Navy when he was 7 years of age, and sold washing machines at the age of 10. An asserted deserter from military service and an ex-convict at the age of 35, Everhart told Police Chief C. M. Richardson that he probably is "wanted in a lot of other places, too." Everhart is wanted in Lindsay on a charge of check kiting.

BROTHERHOOD VOTE HALTED

United Church Group Forced to Postpone Election

American Bar President Addresses Gathering

Five Hundred Hear Stage and Screen Defended

An overlooked clause in the constitution of the United Church Brotherhood last night prevented the election of officers at the organization's annual meeting and a date indefinitely set for five to six weeks hence for the election was voted by more than 500 present in the banquet-room of Immanuel Presbyterian Church.

A nominating committee appointed by President John A. Ford several weeks ago had completed its work before it was ascertained that the brotherhood's constitution sets forth that nominations must be made by a district council consisting of three representatives from each of the individual brotherhoods in the central organization.

MILD DEBATE ARISES

A mild debate over the advisability of the brotherhood constituting itself a district council and proceeding with the election was voted down, but from the discussion it was indicated that a movement to eliminate the clause will be started at once.

Gurney Newlin, president of the American Bar Association, pleaded for a wider degree of judicial education among laymen, and Dr. C. C. MacLean, chairman of the brotherhood's stage and screen committee, urged a closer contact between theater and church.

"The theater was born in the church and it was a sad day when the church turned its back on the theater," Dr. MacLean declared in opening his three-minute report on the committee's work.

REPORTS RECEIVED

"The church still uses stagecraft in its pageants and I can see no reason why the church should not take the forward step of aligning itself with the stage and screen in order that both may work toward a mutual goal, clean pictures and decent plays," he said.

In citing the difference between the English and American viewpoint toward law and lawyers, Mr. Newlin declared the American situation has been brought about because of the fact that education of attorneys is in the hands of legislators rather than men trained in legal work.

Annual reports were received from the various committees and the financial statement showed that one man subscribed $4000 of the $11,500 subscribed to the organization before additional subscriptions were taken at the banquet last night.

Lawyers Urge Appellate Post for Lamberson

VISALIA, June 11. — Superior Judge Frank Lamberson of Tulare county has been indorsed by members of the Tulare County Bar Association as one of the three judges to sit in the new Appellate Court created by the last Legislature for the southern half of the State. This would include Fresno, Tulare, Kings, Kern, Inyo, San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange, Imperial and San Diego counties.

Several weeks ago the Tulare county association failed to pass a resolution requesting the Governor to veto the new court bill, as was done by Fresno county.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF DINUBA DIES

DINUBA, June 11. — Funeral services for O. H. Webb, 73 years of age, who was found dead in his home Sunday morning, were conducted this afternoon from Dopkins chapel. Interment was in the Smith Mountain Cemetery. Webb was a native of Virginia, and leaves one son in that State. He had resided here forty years, engaging much of that time in the buying and selling of second-hand furniture. He had no near relatives here.

FOUR TRAFFIC VICTIMS SUCCUMB TO INJURIES

Four persons, one of them a baby, died yesterday of traffic accident injuries, two being victims of hit-and-run drivers, while a youth also was injured critically, in a motorcar collision.

Robert Dobkoski, 18 months of age, was injured fatally when he was struck by a neighbor's automobile in the driveway at 708 East Eighty-third street. The infant died late last night in the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. According to police, the car was being backed out of a garage by Mrs. C. Christopher, wife of a police officer attached to the Seventy-seventh-street division, when the child, unnoticed, wandered in the automobile's path. He was crushed about the chest, several ribs were fractured, and his skull was fractured.

Acencion Garcia, 26, 244 Ocean avenue, Terminal Island, was injured fatally last night when struck by an automobile in front of his home. Garcia was alighting from the car of a friend, Robert Buchanan, with whom he had been riding, when an unidentified driver passed, his car knocking Garcia down. Buchanan reported to police that he pursued the other motorist, who failed to stop and give assistance, but that the stranger outdistanced him. Garcia died on the way to a harbor district hospital. His body was taken to Wood's mortuary.

William G. Solomon, a retired business man, 70, 737 South Westlake avenue, died in the California Lutheran Hospital as the result of injuries received when he was struck by a hit-and-run driver last Friday night at Eighth and Union streets. According to the police report, he was hurled fifteen feet by an automobile which, driven by an unidentified woman, continued on its way, running over the injured man's prostrate body and then sideswiping another car parked at the curb.

Ralph A. Betz, 24, truck driver of 10112 South Grevillea avenue, Inglewood, died yesterday at the Golden State Hospital, twelve hours after being found unconscious on Benton Way near Wilshire Boulevard. Pedestrians discovered him early yesterday morning lying beside his motor truck, from which police think he had fallen upon being seized with a heart attack. Taken for emergency treatment to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital he was found to be suffering a fractured skull.

Jack Davis, 16, 8471 Blackburn avenue, yesterday was injured gravely in a collision between the car he drove and one operated by Henry M. Munger, 329 South Rodeo Road, Beverly Hills. The cars collided at Speedway and Rodeo Road, West Los Angeles. Davis's skull was fractured. He was taken to California Lutheran Hospital. Munger was not injured.

CHICKENS WILL NOT WALK BACK

A truck loaded with 200 dressed chickens and two turkeys was stolen yesterday from the vicinity of Washington street and Menlo avenue while the owner, Louis Silberman of 1013 Del Rio street, was making a delivery.

Detectives of the Georgia-street division were detailed to find the kidnaped poultry.

Gabriel and Culver City. Round-trip fares to these various cities will be double the one-way fare, which amounts to an increase of approximately 5 cents over the existing fares on each round-trip fare.

Both one-way and round-trip fares will be increased between Los Angeles and the more distant stations, such as Long Beach, Santa Ana, Monrovia and Pomona. In all cases, however, the fares ordered yesterday by the commission are still materially less than the one-way and round-trip fares formerly in effect on the Pacific Electric system and which were reduced last year as an experiment to determine whether increased revenues and travel would result from lower fares.

The fares between Los Angeles and San Bernardino remain practically unchanged, as these fares were not reduced last year during the experiments.

No change is ordered in the existing sixty-ride and thirty-ride commuters' ticket, these fares having been increased last year. The monthly pass, which has been on trial between Los Angeles and Pasadena, Los Angeles and Venice, Los Angeles and Redondo Beach and Los Angeles and Long Beach-San Pedro for the past year, has been found satisfactory and will be extended to the entire Pacific Electric system where there is sufficient commutation business to justify their issuance, the commission announced. Commuters will now be able to choose between the sixty-ride ticket and the monthly pass, buying the type of transportation that bests suits their needs.

RATES ON PASSES

Monthly passes will be sold as follows: Where the one-way fare is 15 cents, the rate for the monthly pass shall be $6. Where it is 20 cents, the pass will cost $7.50; where 25 cents, $8.50; where 30 cents, $9.50; where 35 cents, $10.50; where 40 cents, $11.50; where 45 cents, $12.

A number of special passes will also be issued. For example: A $6 monthly pass, good between Zones 1 and 4 of the Los Angeles local lines; a $7.50 pass, good between Glendale and Los Angeles, including the privilege of riding on the inner zones of both the Los Angeles and Glendale local rail and bus lines; a pass to be sold for $8.50, good between all points on the Los Angeles-Glendale-Burbank line, including all motor coach lines in Glendale.

The present $9 pass to Pasadena and $13 pass to Long Beach-San Pedro, good for use on local lines, will be continued in effect. The $9 Los Angeles-Venice-Santa Monica pass, under the new schedule, will be increased to $9.50 in order to place this business on the same price basis as the other passes, the commission directed.

ASSERT REVENUE LOSS

In its investigation of operating conditions, costs and revenues of the Pacific Electric system, to enable it to arrive at a conclusion, the Railroad Commission, it is pointed out, selected a group of interurban lines as an example for study. The commission found that, on this group of lines, the total revenue for a twelve-month period ending April 30, 1928, was $5,533,937.56. For the same period ending April 30, 1929, the revenue was $5,078,986.78, showing a loss in revenue between the two periods of 8.2 per cent, or $454,950.70.

For the same periods—the total number of fare-paying passengers for the first period was 24,296,546, and 25,655,284 for the second period, showing a gain in paid passengers of 1,358,738, or 5.6 per cent. Thus, the commission pointed out, while the travel increased the revenue decreased.

Similar investigation covering the operation of the company's Los Angeles lines showed similar results. Passenger travel increased .4 per cent on these lines during the experiment rate period, but revenue decreased 3.9 per cent.

Placed on a mileage cost basis, the new rate, effective July 10, will run from 2 cents to 2½ cents per mile on one-way rides and from 2 to 2.2 cents per mile on round-trip rides. Under the experimental rates the costs were 2 to 2.75 cents one way and from 1.7 to 2.25 cents per mile for round trips. Under the schedule effective prior to the adoption of the experimental rate, effective April 27, 1928, the mileage costs were 2.75 cents for one-way and 2.25 cents per mile for round trip, it is said.

RAIL TELEGRAPHERS' CONVENTION PLANNED

Preparations for the two-weeks' triennial convention of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers here in May, 1930, were arranged at a conference yesterday of officials of the order and the convention committee of which Frank J. Ellison is chairman. The Alexandria will be official headquarters of the delegates who will assemble here from all parts of the United States, Canada, Newfoundland, Panama and Alaska. President E. J. Manion, who is here from St. Louis, announced last night.

FAT HOGS BRING $11.70

HANFORD, June 11.—At today's semimonthly auction sale of the California Farm Bureau Marketing Association, fat market hogs brought $11.70 per hundredweight. Feeders sold for $11.30. Five carloads of hogs were consigned to the sale by Kings county farmers. Today's top price of $11.70 is an advance of a few cents over prices brought at the association's sales in other parts of the San Joaquin Valley the past week.
